My Dear, Dear Sweetheart:-

It seems a long time since I had a chance to talk to you. I made an opportunity to come across from Mrs. Trunkles' yesterday presumably to see your sister-in-law but my chief desire was to see you and also to ask for an auto ride under promise to try to keep out of the mud. But I did not have a chance to ask you and I then phoned but you had gone to Mrs. Smith's.

I wish I could tell you how much I think of you and how I long to see and talk with you. And now it is raining which probably means no auto ride again to-night. I also realize that with so many in your home, it is not always convenient to have company. But I am sure you don't want to attend a funeral, caused by failure to get to talk to your own dear self, so I am going to call you by phone this afternoon about six o'clock and if weather conditions prevent an auto ride, will it be inconvenient for me to come and talk to the dearest sweetest girl in the country. You looked so pretty yesterday afternoon, that I longed for a chance to talk to you.

Most sincerely yours
M. C. Overton.
