To Our Students and Graduates

THE SCHOOL is under deep obligation to its many students, present and past, whose constant and cordial recommendation of our courses of study to their friends has added so materially to our annual enrollment. It is indeed gratifying to receive such testimony to the worth of our instruction as this voluntary service indicates. We shall aim to keep our work on a high plane, thus meeting in all respects the expectations of those who turn to us for help through the advice of their friends.

It is our desire to offer substantial remuneration to those who send us new students, and to that end we place this Premium List in your hands. It is confidently expected that this incentive will result in increased endeavor. We believe that every student and graduate of our School has friends and acquaintances who would become students if they realized how much may be gained from our courses of home study. You can do a friend no better service than to induce him to prepare for a successful career. Make it a point to see your friends and tell them what the School has done for you. If they live at a distance, write to them. Send us the names of all with whom you communicate, and we will send them our catalogue and other literature. You will receive credit for every enrollment secured through your influence, whether made directly by us or through you.

This premium offer is open only to students and graduates of our School.

Premiums are forwarded by mail or express, charges fully prepaid

Twentieth Century Dictionary

Given for One New Student

This is a condensed edition of Webster's larger dictionaries, and will be found a very handy volume for desk use. It is new in every particular and strictly up-to-date. What most people want when they consult a dictionary is to know how to pronounce the word sought, how to spell it, or to learn its exact meaning. This book will supply that information quickly. The whole mass of material contained in the larger dictionary obviously cannot be put into these pages, but the book is still exhaustive enough for general purposes. In addition to the dictionary proper, the volume contains 50 pages of supplementary matter, such as Foreign Words and Phrases, Forms of Address, Postal Information, the Constitution of the United States, and a complete 27-page Gazetteer of the World. More than 1200 pictures are included, among which are such recent inventions as the Graphophone, Linotype, X-ray machine, etc. Size, $9 \times 7 \times 3$ inches; bound in fine flexible black leather, with thumb index.

Smiles's Self-Help Series

SELF-HELP CHARACTER $\frac{DUTY}{THRIFT}$

The Complete Set for One New Student

For twenty-five years, these four books have been a guide and inspiration to countless thousands of people. Dr. Smiles has presented matters vital to success and shows by copious illustrations how difficulties which beset us all may be conquered by patience and perseverance. The careful reading of these volumes has been the beginning of many successful careers. Few books have been published that are of greater practical value.

Prescott's Conquest of Mexico

The Complete Set Given for One New Student

For sixty years Prescott's Conquest of Mexico has been read throughout the world with absorbing interest. No work of fiction from a master hand has presented a plot more striking than the story of the empire of the mighty Montezuma as it has been unfolded by this author. A leading professor of history says that no teacher is qualified to teach properly the history of the United States until he has read with great care Prescott's Conquest of Mexico.

Hudson's School Shakespeare

Twenty-three One Play in Plays

Each Volume

The

Complete Set for Three New Students

This is unquestionably the finest student's edition of Shakespeare on the market. Dr. Hudson's fame as a Shakespearean scholar is world-wide. In each book there are two sets of notes, each ample and scholarly: one to aid the ordinary reader, the other for the critical student. The history of each play, the sources from which Shakespeare drew his material, the historic basis of the plays all are given.

The volumes vary in size from 128 to 253 pages and are finely bound in cloth, stamped with gold.

Because it is used as the standard of the United States Supreme Court and by nearly all of the Federal and State Courts.

Because it is the standard of the United States Government Printing Office at Washington, and in the executive departments generally.

Because the schoolbooks of the country are based upon it—25,000,000 issued annually—so that the children are educated in accordance with its principles.

Because in every instance where State purchases have been made for the supply of public schools, Webster has been selected.

Because it is heartily recommended by nearly all the Presidents of Universities, Colleges and Seminaries and by every State Superintendent of Schools now in office.

Because it is warmly endorsed and commended by men and women of recognized authority in literature, education and science all over the world.

Scholarships in Northwestern University

The Interstate School of Correspondence offers to its students for meritorious work the following four tuition scholarships, of the value of $100 each, in the Freshman Class of some department of Northwestern University:

ACADEMIC SCHOLARSHIP — One scholarship in any one of the following departments: College of Liberal Arts, Medical School, Law School, Dental School, Northwestern University Academy, Grand Prairie Seminary, Elgin Academy. Competitors for this scholarship must complete at least two Academic subjects in the Interstate School of Correspondence.

PHARMACY SCHOLARSHIP—One scholarship in the School of Pharmacy of Northwestern University to the student doing the highest grade of work in the Pharmacy Course.

NORMAL SCHOLARSHIP—One scholarship in Northwestern University Academy, Grand Prairie Seminary or Elgin Academy, to the student who has completed with best records the course of study in Primary Methods and a Normal Course of five subjects.

COMMERCIAL SCHOLARSHIP — One scholarship in any one of the three academies named above to the student who has finished with highest grades either the Complete Practical Business Course or the Shorthand and Typewriting Course.

These scholarships will be open to all students enrolling in the Interstate School of Correspondence on and after April 1, 1905. Fuller particulars relative to the above will be cheerfully furnished on request.

