

Literature for Women

Recommended by the Woman's National Committee.
Address 180 Washington St., Chicago.

The Woman's National Committee of the Socialist party has prepared a series of twelve monthly programs upon the following subjects. These programs will appear each month in the Progressive Woman, the official organ of the Woman's National Committee. They are prepared for public entertainments, and their purpose is to educate men, women and children to an understanding of Socialism.

To secure these programs, and also the monthly reports of the Woman's National Committee, subscribe for THE PROGRESSIVE WOMAN, Girard, Kan. Price, 50 cents per year. In clubs of four, 25 cents.

Programs for 1911

- January—Universal Peace.
- February—Woman's Enfranchisement.
- March—Socialism and the Home.
- April—Woman's Relation to Socialism.
- May—Our Needs in Education.
- June Vacation Time.
- July—Social Diseases.
- August—Solidarity Among Working Women.
- September—Why We Have Outgrown the United States Constitution.
- October—Labor Legislation Affecting Women and Children.
- November—Progress of Socialism Among Women of Other Countries.
- December—Peace on Earth, Good Will to Men.

Distribution of Literature

To assist in this educational work, we have prepared a series of leaflets. These leaflets are for free distribution, not only at the public entertainments, but from house to house. Each month they are intended to appeal to a distinct portion of the working class women.

The last Friday in each month has been set as the special distributing day.

Lectures
ON American History

By JAMES ONEAL

A SERIES OF SEVEN LECTURES, TRACING THE RISE OF A RULING CLASS IN INDUSTRY &
GOVERNMENT IN THE UNITED STATES FROM THE SEVENTEENTH TO THE TWENTIETH CENTURY.

SYNOPSIS

THE Lectures embrace important facts either neglected or ignored in our popular histories. They show, that from the beginning of economic and political institutions in America, a ruling class has shaped them in accord with its material interests and with the view of keeping the wealth producing classes in subjection.

The first lecture is introductory to the remainder. Changes in the forms of government, party struggles, prevailing opinions of each age, wars—civil and revolutionary—and policies of governments are dictated by the interests of a ruling class, or the claims of another class, seeking power.

The second considers class rule in the colonies before the Revolution. The rise of great fortunes from land grants of the British Government, the white slaves—known as indentured servants and redemptioners, chattel slavery under the "Puritan Fathers," laws against labor organizations, exclusion of workers from political power, etc.

The third lecture shows the American Revolution prompted by the demand of the ruling classes to be free from the restrictive acts of the British Parliament, acts directed against Colonial commerce and manufactures. British factory lords sweating wealth out of their miserable laborers, saw in the American worker another source of wealth. Colonial capitalists wanted this source for themselves, hence a revolution in behalf of a government they could control.

The fourth lecture shows the slave drivers and wealthy classes controlling the Constitutional Convention, closing its doors to the outside world, making it a secret body, establishing a strong government in behalf of property, and monopolizing the fruits of victory, which the worker's blood and sacrifices made possible.

The fifth lecture is a historical review of the rise of slavery and the abolition movement, showing that the interests of a ruling class not only called it into existence, but, also, abolished it.

The sixth lecture reviews the important struggles of the workers during the Nineteenth Century, their achievements and failures.

The seventh lecture shows the causes for the present degeneracy of the governing class and the inefficiency of reform as a corrective agency.

A DETECTIVE

By

WILLIAM D. HAYWOOD

A detective is the lowest, meanest, most contemptible thing that either creeps or crawls, a thing to loathe and despise.

A detective has the soul of a craven, the heart of a hyena. He will barter the virtue of a pure woman or the character of an honest man. He will go into the labor unions, the political party, the fraternal society, the business house, the church. He will drag his slimy length into the sacred precincts of the family; there to create discord and cause unhappiness. He breeds and thrives on the troubles of his own making. He is a maggot of his own corruption.

That you may know how small a detective is, you can take a hair and punch the pith out of it and in the hollow hair you can put the hearts and souls of 40,000 detectives and they will still rattle. You can pour them out on the surface of your thumb nail and the skin of a gnat will make an umbrella for them.

When a detective dies he goes so low he has to climb up a ladder to get into hell, and he is not a welcome guest there. When his Santanic Majesty sees him coming, he says to his imps, "Go get a big bucket of pitch and a lot of sulphur, give them to that fellow and put him outside. Let him start a little hell of his own, we don't want him in here, starting trouble."

