SEAL

December 1, 1978

WHEREAS, few young men possess the innate ability, character and drive to move from being relatively unknown to national recognition and prominence within the span of a few short, but hectic and intense months of productive effort; and

WHEREAS, Texas Tech University is honored to claim the talents of this young man as head football coach; and

WHEREAS, this coach, Rex Dockery, not only has demonstrated his remarkable ability as a football mentor but also has, more importantly, exhibited the most treasured of a coach's qualities, that of inspired leadership of young men; and

WHEREAS, Rex Dockery has, even in the face of deep skepticism, coached his young and relatively inexperienced team to a winning season; produced four fine players who have captured honored positions on the UPI Southwest Conference team of the year; and has himself gained the plaudits of both the Associated Press and the United Press International as Southwest Conference Coach of the Year, as determined by votes of the coaches for the AP selection and by votes of Texas sports writers and broadcasters for the UPI choice; and

WHEREAS, less than one week ago Coach Dockery, his superb staff and gallant young gridgers managed to upset the fifth-ranked team in the United States; and

WHEREAS, Coach Dockery's attainments have been accomplished with a team picked earlier in the season as low as ninth in the Southwest Conference; with a team that counted only six returning starters in September and one with just nine seasoned seniors; a team possessing a former tight end, James Hadnot, who has moved to the fullback position this fall where he became the Conference's leading rusher with more than 1,300 yards; a team signaled to its startling victories by a freshman quarterback, Ron Reeves, who is even now hailed as the Conference Newcomer of the Year.

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the Board of Regents of Texas Tech University pauses in its deliberations to recognize Rex Dockery, the coach, the gentleman, the mold of young men, and to acknowledge and express deep gratitude for his leadership, devotion and gifts of his talents to this University.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that this resolution be spread upon the minutes of this meeting and a copy be delivered to Coach Rex Dockery.
