DR. JUDSON F. WILLIAMS ELECTED HEAD OF REGENTS

Dr. Judson F. Williams, El Paso business leader and three-term mayor of that city, has been elected to succeed Clint Formby of Hereford as chairman of the Board of Regents of Texas Tech University and the School of Medicine.

Robert L. Pfluger, San Angelo area rancher, was elected vice chairman.

Williams is serving his second six-year term on the Texas Tech board. He spent 15 years in higher education before leaving for a career in business. At the University of Texas at El Paso he served as director of public relations and journalism instructor, then as dean of students and professor and department chairman of journalism, radio and television.

He holds degrees from Hardin-Simmons University, the University of Missouri and the University of Texas.

Pfluger is a 1951 honor graduate from Texas Tech with a degree in animal science. He is the third member of his family to serve on the Texas Tech board.

MURRAH ATTENDS WORKSHOP

David Murrah, assistant director of the Southwest Collection, completed the Advanced Workshop on College and University Archives at Case Western Reserve University, Cleveland.

The sessions provided intensive study related to acquisitions, preservation and maintenance of college-related historical manuscripts and records.

MURRAY DELIVERS PAPER AT GEOLOGICAL CONGRESS

Dr. Grover E. Murray, then Texas Tech President and now University Professor, delivered a paper on "New Oil Province, Guatemala and Southeastern Mexico" at the International Geological Congress in Sydney, Australia, Aug. 16-25.

Dr. Murray, one of the three authors of the paper, described the discovery of rich oil fields in the rugged jungle country of northern Guatemala and southern Mexico and the promising geological conditions between the two.

The other authors are two Shenandoah Oil Corporation executives, Otto J. Buis, vice president for international operations, and W. Kenneth Hall, exploration manager for international operations.

DR. CECIL MACKEY ASSUMES PRESIDENCY OF TEXAS TECH

Dr. Cecil Mackey assumed the presidency of Texas Tech University and the TTU School of Medicine on Sept. 1. He becomes the ninth president of the institution.

The new Texas Tech chief executive officer has been president of the University of South Florida, Tampa, since 1971. He previously had served as vice president for administration and professor of law and later executive vice president of Florida State University.

A frequent speaker, writer and consultant in the fields of economics, law and transportation, Dr. Mackey has taught at the universities of Alabama, Maryland and Illinois. While on active duty with the U.S. Air Force in 1956-'57, he was one of four officers making up the original economics department at the Air Force Academy. His primary task was the planning and organization of the economics curriculum for the newly founded institution.

Dr. Mackey received the Bachelor of Arts degree in 1949 and the Master of Arts degree in 1953 from the University of Alabama. In 1955 he completed the doctorate of philosophy at the University of Illinois. Three years later he was awarded the Bachelor of Laws degree from the University of Alabama and then did a year of graduate study at the Harvard Law School in 1958-'59.

"We are honored to appoint Dr. Mackey to the presidency of this university," said Clint Formby, then chairman of the Board of Regents, in making the announcement. "His record as an administrator, lawyer, philosopher and practical contributor to the welfare of mankind through better government is remarkable. His promise for Texas Tech University is boundless.

"It is interesting to note that Dr. Mackey has had recent experience in helping to establish a new medical school at the University of South Florida, just as we have been doing at Texas Tech."

Dr. Mackey was appointed July 17 and has been on campus several times before officially assuming the presidency.

MASTER'S DEGREE IN AG OFFERED FOR FIRST TIME

A Master of Agriculture degree program is being offered for the first time at Texas Tech this fall.

"The new program permits students to gain advanced knowledge in any area of their interest, along with general agriculture," Dean Anson R. Bertrand said. Students will be advised by faculty members on the selection of courses for the new 36-semester-hour program. No additional faculty were required for the program.

RECREATIONAL SPORTS FEE SCHEDULE APPROVED BY BOARD OF REGENTS FOR FACULTY AND STAFF

A recreational sports fee schedule, approved by the Board of Regents, permits any member of the faculty or staff to use recreational facilities, participate in the intramural program, and check out equipment, for $15 a year. This includes use of the new swimming pool, scheduled to open this month.

For those who wish to use only the aquatic center, the fee schedule allows a member of the faculty or staff and family to purchase a season ticket at $9 for the first adult and $6 for each additional family member. Children 16 or under must be accompanied by an adult and use the pool only during designated "Family Swim" hours.

A student's spouse may have student privileges at the pool for $6 a year with a $4 charge for each additional family member. On a one-time-only basis, faculty, staff and guests are charged $1, children and guests 16 years or younger 50 cents, and a student or student guest 50 cents.

For a fee of $5 a year, faculty or staff may use the tennis courts, handball courts, and the Intramural Gym during recreation hours and have full checkout privileges on recreation equipment.

To participate on an intramural team or in an individual sport, there is a $1 fee.

While all charges are yearly, from

Sept. 1 through Aug. 31, there is a prorated fee schedule allowing rate changes Jan. 1 and June 1.

Fees were established after consultation with a student committee and the Faculty Council Executive Committee.

Fees may be paid at the Recreational Sports office in the Intramural Gym or, for the aquatic center charge only, at the pool. Information concerning the fee schedule is available from the Department of Recreational Sports in the Intramural Gym. (742-3351)

LOST: PEOPLE, CATALOGS; FOUND: THE SOLUTION

LOST: Several hundred assorted Texas Tech catalogs and bulletins (and who knows how many prospective students?). These publications have ended up in the campus mail room because individuals attempted to mail them off campus without following proper mailing procedures. Unfortunately, the "Second Class Postage Paid at Lubbock, Texas" permit printed on the back cover of all official University Bulletins is good only when the bulletins are handled in bulk by the Registrar's office. All others have only a brief journey—to the "dead catalog office."