COMRADE JACK LONDON

Writes on Revolution in the International Socialist Review. He says:

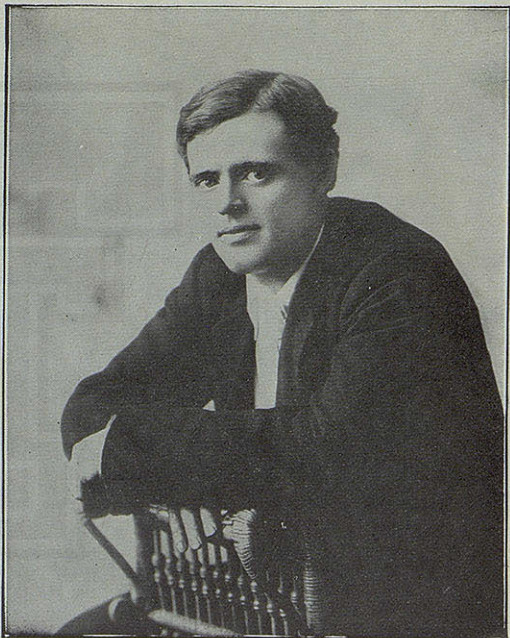

Here are 7,000,000 comrades in an organized, international, world-wide revolutionary movement. Here is a tremendous human force. It must be reckoned with. * * * The cry of this army is:

"No quarter! We want all that you possess. We will be content with nothing less than all that you possess. We want in our hands the reins of power and the destiny of mankind. Here are our hands. They are strong hands. We are going to take your governments, your palaces, and all your purpled ease away from you, and in that day you shall work for your bread even as the peasant in the field or the starved and runty clerk in your metropolises. Here are our hands. They are strong hands."

Revolution is now reprinted in booklet form at 5 cents, 60 copies for $1.00.

BUSINESS LAWS

Principals are responsible for the acts of their agents.

Contracts made on Sunday cannot be enforced. Written contracts concerning land must be under seal.

Notes do not bear interest unless it is so stated. If a note is lost or stolen, the maker is not released if the consideration and amount can be proved.

Demand notes are payable when presented, without grace, and bear legal interest after a demand, if not so written.

An endorser on a demand note can be held only for a limited time, variable in different states.

To be negotiable a note must either be made payable to bearer or be properly endorsed by the person to whose order it is made.

If the endorser desires to avoid responsibility, he can endorse "without recourse."

Notes becoming due on Sunday or a legal holiday are, as a rule, payable on the day following.

A note made on Sunday, or one dated ahead of its issue, is void, but it may be dated back.

If a note is altered in any way by the holder it becomes void.

A note made by a minor is void in some states and is voidable on judicial decision in others.

A contract with a minor or a lunatic is void.

If a note is not paid when due, the endorsers, if any, should be legally notified to be holden.

A note obtained by fraud or given by an intoxicated person cannot be collected.

It is a fraud to conceal a fraud.

Signatures with a lead pencil are good in law.

The acts of one partner bind the others.

Each individual in a partnership is responsible for all the debts of the firm except in the case of a special partnership.

The word "limited" in connection with firm names indicates a limitation of responsibility for each member.

An agreement without consideration of value is void.

"Value received" should be written in a note, but it is not necessary. When not written, it is presumed by law or may be shown by proof.

A consideration is not sufficient in law if it is illegal in its nature.

An endorser of a note is exempt from liability if not served with a notice of its dishonor within 24 hours of its non-payment.

If a letter containing notice of protest of non-payment be put into the Post Office, any miscarriage does not affect the party giving notice.

Notice of protest may be sent either to the place of business or residence of the party notified.

A receipt for money is not legally conclusive.

POINTS OF CONSTITUTIONAL LAW.

Congress must meet at least once a year.

Congress may admit as many new states as desired.

One state cannot undo the act of another.

By the Constitution every citizen is guaranteed a speedy trial by jury.

A power which is vested in Congress alone cannot be exercised by a State.

One State must respect the legal decisions and laws of another.

Congress cannot pass a law to punish for a crime already committed.

A person who commits a felony in one State cannot find refuge in another.

Bills for revenue can originate only in the House of Representatives, but the Senate may propose or concur with Amendments.

Treaties with foreign powers are made by the President and ratified by the Senate.

The territories each have a delegate to Congress who is allowed the privilege of debate, but not the right to vote.

The Vice-President, who ex-officio presides over the Senate has no vote in that body except in case a tie ballot.

If the President holds a bill longer than ten days while Congress is in session it becomes a law without his signature.

An act of Congress cannot become a law over the President's veto except on a two-thirds vote of both houses.

The House of Representatives may impeach the President for any crime, but the Senate has the sole power to try all impeachments.

An Officer of the United States Government is not permitted to accept any title of nobility, order of honor, except with the permission of Congress.

Amendments to the Constitution of the United States require a two-third vote of each House of Congress, and must be ratified by at least three-fourths of the States.

