The Resolution Committee made the following report:

We your Committee on Resolutions respectfully report the following four resolutions, numbered from one to four, inclusive, all of which have been unanimously approved by this committee, and recommend the adoption of each of them.

SETH P. MILLS,
GEORGE W. BLAIR,
A. CASEY.

WHEREAS, Our President, Woodrow Wilson, has, under the most trying circumstances, steered our Government clear of many unforeseen difficulties that have arisen in his administration with consummate skill and wisdom.

Therefore, the Texas Division, United Confederate Veterans, here assembled at Hillsboro, Texas, do most heartily endorse his administration and wish it the same success in the future as it has been in the past.

Ruled out of order by the Commander as being political.

Whereas, since the death of our lamented Comrade S. A. Cunningham, December, 1913, by the terms of his will, a board of trust has been acting in the conduct of the Confederate Veteran Magazine, Gen. Virgil Y. Cook of Arkansas, Gen. K. M. Vanzandt and Commander in Chief, Gen. Bennett Young, trustees, and Miss Edith Pope, trustee, and as secretary; and,

Whereas, This publication represents the Southern Confederate Memorial Association, the United Confederate Veterans, the United Daughters of the Confederacy and the United Sons of Veterans; and,

Whereas, The subscription is diminishing and this publication is of the utmost importance to the perpetuity of the principles for which we have ever stood; therefore, be it

RESOLVED, That we cordially endorse the splendid management of this board in the past, and pledge ourselves to loyally stand by it in the future, and urge every Veteran of this Division to subscribe for it.

Unanimously adopted by a rising vote.

WHEREAS, It is the general impression that there are many who are on the Pension Rolls who are not entitled to receive a pension from the State; therefore, be it

RESOLVED, By the Texas Division of United Confederate Veterans, assembled at Hillsboro, Texas, that the county judges of the several counties be requested and urged to fully investigate and scrutinize all applications for pensions, and that no application be approved until the law governing same be fully complied with, and further request that all local camps assist the county judges in the investigation of the application.

Adopted.

WHEREAS, The Twenty-fourth Annual Reunion at Hillsboro has been one of the most delightful in the history of the Texas Division of United Confederate Veteran Association; and

Whereas, this has been made possible by the united action of every element of the citizenship of that splendid city without an exception; therefore be it

RESOLVED, By this Division that we most cordially appreciate this kind attention from all, from the address of the mayor of this city, welcoming our presence here, from the local press of the city, the delightful reception accorded us the first evening, and the crowning event in the magnificent noonday feast spread before us and our lady sponsors, maids and matrons of honor on the second day. All of which will be remembered by us as one of the red letter days in our calendar.

Unanimously adopted by a rising vote.

Comrade C. H. Saxon, Commander of Walter P. Lane Camp, No. 639, U. C. V., introduced the following resolution:

Headquarters Walter P. Lane Camp, No. 639.

Orange, Texas, August 7th, 1915.

The Camp being in regular session do hereby adopt the following resolution, to-wit:

BE IT RESOLVED By this Camp that our delegates to the next convention of the Texas Division, U. C. V., be and are hereby instructed to ask that body to use its influence in favor of the withdrawal of the Divisions in the Trans-Mississiippi Department from the general organization, and to organize the Trans-Mississippi on an independent basis. We believe this course would revive the interest in our cause and its work, which seems on the decline. Our members are growing too feeble for the long trips made necessary by the action of the large majority east of the river. It has been said that there are only 42 or 44 Texas camps now in good standing. We think that the action we ask would revive a majority of the dormant camps. We earnestly disclaim any want of disrespect to the parent organization, but believe the interest of the camps could be best served by this plan.

Respectfully submitted,

C. H. SAXON, Com.

By an almost unanimous vote the resolution was tabled.

Next in regular order was the election of Commander of the Texas Division for next year; General Robertson vacated the chair and General Vanzandt was called to preside.

General Felix H. Robertson was duly nominated, and there being no further nominations, thereupon motion was made that the Adjutant General cast the vote of the camp for General Robertson as Commander for the ensuing year, and carried unanimously.

The Adjutant thereupon announced that the entire vote of the convention was cast for General Robertson, and he was declared re-elected for the ensuing year. Gen. Felix H. Robertson then took the chair and thanked the convention for the honor conferred upon him and announced that the election of Brigade Commander was now in order.