FOUND: A simple solution. Send a request to Mike Smith, Registrar's office, telling him which bulletin or catalog you wish to have mailed and to whom (don't forget to give him the complete address—including zip code). This method is very inexpensive for the University—and free for your department. Or if you insist on mailing it yourself, use an envelope and mark it "Third Class." This way, however, your department has to pay the postage—and the rate is higher than second class.

Continued attempts to mail catalogs incorrectly may jeopardize our already shaky situation regarding the second class mailing permit. So please remember: Only the Registrar's office can mail the catalogs without envelopes.

If you have any questions, please call Gale Richardson, Editor of University Bulletins, 742-3677.

TAX SHELTERED ANNUITY ENROLLMENT IN SEPTEMBER

The month of September is scheduled for open enrollment in tax sheltered annuities provided under Sections 403(b) and 415 of the Internal Revenue Code.

Annuities purchased or changed will be effective Oct. 1, 1976, provided that completed forms are received in the Faculty and Staff Benefits Office no later than Sept. 30, 1976.

Members have found the program advantageous since it enables them to set aside part of their present salary without paying income tax on that part. A member owns and controls all rights to benefits of such annuity, and can surrender such annuity for cash at any time with payment of the tax.

The Pension Reform Act of 1974 (Public Law 93-406) established additional limitations on the maximum amount a member can tax shelter income. In general, these limitations provide the lesser of: (a) $25,000; (b) 20 per cent of gross annual salary; or (c) the calculated "maximum exclusion" allowance under Section 403 (b). It is anticipated that the 20 per cent of gross annual salary limit will apply to most members because it generally yields the least amount. New hired members are an exception to the above since their calculated "maximum exclusion" yields 16 2/3 per cent.

Each member currently participating in the Tax Sheltered Annuity Program should contact his company representative to insure that his present rate of sheltering will not exceed the new maximums.

INVITATION TO LIBRARY

The Texas Tech University Library has extended an invitation to faculty and staff to become better acquainted with the Library and its services, including acquisitions, circulation, reserve and interlibrary loans.

RANCH HERITAGE CENTER OPENING DRAWS 35,000

More than 35,000 persons participated in opening events for the Ranching Heritage Center at The Museum of Texas Tech University. The Bicentennial opening took place July 2-5, starting with the arrival of the Texas Tech Bicentennial Texas Longhorn Cattle Drive from San Antonio to the center.

Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson made the dedicatory address.

The next big event at the Ranching Heritage Center will be Ranch Day Oct. 2 when there will be dedications for the recently restored Reynolds-Gentry Barn, Pitchfork Corrals, and the Slaughter Corrals, Windmill and Water Tank and Tower. A day of festivities is planned, with a chuckwagon lunch and annual business meeting of the Ranch Headquarters Association.

Although the Ranch Headquarters Association has been primarily responsible for acquiring buildings and their restoration, maintenance costs have made it necessary to institute a charge schedule beginning Sept. 7: $1 for adults, 50 cents for students of any age, free for children under 5 years of age, $3 for family groups, and special rates for large groups. These special rates may be obtained by calling The Museum, 2-2424. There is no charge for use of the center by classes or by students using the center for educational purposes. Arrangements should be made by calling The Museum.

HORSE PROGRAM STARTED FOR ANIMAL SCIENTISTS

A horse program emphasizing training, breeding, nutrition and management was introduced this fall in the department of animal science.

"The new program will be developed during the fall and spring semesters and aimed at training students who want to work more closely with the horse industry," said Dr. Max Lennon, department chairman. "Agriculture teachers and extension service personnel also will benefit from the program."

The courses will emphasize production of animals for recreation and for use on ranches. James C. Heird will teach the courses and supervise laboratory work. He has been area livestock specialist for the North Carolina Extension Service in Wilkesboro.

SUN MAY PROVIDE AROUND-THE-CLOCK LIGHT AND POWER FOR CROSBYTON WITH HELP FROM TECH ENGINEERS

On a clear day the town of Crosbyton on the sunshine rich South Plains may be able to see forever. But the people of Crosbyton want to live, see, work and play through all those future dark nights and cloudy days without having to sacrifice the city budget.

A solar energy research project by Texas Tech University just might ease the city's energy bill in the not-so-distant future.

The university and the national Energy Research and Development Agency (ERDA) have signed a new contract calling for $2.4 million in solar research. If the research indicates the project feasible, the contract could lead to construction funding up to $22 million for a solar energy plant.

The plant would not only serve the city of Crosbyton but also be a prototype for future energy systems for other small towns or agricultural areas. The research is organized into steps, the first of which costs between $658,000 and $879,000.

Clear sky days average about 163 per year, and the partly cloudy days are likely to account for another 104. That bodes well for the feasibility of the project, engineering researchers at Texas Tech say.

Another major reason for Crosbyton's selection as the possible site for a prototype solar energy plant was its early reaction to the energy crisis. Officials of the town approached Texas Tech's engineering faculty with a request for help. The ERDA contract is an outgrowth of that request.

Working with Texas Tech faculty in the research will be E-Systems, Inc., of Dallas.

Principal investigators are two members of the Texas Tech electrical engineering faculty, Drs. John D. Reichert, project director, and Stanley R. Liberty, project manager. Liberty also is a director of the Institute for Energy Research in the college of engineering and an associate dean of the graduate school.

TEXAS TECH, LCHD BOARDS RELEASE JOINT STATEMENT

In separate meetings Oct. 1, the Board of Regents of the Texas Tech University School of Medicine and the Board of managers of the Lubbock County Hospital District were presented the results of the study to date by Mr. Max Caraway of the cost to operate the teaching hospital. While it was a preliminary report, much work has been done and the information will be most helpful in the decision making process ahead. The next effort for Mr. Caraway is to refine and re-present the information to the Boards in view of the developments. Even though the overall picture is emerging, much work remains to be done.

