

ByrdJones – Bio

ByrdJones is a duo composed of two Kerrville Folk Festival New Folk Songwriting Contest winners namely, from 2003 - Jonathan Byrd and from 2006 - Diana Jones. The duo's debut studio outing "Radio Soul" was recorded at The Nashville Records Barn, Nashville. The eleven-song collection opened with the album title song, a Byrd/Jones collaboration. The ten other songs included five penned by Jones, four by Byrd and a cover of A. P. Carter's "Blue Eyes."

The duo first toured together in the Spring of 2007 and at that year's Kerrville festival they recorded the eleven song "Live At The 2007 Kerrville Folk Festival." "Radio Soul" was officially released in September 2007.

Separate solo career biographies of this duo can be found at Jonathan Byrd and Diana Jones.

Discography : "Live At The 2007 Kerrville Folk Festival" [2007] ; "Radio Soul" [2007] :

Arthur Wood

Kerrville Kronikles 07/07.

[130 words]