Whereupon, the delegates from the several Brigades met and elected Brigade Commanders as follows, viz: First Brigade, F. W. Redman of Beaumont; Second Brigade, H. G. Askew of Austin; Third Brigade, E. W. Kirkpatrick of McKinney; Fourth Brigade, R. S. Whitehead of Grandbury. All to serve until the close of the 1916 re-union at Terrell, Texas, on the first Thursday in October, 1916.

The next in the order of business was the election of a place for holding the next re-union.

Terrell and Bowie, Texas were placed in nomination. A vote being taken, Terrell received 156 votes and Bowie 17 votes.

Motion was thereupon made, seconded and carried that the selection of Terrell be made unanimous, and that the Twenty-fifth Annual Re-union of the Confederate Veterans be held in that city.

There being no further business, the meeting of the Texas Division, U. C. V., for 1915, was adjourned to be convened on the first Thursday in October, 1916.

Third—To encourage the writing by participators therein of accounts, narratives, memoirs, histories of battles, episodes and occurrences of the war between the States. Fourth—To gather authentic data, statistics, documents, reports, plans, maps and other material for an impartial history of the Confederate side. To collect and preserve relics and mementos of the war; to make and perpetuate a record of services of every member, and, as far as possible, of those of our Comrades who preceded us into eternity. Fifth—To see that the disabled are cared for; that a helping hand is extended to the needy, and that the Confederate widows and orphans are protected and assisted. Sixth—To urge and aid in the erection of enduring monuments to our great leaders and hero soldiers and sailors, and people, and to mark with suitable headstones the graves of the Confederate dead wherever found. Seventh—To instill into our descendants a proper veneration for the spirit and glory of their fathers, and to bring them into association with our organization, that they may aid us in accomplishing our objects and purposes and finally succeed us and take up our work whenever we may leave it.

Headquarters Army of Northern Virginia.

Chambersburg, Penn., June 27, 1863.

General Order No. 73.

The Commanding General has observed with marked satisfaction the conduct of the troops on the march, and confidently anticipates results commensurate with the high spirit they have manifested. No troops could have displayed greater fortitude or better performed the arduous marches of the past ten days. Their conduct in other respects has, with few exceptions, been in keeping with their character as soldiers and entitles them to approbation and praise. There have, however, been instances of forgetfulness on the part of some that they have in keeping the yet unsullied reputation of the army, and that the duties exacted of us by civilization and Christianity are not less obligatory in the country of the enemy than in our own. The Commanding General considers that no greater disgrace could befall the army, and through it our whole people, than the perpetration of the barbarous outrages upon the unarmed and defenseless, and the wanton destruction of private property that have marked the course of the enemy in our own country.

Such proceedings not only degrade the perpetrators and all connected with them, but are subversive of the discipline and efficiency of the army and destructive of the ends of our present movement. It must be remembered that we make war only upon armed men, and that we cannot take vengeance for the wrongs our people have suffered without lowering ourselves in the eyes of all whose abhorrence has been excited by the atrocities of our enemies and offending against Him to whom vengeance belongeth, without whose favor and support our efforts must all prove in vain. The Commanding General therefore earnestly exhorts the troops to abstain, with most scrupulous care, from unnecessary or wanton injury to private property, and he enjoins upon all officers to arrest and bring to summary punishment all who shall in any way offend against the orders on this subject.

R. E. LEE, General.

GENERAL ORDER No. 9

General Lee's Farewell Address to His Army.

Headquarters Army Northern Virginia, April 10, 1865.

"After four years of arduous service, marked by unsurpassed courage and fortitude, the Army of Northern Virginia has been compelled to yield to overwhelming numbers and resources.

"I need not tell the survivors of so many hard-fought battles who have remained steadfast to the last, that I have consented to this result from no distrust of them; but feeling that valor and devotion could accomplish nothing that would compensate for the loss that would have attended the continuation of the contest, I have determined to avoid the useless sacrifice of those who past services have endeared them to their countrymen.

"By the terms of the agreement, officers and men can return to their homes and remain there until exchanged. You will take with you the satisfaction that proceeds from the consciousness of duty faithfully performed; and I earnestly pray that a merciful God will extend to you His blessings and protection. With an increasing admiration of your constancy and devotion to your country, and a grateful remembrance of your kind and generous consideration of myself, I bid you an affectionate farewell.