The presentations by Mr. Caraway were devoted solely to the ten year projections of the cash requirements to operate the hospital, regardless of who operates it. Mr. Caraway had been asked to project the needs for the operation of the teaching hospital by a single entity and this he is doing. If either Texas Tech or the Hospital District operates the hospital as the sole administrator, shared services per se will no longer be an issue. In fact, shared services were not discussed by either Board at the meetings.

Both Boards did discuss the probability, if feasible, that Texas Tech or LCHD would become the sole administrator of the hospital, rather than the joint operation that has been discussed previously.

The alternatives as to who will be the sole administrator will be the subject of further meetings along with necessary financial reviews.

VICE PRESIDENT NAMED FOR ADMINISTRATION

Kenneth W. Thompson of the University of South Florida has been appointed vice president for administration at Texas Tech.

INTERCOLLEGIATE RODEO SCHEDULED OCT. 13-16

Rodeo returns to Texas Tech University Oct. 13-16, in the Lubbock Municipal Coliseum, when the 30th annual Texas Tech National Intercollegiate Rodeo opens with more than 300 cowboys and cowgirls participating.

Tickets are available at area western wear stores for the 7:30 p.m. daily performances in the Coliseum. General admission is $2. Reserved seats go for $3, $4 and $5.

5,000 GUESTS INVITED TO MACKEY'S INAUGURATION

Approximately 5,000 honored guests have been invited to attend inaugural ceremonies for Texas Tech President Cecil Mackey Oct. 26.

Invitations went to top officials of the nation's learned societies, presidents and chancellors of all colleges and universities which hold membership in organizations to which Texas Tech belongs, special donors, and "friends and family" of the university, according to Mrs. Jane H. Brandenberger, director of University News & Publications and chairman of the invitation and programs committee.

REGENTS FORMALLY ACCEPT NEW BUILDINGS, FUNDS FOR AG RESEARCH

More than $20 million in new construction or renovation were finally approved and accepted this week by the Board of Regents of Texas Tech University and its School of Medicine.

"This is a growing university, as this figure clearly reflects," Regent Charles G. Scruggs commented upon hearing the report that over the past 10 years more than one-half of all of Texas Tech's square footage has been built.

In other action at its October meeting the Board received a check for $350,000 for use by the college of agricultural sciences for research, as well as to provide $100,000 for loan funds for needy students. The gift came from the estate of Mrs. Dan (Jessie) Thornton, who willed a portion of her assets to the West Texas university. Her husband was a former Tech student and governor of Colorado.

The Regents learned that the enrollment of Texas Tech has declined slightly this year, with some 400 students less. The student population remains above 22,000. Declines in student enrollment have occurred in the colleges of arts and sciences and of education. Increases have been marked in business administration, engineering and home economics, President Cecil Mackey reported.

Vice President J. Knox Jones told the Board that research funds have risen to $5.6 million currently, $1.4 million more than during the preceding academic year. He added that of the 80 students who received doctorates last year, 76 are employed in the fields of their choice.

Regent Bill E. Collins of Lubbock announced that athletic stadium option ticket sales are going well, with some $1 million in options having been sold to date.

LIBRARY COMMITTEE WILL HOLD MONTHLY MEETINGS

The Library Committee of the TTU Complex will meet regularly each month, according to Dr. Henry J. Shine, chairman.

The committee's charge, he said, is that it "shall counsel with the dean of Library Services on general policy affecting libraries and shall serve as liaison between the faculties and dean of Library Services. It shall make recommendations pertaining to the needs, plans, budget and operational procedures of the university libraries."

Members of the university complex who have matters for the committee's attention are invited to contact Chairman Shine, department of chemistry.

COOL IT! BUT SWEAT A LITTLE, TOO...

Texas Tech may experience a shortage of electricity and natural gas before the end of the fiscal year unless severe energy conservation measures are put into practice, according to Fredric J. Wehmeyer, associate vice president for administrative services.

Utility costs have climbed since Texas Tech received its utility appropriation for the current fiscal year, which ends in August, 1977. Construction of new buildings on campus also has increased the drain on funds appropriated.

With exception of residence halls, Wehmeyer said, buildings will be a little cooler in the winter and a little warmer in the summer.

The university will ask for an emergency appropriation in January to meet rising costs and increased use of utilities.

Wehmeyer and Dr. Charles S. Hardwick, vice president for academic affairs, have called for faculty, staff and students to exercise all energy-saving measures.

"The cost of energy is rapidly becoming an extremely serious situation," Dr. Hardwick said. "Your full cooperation, support and understanding of this critical program are urgently needed."

RANCH ASSOCIATION CHANGES ITS NAME

At the annual Ranch Day, Oct. 2, at the Ranching Heritage Center, the Ranch Headquarters Association changed its name to the Ranching Heritage Association to reflect more closely the center it supports.

DEFERRED COMPENSATION ENROLLMENT SCHEDULED

Open enrollment is scheduled during October and November for the State of Texas Deferred Compensation Program, according to the Faculty and Staff Benefits Office.

The program is available to supplement Texas Tech benefit programs, e.g., Teacher Retirement System, Optional Retirement Program, and Tax Sheltered Annuity Program under Sections 403(b) and 415 of the Internal Revenue Code. However, it is not intended to replace such programs.

The Deferred Compensation Program is similar to the Tax Sheltered Annuity Program in that both defer income tax until benefit payments are received. A major difference is that the Deferred Compensation Program permits almost 100 per cent income sheltering, while the Tax Sheltered Annuity Program generally limits sheltering to 20 per cent.

A member now participating in the Tax Sheltered Annuity Program and electing to participate in the Deferred Compensation Program needs to coordinate these programs to avoid exceeding the Tax Sheltered Annuity maximum sheltering allowed under the Internal Revenue Code.

A member who wishes to participate in the Deferred Compensation Program needs to contact a representative of one or more of the authorized insurance companies. Application forms must be received in the Benefits Office, Room 42, Administration Building, no later than 5 p.m., Tuesday, Nov. 30, 1976, in order for the program to become effective Jan. 1, 1977. For additional information, call the Faculty and Staff Benefits Office, 742-3856.