DICTATED BY EDF_ML

CHICAGO, Sept. 7, 1905.

Mr. John G. Schilling, Cedar Bayon, Texas.

Dear Sir:

Students are voicing their approval of our courses of study and methods of instruction and are asking what they can do to show their appreciation of the interest continually manifested in their advancement by our instructors. A spirit of fairness leads them to desire to do something in return for valuable service rendered. To all such inquirers we invariably say that the kindest act they can perform in our behalf is to speak a good word to their friends who need sympathetic aid in their studies.

The response to this suggestion has been extremely gratifying. New members are coming in large numbers through such efforts. While we are grateful for this feeling of co-operation, it is not our desire that such service shall fail of substantial remuneration. Therefore, we have chosen several standard publications and one of the best fountain pens on the market to give to our students and graduates, entirely without cost, in return for new enrollments influenced by them. A booklet describing and illustrating these selections is enclosed herewith.

We desire to add to our list of students in Cedar Bayon and vicinity, and invite your assistance in the effort about to be made in this direction. Will you send us the names of a few young men and women who you know are desirous of improving their education by home study, under such competent direction as we are prepared to give? If possible, let this list include only names of persons with whom you have talked and upon whom a favorable impression has been made. We will supplement your efforts by personal letters, and whether enrollments are forwarded by you or are sent direct, you will receive full credit.

Our courses have more than a culture value; they furnish a capital of knowledge and skill that will yield dividends in the form of promotions and higher salaries. Our new catalogue, which will reach you under separate cover, describes all our courses of study and names the credits given our students at Northwestern University, with which great institution we are affiliated. It also announces the conditions under which every student is entitled to compete for one of our four $100 scholarships in the University.

You are associated with a growing school. We hope that from this association you are gaining strength and courage and faith in a prosperous future. This year we are issuing a fine new course in Primary Methods and Academic courses in Ancient History, Medieval and Modern History, United States History and English Grammar. Our course in Pharmacy was completed late in 1904.

Trusting that we shall hear from you as soon as you can prepare a small, select and promising list, I am,

Very truly yours,

Secretary.

Dallas, Texas. Sept. 16, 05.

Mr. Jno. C. Schilling,

Cedar Bayou, Texas.

Dear Sir: -

Sometime ago we mailed to you a catalogue of Southwestern University Medical College, and as the time is now drawing near for the opening of school we should be glad to know if you have arranged your plans to be with us.

Our new College Building is now about completed and will be equipped throughout with modern furnishings for instruction in every Department of Medicine and Pharmacy. We are also prepared to offer unusual advantages in the line of clinics. From our catalogue you will notice the number of institutions with which we are associated. St. Paul's Sanitarium, which is located directly across the street from the College Building, supplies the greater part of our clinical work and our proximity to the Sanitarium insures the student of a very large and interesting clinic.

Our able Faculty composed of forty professors and instructors, many of whom have attained distinction in their especial lines of work, will be a sufficient guarantee of the character of instruction presented.

Seats in the Lecture Halls and positions in the different Laboratories are being reserved in the order of application and if you desire us to do so we will file your application upon receipt of the Matriculation Fee.

We trust that you will pay us a visit whenever you are in Dallas and we will take pleasure in going over with you in detail any points about which you wish to inquire.

Trusting that we may have the pleasure of meeting you soon, I am

THE YOUTH'S COMPANION, BOSTON, MASS.

We hope to interest you in winning the beautiful things we offer our subscribers for sending us new subscriptions. Have you kept the list of these Offers? If not, please tell us, that we may send it again.

At this time of the year the easiest way to get a new subscriber for The Companion is to urge him to take the paper on trial, ten weeks for 25 cents. Ask all your friends and neighbors to pay you 25 cents each, so you may send all the orders safely in one Money-Order. (No commission on these.)

In addition, send us the addresses of from five to twenty families to whom we may send Sample Copies of The Companion and Trial-Offer Cards. Be sure to mark that list For Trial Offer.

To get your commission, call on each one again in ten weeks and ask him to subscribe for a year. Some who would not pay $1.75 at first will subscribe after reading ten papers.

For getting a yearly subscription from a new family after ten weeks' trial you will have the same credit as if you got the $1.75 at first. This plan seems so feasible that we hope you will include in your canvass every family in your vicinity, and make a grand success.

We remind you of our Offers:
A costly article for every new subscription.
A share in $10,000 extra for three, and A Watch or other Perseverance Reward extra for five new yearly subscriptions sent before July 1st.

Yours very truly,

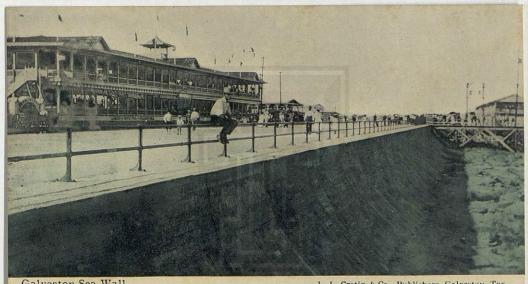

Perry Mason Company.
