

business with him. Mr Tully, is one of my early friends, always manipulating, and I have a sincere, great friendship for him. He was one of the first to urge me to read law, and when I urged my poverty, inability to buy books, he generously offered to buy them for me, I paid him for any little service I could render him in his store. To his advice, solicitation, encouragement, I owe a little of what of success I have had in the world. But I shall never feel anything but friendship & gratitude to him.

But my success is so limited & in some measure scattered, that it has been my desire for some time past to bring things within a more narrow circle.

For this new proof of Mr Tully's friendship & confidence I thank him kindly, and only regret that I cannot do a heavier gift.

But often,

Yours affecly

Dear Sister

It has been so long since since there has been any correspondence between us, that I almost forgot who wrote the last, but I think I did, notwithstanding that, I have concluded to write again. I have for a long time felt anxious to get a letter from you, and would have written sometime ago, but as Mr Fountain and Still have been corresponding frequently I have put it off, as I have a very poor chance to write as you may judge having two babes to attend to is just double trouble, I wish you could just see me worrying with them sometimes. But I would rather you could see them, for they are very pretty sweet and smart they are crawling and pulling up by chairs. I have not made them short diapers yet, I think they would walk soon if there was any pains taken with them every person thinks that one of them is very much like Rock, I think myself that she is something like him, Emma is very much like Andrew, they are not at all alike except their hair. they grow very fast for twins Mrs Fleming and several others think they are the largest twins they ever saw to their age, they can do a good many funny things to amuse us sometimes, how does your little boy get along. I don't think Still is very fond of him, for he scarcely ever alludes to him in his letters I feel smartly provoked sometimes when he writes, to think that he says so little about you all, sometimes he will say Pamelia and they children are well, or not well as the case may be, to be sure I am glad to hear that much but I would like ^{him} to tell us a great deal more what you are doing and saying and what the children say and a great many things I often tell Mr Fountain things to say for me when he writes to you sometimes he forgets and sometimes he is in a hurry, has little Sally got entirely over her spell of sickness and does ^{they} go to school I want to hear all about them, Ella is at home this winter she is studying Geography grammar and arithmetic we have the school teacher for the sake of having him hear her lessons at night she is learning is some business you may pay young have not opportunity to get up my brother my image is off writing or no for me of your prime yet parents or yourself before you left your my pain's my self yours is of my how work is not for you many wish to improve while as as fast as if she was at school. The boys are all going to school and learning very fast, bobbie has been going 6 or 7 weeks he is spelling very well in two syllables he goes all sorts of weather not willing to stay at home a day. Joseph is studying mental arithmetic 2nd part he has studied as far as federal money he will commence studying geography next week Andrew has read through his second reader has been writing a little he will commence studying arithmetic in a few days, they were very anxious that I should tell you what they were learning, bobbie says he wants his uncle Robert to know that he is going to school and learning very fast he talks more about his uncle Robert than any one else, Ella has been a great deal of company and help to me this winter she does the most of my common sewing, for I have a poor chance to sew. Uncle Rorland has moved down into Mason, living on part of uncle Alex Stubblefield's old farm. Aunt Kelly has cousin Mat Stubblefield's two youngest children, and cousin Lutie has the two oldest, the babe died, cousin Mat still lives at the mill he has a family keeping house for him, I miss uncle Rorland's family very much. I went to uncle carpenters last fall to see Mary Gooding she had a daughter about two months ago, she calls it Anna Bell her oldest is a very pretty little boy. she has promised to come to see me before she goes back to Missouri. How does brothers family get along and how do they like greenup and how does Joe and family get along I wrote to Lucy while she was in Mayville, but I don't expect she got the letter. Mr. Fountain got some one to put it in the office in Mayville, when he found she was not there, but did not direct it to Greenup thinking she would be back there, give my love to them all and tell them

I would like them all to write to me tell Brother Robert if he has left Keeney he must not forget the foxes Mr. Fountain says tell Hill the he received a letter from him dated the 21st December inclosing a note of Seth Parker that he forgot to mention in his letter to him he also received one the 1st of Feb and would be glad to hear from him again, as soon as it is convenient he wishes to be remembered to you and all of our friends give my love to Hill and kiss the children tell Sallie Lester has not forgotten her yet her children often talk about Lutie and Sallie be sure and write to me soon and do let us try and write to each other often I must stop for the present Your Sister L. A. Dunn

Dear Father,

I was absent from home on Friday when your letter came, and did not get home until this (Sunday) morning. I am sorry to hear of your continued illness from Palpitation, And tho' I deeply regret to believe it, I am of your opinion that it is not likely mother will ever be able to walk again.

I wish I could come down. You can form no idea, unless you have been to witness it, how I am compelled to work; it has got to such a state that I am now as much pressed usually, as I was formerly during the setting of Court. But this will not hinder me from coming down whenever you shall write to me to do so. I will try & go to see Sparks this week, it is not far, and will not require much time. I have no idea that he will see you. I do not wish you to give yourself any uneasiness about the matter, nor think for a moment that your home is in danger, it is not so, it shall not be so. If he should press the matter I could I feel confident raise the money sooner than the time I have spoken of, but unless times should improve it will be attended with some difficulty. I am going to Ashland on tomorrow, I shall start early in the morning, and hence I write today. The Citizens of Ashland employed me to prosecute a Dr. Winkles, who they have under arrest, & charged with

The citizens of Ashland employed me to prosecute a Dr. Winkles, who they have under arrest, & charged with passing Counterfeit Money. from what I gather of the evidence he is clearly guilty.

I am sorry to hear of Quay's death, I suppose he leaves some little children.

We are all well as usual. Philip is now cutting teeth, and is sometimes a little fretful, Sally is fat, & very well.
Virginia is going to school.

If at any time you think ~~need~~ anything for yourself or the family, which you cannot procure yourself, do not hesitate in letting me know, it will always afford me pleasure to do any thing I can for you.

I shall expect your letter to Sparks by the mail tomorrow. Your writing is a considerable tax on my self, but expenses. I have considerably of stamps on hand and send you some.

Dear Sister:

I at last set down to answer your letter, I have tried several times to do so but there is always something to hinder me. I thought if I did not write ~~soon~~ you might think my promises did not go for much, I think I promised in my last letter to you that I would answer your letters punctually, but it has been near two months since I received yours but dear Sister you must make every allowance for my seeming neglect for you have never had two babies at once and dont know the trouble they are, I will say more about the babies by and by, I must first tell you what uneasiness I have had the last week on your account. some of Mrs Flemings family came out yesterday was a week, and said they heard that you were very ill and Rock had gone to see you, Mr Fountain went to town on monday in hopes of getting a letter or hearing from you, when he found there was no letter he enquired of all the lawyers that he knew had been to Greenup but none of them had heard any thing about your being sick, so I heard no more until yesterday I heard that Rock wanted to attend a picnic somewhere and that was his excuse for leaving the boat, he wanted to go to see you as you were not well I dont know how the news got to Fleming.

Our family are only tolerable well they have all had very bad colds I have had the most I have had this winter poor my babes have not been well for a week or more. I think they are teething; they are very fretful and feverish they are so bad after me I can scarcely move for them. I have left