Dr. Mackey To Be Inaugurated Tuesday

DR. MAURICE CECIL MACKEY, JR. will be inaugurated as president of Texas Tech University and of the Texas Tech University School of Medicine in ceremonies Tuesday, Oct. 26.

The inaugural convocation is scheduled for the Municipal Auditorium at 2:30 p.m., followed by a reception at 4:30 p.m. in The Museum of Texas Tech University.

More than 5,000 honored guests have been invited to attend the formal ceremonies, which will include a procession with participants in full academic regalia.

Special invitations went to top officials of the nation's learned and professional societies, presidents and chancellors of all colleges and universities which hold membership in organizations to which Texas Tech belongs, special donors and "friends and family" of the university.

All faculty, staff and students of Texas Tech have a blanket invitation to attend the convocation, said Bill E. Collins of Lubbock, member of the Board of Regents and general chairman of the inauguration committee, and Dr. Charles S. Hardwick, vice president for Academic Affairs and chairperson of the steering committee.

HEW Secretary to Speak

Formal installation will be by Dr. Judson F. Williams of El Paso, chairman of the Board of Regents. The inaugural address will be delivered by Dr. David A. Mathews, secretary of the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

He assumed the presidency of the University of Alabama in 1969 at the age of 33, the youngest man ever to hold that position. He was deeply involved with the university for more than 20 years as student, dean of men, history teacher, vice president and president.

As HEW secretary he heads a department of 140,000 people responsible for more than 350 programs and the expenditure of about one-third of the total Federal budget.

Dr. Glenn E. Barnett, executive vice president of Texas Tech, will preside over the inauguration. Dr. Kenneth H. Ashworth, commissioner of the Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System, will introduce Dr. Mathews.

FREE UNIVERSITIES VITAL TO OUR COLLECTIVE WELL-BEING

The following is the response by Dr. Cecil Mackey on the occasion of his inauguration as president of Texas Tech University and the Texas Tech University School of Medicine:

In a world so characterized by relentless change, it is important that we cling to some of the symbols and traditions of the past lest we find ourselves, without an anchor, set adrift amid the currents of impermanence. Universities are a proud part of our heritage and ceremonies such as this have long marked important academic events. They serve as opportunities for reflection and for recommitment—occasions to renew old faiths and recognize new affirmations.

Thomas Jefferson, in the early days of the Republic, wrote that "No experiment can be more interesting than that we are now trying, which we trust will end in establishing the fact that man may be governed by reason and truth. Our first object should therefore be to leave open to him all the avenues of truth."

In this, our Nation's bicentennial year, it is abundantly clear that over these two centuries there has been no more important avenue to truth, no stronger force for reason within the democratic free society, than our universities. This would not have surprised Mr. Jefferson, for in addition to his many other uncommon talents, he also possessed an uncommon understanding of the role of the university.

Fragile though these institutions are, they have yet survived the onslaughts and the buffeting of the years, resisting politicalization, fending off the special interests, enduring anti-intellectualism and struggling under the burdens of financial stringencies. Let us not, however, assume that survival assures a certain future. Their continuation as free institutions, seeking truth unendingly, is vital to our collective well-being. The humanizing role of the liberal education has no counterpart and is increasingly important in a society where, as Alexander Solzhenitzyn, has observed, "Mankind's salvation lies exclusively in everyone's making everything his business..."

I urge all of you—as faculty, as students, as alumni, as regents, and as citizens, to join me reaffirming the frontier spirit of West Texas and the commitment to Texas Tech University that will be necessary to ensure the excellence and achieve the distinction this institution must have to reach its full potential.

TTUSM REGENTS ACCEPT REPORT ON HOSPITAL FINANCING PROJECTIONS DURING FIRST DECADE OF OPERATION

In a called session on Oct. 25 the Board of Regents of Texas Tech University School of Medicine officially accepted a report by Lubbock CPA Max Caraway in regard to financial projections for the Health Sciences Center Hospital, primary teaching facility for the medical school.

The report's projections demonstrated a negative cash flow from all operations of $8,219,000 during the first year of operation and one of $53,521,000 over a ten-year period for the primary teaching hospital. All operations include not only those of the hospital but also of the outpatient and emergency room operations.

Total loss anticipated from hospital operations alone would amount to $7,057,000 for the first year and $47,411,000 over ten years.

Caraway warned that the report did not take in account inflationary factors.

The Regents agreed with Caraway that the possibility of the teaching hospital opening its doors in September, 1977, seemed remote.

Regent J. Fred Bucy, Jr., of Dallas advised that "a financial strategy to solve the teaching hospital problem must be worked out by the Board of Regents and the Lubbock County Hospital District's Board of Managers." He also stressed that education of and support from the community will be vital to that solution.

Caraway commented that even should local taxes be doubled—which he termed "highly improbable"—the deficit could not be met.

Chairman Judson F. Williams of El Paso suggested that alternate sources of funding might include better rates of collection of patients fees, state funding, raise in local taxes, and a private fund-raising campaign. However, he added that he felt Caraway's projections of collection rates were in line with the experience of other major Texas teaching hospitals and that state funding is far from assured.

The Chairman of the hospital's Board of Managers, Marshall Pennington, pointed out that the hospital cannot be opened until medical programs are ready to be effected. Texas Tech President Cecil Mackey responded that these programs are ready but that TTUSM cannot make decisions as to when staffing of the hospital by LCHD is economically feasible.

DR. MACKEY INAUGURATED; HEW SECRETARY CITES HIGHER EDUCATION NEEDS

DR. CECIL MACKEY was formally inaugurated as the ninth president of Texas Tech University and the second president of the TTU School of Medicine Oct. 26.

Dr. Judson F. Williams of El Paso, chairman of the Board of Regents, installed Dr. Mackey at an afternoon convocation highlighted by an inaugural address by Dr. David A. Mathews, secretary of the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare. Mathews is on leave from the presidency of the University of Alabama to administer the federal agency.

