This Boy Is The Line-Cracker --For Hardin-Simmons

Camp Wilson

Camp Wilson, freshman fullback from El Paso, is the other-half of the one-two punch of the Hardin-Simmons touchdown parade. Wilson cracks the opposing lines while Rudolph Mobley, the "Paducah Mite" and the nation's leading ground gainer, slants off tackle or sweeps the wings. Wilson turned in brilliant performances to help the Cowboys defeat Baylor and Southern Methodist University. Abilene fans believe he will be T. N. T. against the Red Raiders in today's game.

Chattering Between Halves

By BILL PARKER

Fullback Walter Schlinkman, the thunderstorm on Dumas, is leading the Texas Tech scoring parade with four touchdowns for 24 points. Schlinkman broke an 18 to 18 deadlock with Don Austin last Saturday at Omaha when he ripped down the field 74 yards against the Creighton Bluejays, an amazing run that gave him his fourth touchdown of the season. Schlinkman is a sophomore but has been playing like a triple-senior all season. Six thousand fans stood and cheered his performance at Creighton when he carried the ball 31 times and gained 302 yards...more yardage than the entire Creighton team gained rushing. And don't worry, Mr. Schlinkman will give you another exhibition today that you will stand and acclaim...he is that kind of football player...always trying.

Many fans have inquired about J. R. Callahan not playing in the Creighton game last Saturday. Coach Delicate Dell Morgan did not care to use Callahan due to the fact that the left halfback was suffering from an injured knee. Morgan left him out of the Creighton game in hopes he would be ready for Hardin-Simmons. He played about the last three minutes but figured in only one play.

It is very doubtful if Doyle Caraway, the fine playing left guard, will be able to go against the Cowboys today. In the third period of the Creighton game this Caraway got hot and tackled the entire Creighton team and as a result his right hand is broken in three different places. Coming back to Lubbock on the train he was talking it over with Coach Dell Morgan who told Caraway that he would not be able to play against the Cowboys. Caraway replied:

"You just put a good strong cast on my hand and I'll be in there."

But it is very doubtful if he will be in there even though he has a cast covering his hand.

You may not believe it but in the Texas Tech and Creighton game the Bluejays threw 12 passes in the first three periods and completed 11 of them for 189 yards, one for a touchdown. They made it 12 out of 13 passes completed when they tossed one in the fading minutes of the fourth period for the winning touchdown. The Red Raiders were pass dizzy when the game terminated.

We can't decide which was the worst football game this season, the one with Texas A. and M. or Texas Tech and Creighton...they both were far below the standard as played by these teams. In fact, Schlinkman was the only Red Raider who gained any ground against Creighton...I guess the other Raiders just felt bad or something like that.

This will be the last home game for the Texas Tech Red Raiders this season and I believe they will give every ounce of their playing ability to win from Hardin-Simmons. After the Creighton game, the Raiders all stormed into the shower-bath room hollering that they would beat Hardin-Simmons. When a team is in that kind of mood it helps a powerful lot and I am sure that you will see far better football from the Red Raiders today than the brand they played against a very weak Creighton game.

Nation's Leading Ground --Gainer To Preform

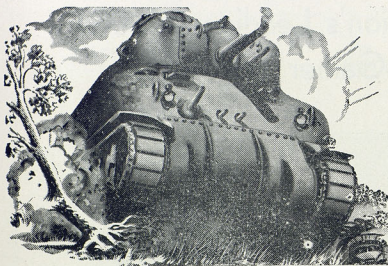

Rudolph Mobley

Rudolph "Little Doc" Mobley, the nation's leading ground gainer, and Texas' highest scorer, is a 155-pound mite who has sparked the Hardin-Simmons Cowboys throughout the season. Mobley scored the touchdown that beat the Baylor Bears and Southern Methodist. He collected 278 yards against Arizona University to give Hardin-Simmons a 34 to 26 victory.

Mobley stacked up 1,033 yards rushing in the first six games for the Cowboys, to threaten "Whizzer" White's modern mark at Colorado of 1,121 yards in eight games. Mobley has scored 13 times. Two years ago, at Paducah High School, he was Texas' highest scorer in high school football. The Red Raiders will have to be on the alert each second of the game to halt this boy today.

U. S. WANTS US STRONG!!

Whether you are playing on the team or watching the game, Uncle Sam wants us strong. The home front, like our men at arms, must keep fit. And with home folks as well as men in service, Borden's Fine Dairy Products play a vital role. They help build healthy muscles and tissues...strong bodies. All of us owe it to our county to keep fit for the job at hand. And when you ask your grocer for milk—ask for Borden's Homogenized Vitamin D milk! The children will like it better and so will you.

