My Own Dear Sweetheart:-

Such pleasant work moving! I have about neglected my practice yesterday and to-day. Last night Robert and I had a mattress in the middle of the sitting room floor and had a very good bed. We could roll off without endangering life or limb.

This little house is quite crowded, but it is very convenient. We had so many many things in the other house that had been accumulating for years. We gave away a good many things and have an auto garage full of furniture that there is no room in this house to put it.

I put quite a few things in "our" house that we (you & I) will have to go over and decide what is wanted.

You are the grandest girl in the world. your last letter was such as only my sweetheart can write. If you ever asked or "tried" to ask me about my furniture I have no recollection of it.

Had times been normal and conditions even average, I would never have said or asked you a word about ~~the~~ the furniture for I would have given it away and put everything new in the house. But owing to present conditions and the fact that furniture prices have gone skyward and good furniture hard to get, I thought that if agreeable to my dear girl, we could use some of this furniture in our temporary house. And I hardly knew how to ask you for I wanted you perfectly pleased and satisfied. I appreciate your letter and all you said to me dear girl.

I have never received those two letters, so you must recall what you said and write it again for I don't want to miss one line or one word of your sweet messages.

In looking over a lot of father's old papers, I found that little picture I put in the envelope. It was taken "when bicycles or bicycles suits were in flower," about twenty years ago.

I pass around the corner of the street by your good home several times a day now, but the dearest one of that household is not there. I have seen none of your home folks since we moved down here.

I got a catalogue of electric ranges to-day and am going to order one in a few days. I wish you were here to pick it out, but will try and get what I think my queen will approve. About the bed-room suite, the girls want to get whatever you prefer. I am going to Dallas before the important event comes off and the girls want me to buy it while there. If it cannot be found ~~of~~ here.

Will any of your plans or preparations take you to Ft Worth or Dallas. so you do go, you can keep pick it out, and some other things also that we will need.

Robert just asked me to whom I am writing and asked me to read it to him.

The Amarillo paper to day reports a soldier by name of Mynatt from Lubbock as injured. I know of no one by that name and have asked several but no one seems to know him.

Don't forget to re-write what I missed in those two letters.

I love you dearest more than I can tell you and await your word as to the time for the all important event.