THREE IMPERATIVES

Dr. Mathews cited "three imperatives" facing higher education.

The first is that colleges and universities "must get off the defensive, a posture in which they found themselves in the tumultuous '60s."

The second is that universities need "to recapture their vitality as houses of intelligence and creativity. They are charged with developing and nurturing the mind, with all of the rare capacities of that mind."

Third, American universities are going to have to get a "better chemistry with the American public." That chemistry needs to be characterized by vitality and strength which he believes, "are somewhat absent today."

Dr. Kenneth H. Ashworth, commissioner of the Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System, introduced Mathews.

Dr. Glenn E. Barnett, executive vice president, presided. Music was provided by the Department of Music.

A reception in The Museum of Texas Tech University concluded the day's inaugural activities.

BOB RHOADES APPOINTED

Bob Rhoades has been appointed director of Facilities and Finance and lecturer in the College of Business Administration.

Rhoades has a master's degree in mathematics from Texas Tech.

REGENTS APPROVE MEDICAL AFFILIATION AGREEMENTS, UPGRADING JONES STADIUM, JUNCTION IMPROVEMENTS

IN ITS MEETING on Friday, Dec. 3, the Board of Regents of the Texas Tech University School of Medicine approved six affiliation agreements throughout West Texas.

FIVE PROFESSORS HONORED BY STUDENT GROUPS

The five recipients of the highest student awards presented to Texas Tech faculty were honored at a meeting in Senate Chambers last month.

Recipients were Dr. William Jay Huffman, Department of Chemical Engineering; Dr. Herschel Mann, Area of Accounting; Dr. B. J. Marshall, Department of Physics; Dr. Beverly Vinson McGill, Department of Child Development; and Dr. Lorum H. Stratton, chairperson of Spanish and Portuguese.

The awards were presented by Mortar Board, Omicron Delta Kappa and the Student Senate.

Teachers are a reflection of the students and students reflect the teacher, Dr. Mann said, in addressing the Student Senate on quality academics.

He said quality academics can be achieved through cooperation and patience of the administration, faculty and students. "Any missing link in the chain of cooperation will cause mistakes and failure," he said.

"Academics will be better if we don't expect anyone else to be more dedicated nor less dedicated than ourselves."

UNIVERSITY DOCUMENTS PLACED IN LIBRARY

A number of official Texas Tech University documents and materials have been placed in the Special Reference Section of the Library and are available to persons who may have an interest in them.

Among the papers are the legislative appropriations request for the next biennium, minutes of the Board of Regents, the current financial plan (budget), Systems and Procedures Manual for the Texas Tech University Complex, and minutes of the Executive Committee of the Faculty Council.

Additional documents and materials will be added when general need and interest are indicated.

In action as the Board of Regents for Texas Tech University, the Regents approved the appointment of Robert W. Bissell, athletic trainer and instructor, to the State Advisory Board of Athletic Trainers. The Board also heard reports on a comprehensive review of the student code now in progress, accreditation surveys being made of various colleges and departments, an admissions policy now in draft form and being circulated among the faculty, and present and future parking lot plans.

Kenneth W. Thompson, vice president for administration, reported that the Education & General Fund is now at its lowest ebb in recent years and that there will be a need to reduce expenditures this year in order to build appropriate reserves. He also informed the Regents that the institution's bond strength is in excellent condition.

The Board also considered the schematic design for the Agricultural Pavilion and requested the architects to alter exterior design to conform to the campus' architectural theme. In other campus and building actions Regents approved construction, largely devoted to remodeling, at the Junction Center at an approximate cost of $180,000, awarded a contract to Brasher, Goyette and Rapier for planning of athletic facilities (including a new ticket office and lounge area), voted to accept bids to replace artificial turf and wooden seating in Jones Stadium.

The Regents voted a resolution commending Coach Steve Sloan, his staff and football team for their successful season.

In final action the Regents approved a motion that the Vice President for Health Sciences Centers and the Executive Director of the Lubbock County Hospital District attend board meetings of both the university regents and the hospital district managers.

(Please see addendum for a complete statement by Chairman Judson F. Williams in which he outlines the necessity for support of the Lubbock County Hospital District's efforts to gain state funding.)

ADDENDUM TO VOL. 7, No. 7, Dec. 8, 1976

TECH REGENTS CHAIRMAN PLEDGES SUPPORT FOR LCHD EFFORTS FOR STATE FUNDING

Editor's Note: The chairman of the Texas Tech University School of Medicine Board of Regents, Judson F. Williams, released a statement of policy regarding its support for the Lubbock County Hospital District's efforts to obtain state funding to open the Health Sciences Center Hospital. A report of the statement follows:

AT THE MEETING of the Texas Tech University School of Medicine Board of Regents today Chairman Judson F. Williams underscored again Tech's support of the Lubbock County Hospital District's efforts to obtain state funding to open the Health Sciences Center Hospital.

"It is now apparent that the economic viability of the Lubbock County Hospital District hospital as a teaching hospital for the Texas Tech medical school is dependent on state aid. Other teaching hospitals in the state have serious financial problems and need state funding for long term financial soundness, but none has an immediate problem of the proportions of the Lubbock one," Dr. Williams said.

He warned, "While there is reason to be optimistic about the chances for action by the Legislature in the forthcoming session to provide state funding for teaching hospitals, it seems clear that the Legislature will undoubtedly look at the nature and extent of local commitment and will compare that local support in each instance."

The Chairman continued, "Texas Tech University School of Medicine is proceeding now with faculty recruitment and operational planning and is able to meet any opening date for the teaching hospital in Lubbock.

Dr. Williams pointed out that since 1969 approximately $42 million have been spent for the construction of the Texas Tech School of Medicine and approximately $20 million for that of the Lubbock County Hospital.

