My Darling Sweetheart:-

I must write a few lines and get ~~it~~ ^{it} in the office by nine o'clock. This has been another busy day and several calls yet to make and it is now eight o'clock. I have so many things I wanted to tell you in this letter but I am not going to get the chance this time.

We reached home safely, but as I told you it would be, the trip home ward was not nearly so pleasant as the one going. The trip in the morning was carrying me nearer and nearer to you, the dearest, best and sweetest girl in the world and it made me feel like opening the throttle wide and let the "Grey Snaf" speed her best. I still cherish the memory of the few hours with you yesterday. They have been an inspiration to me to day. I am even now looking forward to next Sunday. "We" have agreed to start at six-thirty next Sunday, to omit any calls at Littlefield and if possible to start home a little earlier so as not to be so far in the night making the trip.

I let Evelyn have the key to the house last night so she could go see it and I told her she could describe it to you better than I could. I will be glad when my own precious girl gets to see it and gladder still when we are there together. As the song says, "I love you, I love you, ~~that's~~ all that I can say." If at any time there is anything you want me to do in furtherance of our plans, let me know, dear girl and it will be a great pleasure to do it.

I am thinking of none but you, these days and I do so want to do everything I can to bring joy and happiness to you.

I truly hope for a good letter from you to-morrow. I have many things I want to tell you but must get this in the office in the next few minutes.

Believe me when I say you are all this world to me and that I love you more than I can ever tell you

Yours forever
M.C.D.
