

Dried all my letters Box 2527-

J. JAY JOSLIN,

FOREIGN & DOMESTIC DRY GOODS,

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL.

B

364 Larimer Street, Cor. 15th.

Denver, Col., Oct 15th 1876

Dear Mother

How well you hit it, when in your letter dated July 30th you say "I don't know how long before you will receive it" - "maybe as long time" - well I just got it a day or so ago - had been way over the mountains to Lake City & the rounds generally - all for a 03rd Gentlemen's Stamp - never mind "Well Saw" is rich - So Aunt Mary has concluded to remain at G. all winter - I am very sorry that among her many misfortunes - another and serious one in regard to eye-sight is added - your letter dated Oct 8th reached me at the usual time - In answer to one of the queries in that letter - in regard to Frank - I answered about as it was in my last letter, should feel very

So, I decided to have him come out here, without something definite was settled on before he came. I hoped if by any possibility, fix up something for him to do. I must have very tight, and it was by a very lucky hit, that I got into my job - I am not changed so much and am still same good looking chap (but to a hard parody on good looking) that I had to be a bit of a try and get my "ping" taken for you soon - My Grand Gaffin - Mr. Potter is sitting in his study now reading - had all just returned from church but Dr. Elso - Baptist but a good, common sense - plain comprehensible Gospel teacher - speaks without notes - The church is in doubt, and he preached a louding sermon - is very smart the big guest of the place, church always full - makes every thing plain by illustrations - one of a colored persons who had heard of a church that had given itself to death - said if they