In discussing possible state funding the Chairman added that "money for start-up costs, as well as for teaching costs, will be necessary in the case of the Lubbock teaching hospital."

The balance of his statement was as follows:

"The precise form of the state legislation has not yet been determined, but the Texas Tech Board of Regents will support the legislation as agreed upon by other Texas medical schools and their teaching hospitals, whether funding is directed through the Coordinating Board or goes directly to the teaching hospitals. The Board of Regents will work in close cooperation with the Lubbock County Hospital District Board of Managers in urging enactment of a bill that will meet the needs of the teaching hospitals and medical education. Texas

Tech can meet teaching costs only if the state provides the funds.

"It is important to keep in mind that the Legislature, in creating the Texas Tech University School of Medicine, directed that there be medical school operations in El Paso and Amarillo, as well as in Lubbock. Development of the medical school programs has proceeded in all three areas over the past several years, and the educational activities at El Paso and Amarillo in no way compete with or detract from the importance of Lubbock and the central focus of the medical school at the main Texas Tech campus.

"With regard to the administration of the teaching hospital in Lubbock, the Texas Tech Board of Regents would prefer, if state aid were available as a stable financial base, that the medical school be given responsibility for administration and operation of the teaching hospital. However, the medical school can provide effective medical education with the teaching hospital in Lubbock under the administration of the Lubbock County Hospital District Board of Managers and will cooperate fully with that Board under either situation--hospital administration by the Texas Tech University School of Medicine or by the Lubbock County Hospital District Board of Managers.

"Texas Tech University School of Medicine is proceeding now with faculty recruitment and operational planning and is able to meet any opening date for the teaching hospital in Lubbock. The Lubbock County Hospital District Board of Managers is scheduled to consider an appropriate projected opening date for the teaching hospital at its December meeting. It is the belief of the Texas Tech Regents that it would be a serious mistake to open the teaching hospital in Lubbock without assurance of the financial ability to remain open. Opening the hospital and then having to close it because of inadequate financial support would be disastrous.

"The staffs of the Texas Tech University School of Medicine and the Lubbock County Hospital District have worked together closely during the planning of the facilities and will continue their joint effort in operational planning for the opening of the teaching hospital and the overall development of medical school programs."

The Division of Continuing Engineering Education will offer two courses at Frank Phillips College in Borger and an accelerated course on the Texas Tech campus during the spring semester.

MUSIC DEPT. RECOGNIZED

The Texas Tech University Department of Music has been presented the 1976-77 Educational Institution Award of the National Federation of Music Clubs for departmental support and performance of American music.

The award of $500 and of an achievement certificate is based on the number of performances of American music given during the school year.

UNIVERSITY CENTER/MUSIC FACILITY DEDICATION SET

A week of entertainment, ranging from classical music to pinball and billiard tournaments, will take place at the dedication and grand opening of the expanded University Center/Music Building Jan. 23-29.

The dedication will take place in the courtyard at 7 p.m. Sunday, Jan. 23. Ceremonies will be preceded and followed by concerts.

The public is invited to a courtyard harp concert at 6:30 p.m. when Gail Barber will perform. They also are invited to stay for the organ recital of Dr. Judson Maynard on the newly installed Holtkamp organ in the Recital Hall. That concert starts at 8:15 p.m. There is no charge for either of the concerts.

REGENTS APPROVE ADDITION TO ENGINEERING COMPLEX; BUDGET BOARD RECOMMENDATIONS FOR TECH GENEROUS

In a called meeting in Houston's Stouffer Hotel on Dec. 31 the Texas Tech University Board of Regents took the following actions:

*Authorized letting of a $167,506 contract to Southwestern Electric Co. of Oklahoma City for the street lighting, traffic signals and striping of Indiana Avenue

*Approved an addition to the Engineering Complex, which will utilize $2 million of the balance of a $10 million bond issue and which will house laser laboratories, plasma dynamics, pattern recognition and advanced research, such as solar and geothermal energy projects

*Granted authority to Vice President Kenneth W. Thompson to contract for extended fire insurance coverage should the present company surrender its current policies

*Heard a report from Public Affairs Director Bill J. Parsley that the Legislative Budget Board has been generous in its recommendations to the Legislature re the Tech budget requests, with the following as examples: Energy research - $250,000; beef cattle research - $150,000; renovation of the old Library Building - $650,000; storage for hazardous materials - $176,000; increase of Museum budget by 20%, with first-time funds for management of the Ranching Heritage Center; increase in El Paso operations of the School of Medicine from $500,000 to some $2 million; increase of TTUSM budget by approximately 33%. Parsley also informed the board of a proposed rider requiring state university faculty members to teach a minimum of nine undergraduate or six graduate hours. President Mackey warned that such proposals ignore the absolute necessity for research and other scholarly pursuits by faculty if they are to be effective teachers.

*Presented a resolution of commendation to Coach Steve Sloan, his coaching staff and the 1976 Red Raider football team

*Voted to change the April board meeting from Friday, the eighth, to Thursday, the seventh.

MURRAY SAYS ENERGY NEEDS OF FUTURE STAGGERING

University Professor Grover E. Murray told America's pipeline contractors that despite fervent wishes of ecologists and environmentalists there can be no return to the so-called pristine conditions of Grandmother's time.

He addressed the Pipeline Contractors Association in Boca Raton, Fla., Jan. 25.

Murray, former Texas Tech president, said, "The hydrocarbon requirements of the United States currently exceed by about 50 per cent our capacity to produce them, and hydrocarbons are too valuable for other purposes to continue to be burned for energy."

He called for definition and implementation of a national effort to find sources of energy other than petroleum products. "Unless we retrograde technologically, the demand for energy in one form or another in future decades will be staggering by current concepts. Efforts to upgrade the standard of living worldwide will require ever greater quantities of energy in the form of food and equally vast amounts of other kinds of energy for transportation, communication, work and environmental control."

The nationally recognized geologist called for increased efficiency in the use of energy and better distribution of waste resulting from its use.