Here's The Foreman Of The --Rampaging Cowboys

Coach Warren B. Woodson

Coach Warren B. Woodson (Baylor '34) herded his Hardin-Simmons Cowboys into a Border Conference co-championship in 1941, his first season as head coach of the rampaging Cowboys. This year his Cowboys have chalked up wins over such teams as Baylor, Southern Methodist, West Texas State and the North Texas State Teachers. Yes sir, it looks like this man Woodson is doing all right as commander of the Hardin-Simmons grid juggernaut.

Miss Flora Lee "Bill" Williams

When the Red Raiders are behind on the score and kinda in the dumps, all they have to do to become inspired and play like wildmen is to look over to their sideline and get a glimpse of Miss Flora Lee (Bill) Williams, one of the Texas Tech cheer leaders. Miss Williams is one of the campus beauties, but likes football and the Red Raiders above all this and that. Miss Williams is from Farwell. She works just as hard leading the cheering section as the Red Raiders do against their various opponents. And the same thing goes for the other cheer leaders which means Miss Glennis Waltz, Rex Harris, Leslie Nikkel and Brad Gilbert. The work of the cheer-leaders this season has been superb...even if Brad did cry when the Raiders lost to the Texas Aggies.

To Our Seniors In Their --Last Home Game

Down through the seasons it has been a lot of fun. There have been plenty of victories for them and only a very few defeats. For three years they have worn the Scarlet and Black of Texas Technological College and in every minute of every game they have contributed their all to the college they love and sincerely appreciate for all it has accomplished for them.

Reference in the above paragraph is made to the Texas Tech football seniors who will be playing their last home game today. Their hearts are bound to be heavy as they go on to the field today to play Hardin-Simmons, but down deep within themselves they know that they have played their best for Texas Tech and that somehow and somehow the Red Raiders of tomorrow will carry on for those who are playing their last home game today.

President Clifford B. Jones of Texas Technological College, Mr. W. L. Stangel, chairman of the Texas Tech Athletic Council, Athletic Director Morley Jennings, Head Coach Dell Morgan and Assistant Coach Polk Robison, say to the boys who are playing their last home game... "Good luck for the future... and God bless you."

...and those who make their last home appearance today are:

Captain Kenneth Willie Robbins, Quarterback, Dallas, Texas.

Kenneth Robbins is an engineering student and in the Naval Reserve.

James Gerald Nash, Guard, Lubbock, Texas.

Gerald is in the Marine Reserves and an engineering student.

William Taylor Allbright, Guard, Loraine, Texas

Allbright is in the Air Corps Reserve and an A. and S. student.

Peter Paul Blanda, Fullback, Youngblood, Pa.

Blanda is in the Marine Reserves and an A. and S. student.

Don B. Austin, right halfback, Wellington, Texas.

Don is in the Naval Reserves and is an A. and S. student.

Doyle Edward Caraway, Guard, of Sherman, Texas.

Caraway is in the Marine Reserves and is an Economics student.

—to these boys we raise the flag of the future... they are good—students and good football players.

Harold Crossen, right end, is due to return to his old position today against the Hardin-Simmons Cowboys. Crossen missed the last two games because of flu. He made the Creighton trip last week and thought he would be able to play but the flu attack returned enroute and he never suited up for the game. But he is feeling stronger since his return from Omaha and hopes Coach Delicate Dell Morgan will give him an opportunity to catch a few passes against the Abilene juggernaut.

Arizona Final Game For 1942 Red Raiders

The 1942 Red Raiders will close their campaign next week at Tucson, Ariz., where they battle the University of Arizona in a Border Conference game that will have an important bearing on the conference crown. The Arizona Wildcats last played the Red Raiders in 1937, a game in which Texas Tech won, 20 to 7.

Arizona boasts a number of standout players this year in such boys as Tom Black at left end, Bob Ruman, left halfback; Jim Negri, a mighty fullback, and Jack Irish, a 218-pounds left tackle who is attracting All-American attention. The Arizona backfield is a steaming aggregation hard to stem and beyond doubt the Red Raiders face plenty tough competition at Tucson.

Fred Enke, chief scout for the University of Arizona Wildcats, has looked over the Red Raiders several times this season and probably knows all Tech's formations but stopping the Red Raiders once they get going will be another problem for the Arizona tribe.

Their past record:

1932 Texas Tech 21, Arizona 0.
1933 Texas Tech 7, Arizona 0.
1934 Texas Tech 14, Arizona 7.
1935 Texas Tech 6, Arizona 7.
