Dear Reader—

PAWNEE BILL'S INDIAN TRADING POST, free Indian Museum and Buffalo Ranch is under the direct and personal management of Ray O. Lyon, former owner of the LYON CURIO STORE, of Clinton, Nebraska. Mr. Lyon is a product of the plains, who was raised among the Sioux Indians of South Dakota, has spent his whole life, in the study of their dress and mode of living. When Mr. Lyon and Major Lillie combined their business, it gave them the largest stock in the whole country, a place where a collector can go and spend hours in looking over this great museum of Indian articles made years ago by the American Indian.

While our Trading Post is a real Museum, yet every article in it is for sale and at a reasonable price. We have the largest line of buckskin sinew sewn beadwork in the country. You never find manufactured beadwork sewn with sinew, therefore, whenever you see a piece of beadwork sewn with sinew, make up your mind that some Indian made it.

Their designs are all mental designs, consequently we never get two pieces of beadwork with the same design.

We have 120,000 Indians within 150 miles of the Trading Post, which gives us the greatest opportunity of securing the remnants of the plains Indians. Both Mr. Ray O. Lyon and Major Lillie, "Pawnee Bill" are known to every tribe that exists to-day, and it is through the great personal friendship with the various Indian tribes, that gives us an opportunity of securing much of the historical ceremonial articles that have made the Indian tribes so attractive and interesting to the collectors of museum specimens.

It is our privilege and right to boast that any and every thing, made by the American Indian, anything made and used by the American Cowboy, all the rare and exceptional handiwork made in old Mexico are carried in our stock, which is to-day the largest, rarest and most beautiful collection of the West, that has ever been got together by single individuals.

Many of the articles we list are becoming very scarce and will be past procuring in a very short time. Prices on beadwork vary according to the amount of beading, designs and workmanship. Do not order the cheapest article and expect the best.

We would rather have you return goods that do not please than to have you keep them and be dissatisfied. We will cheerfully refund your money.

We also furnish Indians for celebrations and show purposes.

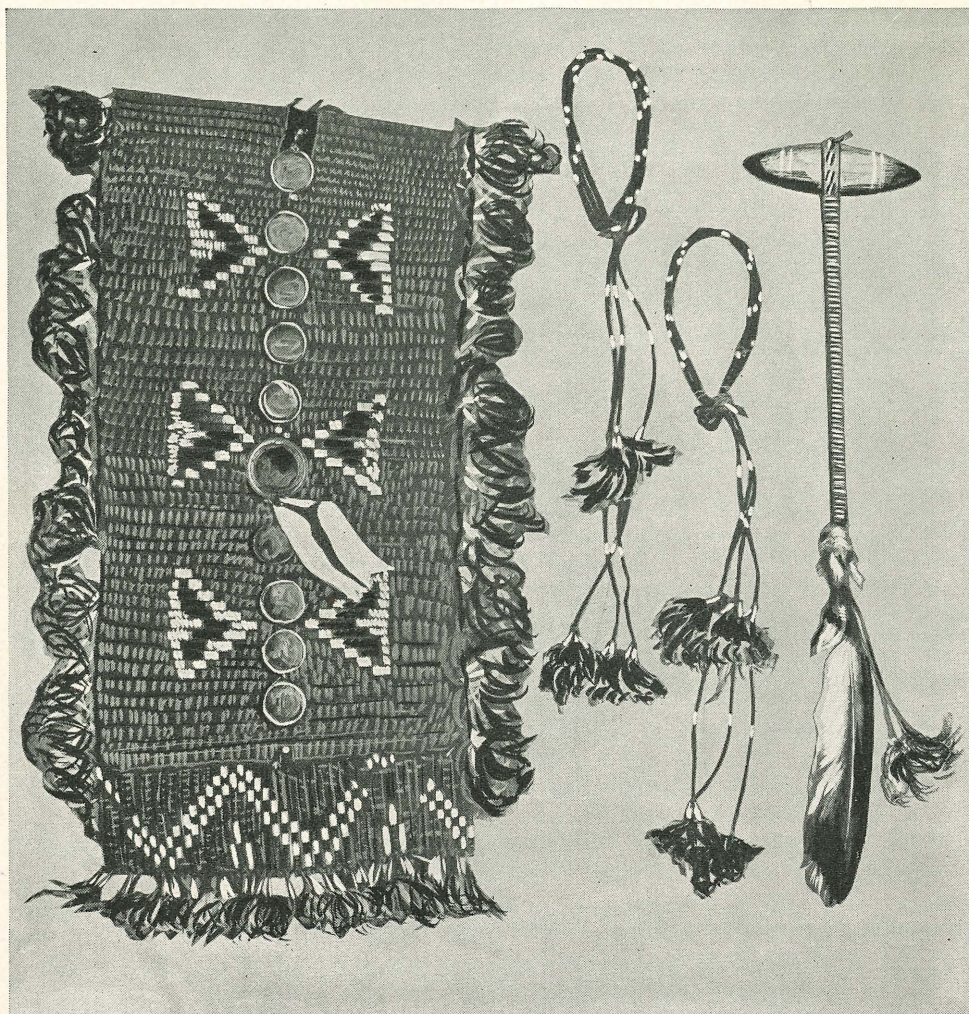

Mr. Lyon wishes to thank his thousands of Customers, who have been buying their Indian goods from the Lyon Curio Store for many years and we promise to even give you better service here at Pawnee. Our only reason for moving was to be among more tribes, be more centrally located, where we can give better service and contact more of our friends. Being associated with Major Lillie, we feel as though we can make this Trading Post, the most interesting place of its kind in the whole Country. OUT WHERE THE WEST REMAINS. We will always handle a full line of Sioux Indian beadwork, costumes and raw materials. Compare our prices with other dealers.

You are all invited to come and visit us at THE PAWNEE BILL'S INDIAN TRADING POST, OLD TOWN, PAWNEE, OKLAHOMA.

Yours respectfully

GORDON W. LILLIE (PAWNEE BILL)
RAY O. LYON.