He also took to task critics of higher education. "Some of that criticism is undoubtedly deserved, but in the light of higher education's contributions to the welfare of the nation the repressive measures advocated by some can hardly be justified. The very life of our nation depends upon our continued leadership in all walks of professional and business life but especially in science, engineering and technology, and our colleges and universities are almost the sole guarantee of that supply."

COMPLETION OF BASEMENT, FIFTH FLOOR OF SCHOOL OF MEDICINE AUTHORIZED

The Texas Tech University School of Medicine Board of Regents has authorized completion of the basement and fifth floor of Pod B of the new Medical School building.

The action was taken at a special session in the Dallas-Fort Worth Airport last month.

Regents also asked the Texas Tech administration to confer with H. K. Smith & Partners of Dallas in architectural planning of the approximately $4.3 million construction.

The completed area will include space for a vivarium to house research animals, and space for laboratories, classrooms, offices and morgue.

Construction, planned for completion by September, 1978, will be funded by the original bonds sold for construction of the School of Medicine.

UNIVERSITY SCHOLARS PROGRAM ESTABLISHED

The establishment of the University Scholars Program, an academic scholarship fund for outstanding undergraduate students at Texas Tech, has been announced by the office of Academic Affairs.

The scholarships have been made possible under provisions of a newly established endowment fund which will subsidize several University Scholars. The scholarships will be for $500 per semester and will be renewable each semester up to a period not to exceed five years or a sum of more than $5,000, Dr. Charles S. Hardwick, vice president for Academic Affairs, said.

Scholarships will be awarded on the basis of demonstrated scholastic accomplishment and leadership qualifications only. The awards of the scholarships will not disqualify the recipients from consideration for other scholarships or financial aid programs.

They are open to high school graduates and transfers from junior colleges. Additional information may be obtained from the Admissions Office.

RECITAL WILL DEDICATE HOLTkamp ORGAN FEB. 13

Gerre Hancock, organist and master of the choir at St. Thomas Church, New York, will be presented in concert on the Texas Tech Holtkamp Organ at 3 p.m., Sunday, Feb. 13, when the instrument is dedicated in Recital Hall.

MASS COMM AWARD GOES TO GRASSO; LIZ TO STAND IN

The 1977 Thomas Jefferson Award, honoring public officials who defend and protect the freedom of the news media to inform the public, will be presented to Gov. Ella T. Grasso of Connecticut. The Friday night awards dinner concludes Mass Communications Week at Texas Tech University.

Liz Carpenter, one of Texas' most widely known journalists, will accept the award for Gov. Grasso and address the banquet meeting. A previous commitment will prevent Gov. Grasso's attending the dinner.

Sponsors of the award are the Texas Press Association, Texas Daily Newspaper Association, Texas Association of Broadcasters and Texas Tech.

Gov. Grasso expressed "deep appreciation" to the sponsors of the national award. "It is indeed an honor to accept the Thomas Jefferson Award," she said. "This recognition is all the more gratifying because my concern for open government has been an integral part of my public life for more than two decades."

A highlight of Thursday, Advertising Day, will be the induction of J. Culver Hill, longtime Lubbock advertising executive and graduate of Texas Tech, into the Mass Communications Hall of Fame. He will be honored at a luncheon meeting and inducted by Bill E. Collins, president, Hemphill-Wells, Inc., and former chairman of the University's Board of Regents.

Hill, now retired, served as director of advertising and public relations for Hemphill-Wells Company for many years. At the age of 14 in 1925 he began working for the company.

BASKETBALL PLAY-OFF TICKETS TO GO ON SALE

Tickets for Texas Tech's post-season basketball play-off game to be played in the Lubbock Municipal Coliseum, Feb. 26, will go on sale Feb. 23.

Tickets will be $2 for students and faculty and $4 for the public.

The four winners from the first round will earn the right to play in the elimination games at The Summit in Houston, March 3-5. Winner of the eliminations will play the Southwest Conference Champion on March 5 in Houston.

That game's victor will represent the Southwest Conference in the NCAA competition, first round to be at the Omni in Atlanta, Ga., March 26-28.

Additional information may be obtained by calling the Texas Tech athletic office at 742-3341.

DISTINGUISHED TEACHING AWARDS PRESENTED

Three Texas Tech professors, Drs. Clarke E. Cochran, Charles N. Kellogg and Lloyd V. Urban, received AMOCO Foundation Distinguished Teaching awards at Charter Day ceremonies.

The awards provide $1,000 for each recipient.

Criteria for selection include teaching excellence, intellectual impact on students and colleagues, scholarship, concern for individuals, professional integrity, and innovations in teaching, as well as evidences of previous recognition for teaching.

Cochran is associate professor of political science; Kellogg, associate professor of mathematics; and Urban, assistant professor of civil engineering.

ANNUITY ENROLLMENT PERIOD ANNOUNCED

Open enrollment in Texas Tech's Tax Sheltered Annuity Program under Sections 403(b) and 415 of the Internal Revenue Code will begin March 1. Annuities purchased or revised would become effective April 1.

A number of faculty and staff members have found this program advantageous since it enables them to set aside part of their current salary without paying income tax on that part. Investment value increases, if any, of such annuities would also accumulate on an income tax-free basis until members receive cash benefits.

Faculty and staff now participating in this program who wish to make changes in annuities during this enrollment should contact their company representative. More detailed information will be provided by memorandum to all members in the near future.

KEY DEPOSITS BACK

Persons who paid $.50 key deposits which were required prior to Feb. 1, 1970, may be reimbursed without returning the keys, according to the office of Accounting and Finance.

Based upon the current list of key deposits, cash refunds will be made. These refunds will be available at the Bursar's office, Room 166, Administration Building until the end of the business day, March 15. After that date all deposits will be forfeited and the key deposit account will be closed.

Questions should be directed to Mrs. Shari Daffern, Room 162, Administration Building, 742-3216.

