A BULLDOG NOW TURNED —RED RAIDER

Here's Harold Crossen, the former North Dallas High School Bulldog who has turned Red Raider and is one of the standout sophomore ends on the Texas Tech squad. Crossen is a fine pass catcher, is fast and a deadly defensive man. He passed up several Southwest Conference teams to become a Red Raider and has no regrets.

Morgan and Huffman Are Proud of This Youngster

If you want to see Coach-es Dell Morgan and Berl Huffman give out their best smiles, just mention the name of Garland Head, the former Clovis High School star. Head, a sophomore center, has turned in some brilliant work for the Red Raiders this season, and is getting plenty of experience to take over the first-string center position next season. Head is a 196-pound youngster and is an A-1 basketball player.

Hellzapoppin' When These --Raiders Start Galloping

Here's four major reasons the Texas Tech Red Raiders are going places and winning games this season. These four mercury-heeled backs have turned in standout performances in all Tech's games this season and are primed for superb efforts against the Creighton Blue-jays today. Left to Right: Thayne Amonett, the Flomot Flash, who is very tricky at right half back. Kenneth "Cock" Robbins, the thunder and lightning quarterback who throws blocks that stay put. Charlie "Devo" Dvoracek, the line rammer and potential All-American full-back. Ed Harris, flying youngster from Denison High School, who is plenty versatile at left halfback.

COACH SKIP PALRANG
CREIGHTON UNIVERSITY

Texas Tech is glad to welcome the Creighton Bluejays to its sixteenth annual home-coming football game. Coach "Skip" Palrang and Captain John Powers invade Lubbock with a stout Missouri Valley Conference team that promises to give the Raiders a lot of trouble, but win or lose, the Red Raiders are glad to be host to one of the hardest fighting and cleanest playing teams in these United States.

Chattering Between Halves

By BILL PARKER

The first warning on today's game is keep your eye on this Bill Brock of the Creighton Bluejays...he is a dangerous touchdown artist. In the Creighton and Washington game, Brock galloped 80 yards for a touchdown. In last week's game against the Oklahoma Aggies, Brock intercepted a pass on the Bluejays' 10-yard line and returned it 90 yards for a touchdown...if you see him starting toward the Tech goal line today...close your eyes and pray.

...the Bluejays have four of the nation's leading offensive rushers in Tony Porto, Tom Dineen, Bob Fitzgerald and Bill Brock.

This Bill Brock of the Jays is a brother of All-American Center Charlie Brock, one-time University of Nebraska great, now with the Green Bay Packers of the National Professional League.

...maybe it doesn't matter but George Washington Dunn, Creighton sophomore center, and Guard Carl Buda celebrate birthdays with the Father of their country...George Washington.

Just for your information the Creighton line will average 197 pound, and the backfield will average 174 pounds.

...the Army will come to the game this afternoon. John McGillicuddy, Creighton's giant left end, has a second-lieutenant's commission in the infantry reserve. Last June

Lieut. McGillicuddy requested and was granted one year's deferment.

"Tiny Tim" Dineen, Creighton's 150-pound halfback, carried the ball 16 times in the first two game and wound up with an average of eight yard per lug. Let us hope he is not so good against the Red Raiders.

...remember what a difficult time the Red Raiders had last year in beating the St. Louis Billikens, 7 to 6. Well, the same Billikens will come to Lubbock next Saturday for a return engagement with the Raiders. This should easily be one of the most interesting games on Tech's schedule. You fans will get to see one of the best triple-threat backs in the country in Dick Weber who made a number of All-American selections last season.

Since there was no scoring by the Red Raiders last week at Miami, Roger Smith, junior left halfback, continues to lead the Raiders scoring parade with three touchdowns, six conversions and one field goal for 27 points. Clarence Tillery, senior right end, is second with three touchdowns and one conversion for 19 points. Fleet-footed Don Austin, junior right halfback, is in third place with three touchdowns for 18 points, and J. R. Callahan, sophomore left halfback, is fourth with two touchdowns and three conversions for 15 points.

Brilliant Array of Sophomores --With The Bluejays

Here are some samples from the sophomore crew on which Coach "Skip" Palrang of Creighton university can call during the Bluejays' campaign: Bill Brock of Columbus, Neb., younger brother of All-America Charley Brock, onetime University of Nebraska center; Frank Simon of Chicago, 187-pound left half; Tony Mancuso of Omaha All-State selection while playing with Creighton Prep; Joe Furst, fullback candidate who starred at Omaha South High; Walt Cyhel, Kansas City, Kans., outstanding tackle prospect, and Barney Burdick, Kansas City, Mo., end candidate and youngest member of a 41-man squad.

Just Two Swell Guys Who --Know How To Smile

From left to right you are looking at Coaches Delicate Dell Morgan and Burly Berl Huffman of the Red Raiders... just two swell guys who can smile in defeat as well as victory. Following their Miami upset, Coaches Morgan and Huffman said: "We are coaching the finest gang of kids in the country and that alone takes away any stings that might come with a defeat. It is not hard to smile and keep going with chins up when you are coaching a gang of down-to-earth youngsters like our Red Raiders... kids who give you all they've got on and off the field of battle."

Morgan and Huffman are coaching their first Texas Tech home-coming game... you old-timers go around, shake their hands and wish them well.