CHARTER DAY FEATURES MURRAY L. WEIDENBAUM, ALCOA LECTURER

Economist Dr. Murray L. Weidenbaum, director of the Center for Study of American Business at Washington University in St. Louis, gave a Texas Tech Charter Day audience his viewpoint of "The Future of Business-Government Relations."

"The developments now taking place in business-government relations in the United States are so fundamental that they amount to a second 'management revolution,'" the ALCOA Foundation lecturer said.

This second shift in business decision-making, he said, is toward the "vast cadre of government planners and regulators who are influencing and often controlling the key managerial decisions of the typical business firm."

The impetus for expanded government participation is provided by a variety of consumer groups, environmental organizations, civil rights advocates, labor unions and other citizens' institutions, he said. The increasing regulation reflects public and congressional concern that traditional federal and state-local programs have not been effective. The new wave of regulation also is re-inforced by the belief that the private sector is responsible for many of the problems facing society: pollution, discrimination in employment, unsafe products, unhealthy working environments, misleading financial reporting.

Weidenbaum said he did not intend to sound a hysterical note that the U.S. is rapidly approaching a "big brother" dominated society. "But some words of caution do seem very much in order. We need to give much more attention to the delicate nature of the balance between the need for individual freedom and the desire to provide for the public welfare through government power."

4.0 STUDENTS HONORED

Five Texas Tech seniors with perfect 4.0 grade point averages were honored for superior academic achievement during Charter Day ceremonies.

Recognized were: Clay Cockerell, pre-med major from Abilene; Joe P. Cowan, electrical engineering major from Lubbock; Nancy J. Gilliam, special education major from Junction; William H. Shaver, pre-med major from Lubbock; and Susan E. Snead, music major from Roswell N.M.

Students must have no more than one year of transferred credit, as well as a 4.0 grade point average, to qualify for this honor.

President Cecil Mackey presented the recognitions.

MACKEY TELLS LEGISLATORS OF TECH FINANCIAL NEEDS FOR NEXT BIENNIUM

In addressing the House Committee on Higher Education and the Senate Finance Committee in early March, President Cecil Mackey stressed the following areas:

* Faculty salaries: one of Tech's most critical needs, Dr. Mackey stated. He added that statistics indicate only a relatively small number of Tech classes are taught by teaching assistants. Asking that the original requests be held intact, he pointed to the fact that the average faculty salary increase was 4.5% while cost of living increased at substantially more than 5% in 1976-'77. (1978 request: $22,603,659; '79: $24,321,792)

* Faculty development assignments: to keep professional and career employees abreast of developments in their fields. (Funds of $200,000, or approximately 1% of the faculty salary appropriation)

* Departmental operating expenses: an increase to provide more adequate salaries for classified personnel and funds for supplies, equipment, telephone service and similar items for instructional departments. (An additional $250,000 for each of the biennial years)

* Organized research: increase in funding by a minimum of 10% over the current year, or a total of $825,000, simply to stay even with inflationary cost increases.

* Tuition scholarships: recently increased by the Board of Regents from $25 per semester to $50. (Concomitant request for increase of $15,000 per year)

* Special research programs: especially the restoration to the original request level of $1,368,914 in each biennial year for the study of mesquite, noxious brush, weeds, other vegetation, swine and vegetables, and for research in food and nutrition, prototype solar station and in tornadoes, extreme winds and their effects.

* Repairs and rehabilitation of facilities: particularly renovation of the old library building, installation of new campus building fire alarm systems and building of an underground storage bunker for hazardous and combustible chemicals and provision of equipment for energy conservation, as well as a longer list of serious facility repair and rehabilitation needs.

* The Museum: a request that adherence to the level of state funding originally requested for both The Museum and the Ranching Heritage Center be accorded. ('78 request: $635,208; '79: $678,534)

* School of Medicine: request for overall increased support, with especial emphasis on the Medical School library in Lubbock, organized research, purchased utilities, the Department of Clinical Education, and requests for planning

TORNADO WATCH AND ALERT PROCEDURES UPDATED

Procedures for notifying Texas Tech University personnel in the event of tornado watches and warnings have been updated.

TORNADO WATCH

When the Lubbock area is included in a TORNADO WATCH, indicating that conditions are favorable for the development of tornadoes, the City of Lubbock Emergency Operations Center will notify the University Police Department that a watch is in effect until a certain hour.

The University Police Department will transmit the information simultaneously to all telephones on the Telephone Alert System.

When the tornado watch has reached the designated hour and is not extended, personnel on the Telephone Alert System will be notified. If it is extended, the new time for expiration will be transmitted.

TORNADO WARNING

In case of a TORNADO WARNING, meaning there is a tornado in the vicinity, the Emergency Operations Center will notify the University Police. The University Police will make a recording that a tornado warning exists in the vicinity of Texas Tech and that everyone should take cover immediately. The message will be sent simultaneously to all telephones on the alert system. The University Police also will activate the alarm system which consists of a siren on the Chemistry Building, the fire alarm bells and the classroom bells on campus.

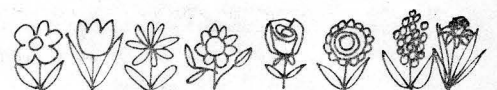

The classroom bell system will sound-on two seconds and off one second, on two seconds and off one-for a two-minute period.

The alarm system is augmented by loudspeakers on University Police cars broadcasting instructions to take cover and by an intermittent ringing of the fire alarm bells in the residence halls.

When the warning is cancelled, notification will be initiated by University Police.

To protect yourself in a large building, go to an interior hallway or the lowest floor--basement if possible--or under heavy furniture in the center of the building. As a last-minute emergency shelter, choose a small interior area without windows such as a closet or bathroom. Open windows, if possible, but stay away from glass. Leave a mobile home even if it is well anchored.

Outdoors, move away at right angles from the tornado's path, or lie flat in the nearest depression and use your hands to shield your head.