The President of the United States must be at least 35 years of age; a Senator, 30; a Congressman, 25; The President must have been a resident of the United States fourteen years.

A naturalized citizen is not eligible to the office of President of the United States. A male child born in a foreign land to American parents has an equal chance to become the President with one born on American soil.

The United States shall guarantee to every State a Republican form of government, and shall protect each of them against invasion, and on application of the Legislature or of the Executive (when the Legislature cannot be convened), against domestic trouble.

POSTAL INFORMATION

DOMESTIC POSTAGE.

First Class Matter.—LETTERS AND OTHER FIRST CLASS MATTER (except drop letters) two cents for each ounce or fraction.

DROP LETTERS—(addressed for local delivery by the Post Office at which they are mailed) one cent for each ounce or fraction.

POSTAL CARDS or POST CARDS—(private mailing cards) bearing written or typewritten messages will be subject to one cent postage.

POST CARDS—(private mailing cards) which are entirely in print will continue to be mailable for one cent each.

Second Class Matter.—All printed newspapers and periodicals that have been entered as second class matter. To the general public, the rate is one cent for four ounces or fraction thereof. No limit of weight is prescribed.

Third Class Matter.—Circulars, printed matter, proof sheets, etc. The rate is one cent for each two ounces or fraction thereof. The limit of weight is four pounds.

Fourth Class Matter.—(Parcel Post) merchandise, farm products, books, printed matter weighing more than four pounds, and all other mailable matter not included in the other three classes.

Parcels weighing four ounces or less are mailable at the rate of one cent for each ounce or fraction of an ounce, regardless of distance. Parcels weighing more than four ounces are mailable at the zone rate. A fraction of a lb. is considered a full lb.

ZONE RATES.

	1st lb. Each add. lb.
Local	.05
First (0-50 miles)	.05
Second (50-150 miles)	.05
Third (150-300 miles)	.06

INTEREST CALCULATIONS

RULE—Multiply the principal by as many one hundredths as there are days, and then divide as follows:
 Per cent 5 6 7 8 9 10 12
 Divide by 4 72 60 52 45 36 30

EXAMPLES—Interest on \$100, for 90 days at 5 per cent.: $100 \times 90 = 9000$ divided by $72 = 1.25$ (one dollar and 25 cents); on \$1, for 30 days at 6 per cent.: $1 \times 30 = 30$ divided by $60 = .005$ (5 mills).

EXAMPLE—How many days from May 5th to October 5th? Look for May at left hand and October at the top, in the angle is 153. In leap year add one day if February is included.

FOR CLEANING VARIOUS SUBSTANCES.

ALABASTER.—Use strong soap and water.

BLACK SILK.—Brush and wipe it thoroughly, lay on table with the side intended to show, up; sponge with hot coffee strained through muslin; when partly dry, iron.

TO REMOVE STAINS or GREASE FROM OIL PAINT.—Use bisulphide of carbon, spirits of turpentine, or if it is dry and old, use chloroform. These and tar spots can be softened with olive oil and lard.

STAINS, IRON RUST, or INK FROM VELUM or PARCHMENT.—Moisten the spot with a solution of oxalic acid. Absorb same quickly by blotting paper or cloth.

RUST FROM STEEL.—Take half ounce of emery powder mixed with one ounce of soap and rub well.

FRUIT SPOTS FROM COTTONS.—Apply cold soap, then touch the spot with a hair pencil or feather dipped in chlorate of soda, then dip immediately in cold water.

GREASE FROM SILKS.—Take a lump of magnesia, rub it wet on the spot, let it dry, then brush the powder off.

IRON RUST may be removed from white goods by sour milk.

SCORCH STAINS FROM WHITE LINEN.—Lay in bright sun.

MILDEW.—Moisten the spot with clean water; rub on it a thick coating of castile soap mixed with chalk scrapings; rub with end of finger, then wash off.

OIL MARKS ON WALL PAPER.—Apply paste of cold water and pipe clay, leave it on all night, brush off in the morning.

PAINT SPOT FROM CLOTHING.—Saturate with equal parts turpentine and spirits of ammonia.

TO CLEANSE HOUSE PAPER.—Rub a flannel cloth dipped in oatmeal.

BLACK CLOTH.—Mix one part of spirits of ammonia with three parts warm water, rub with sponge or dark cloth, clean with water, rub with the nap.

FURNITURE FOR FINGER MARKS.—Rub with a soft rag and sweet oil.

CHROMOS.—Go over lightly with a damp linen cloth.

ZINC.—Rub with a piece of cotton cloth dipped in kerosene, afterwards with a dry cloth.

HANDS FROM VEGETABLE STAINS.—Rub with a slice of raw potato.

WINDOW GLASS.—Paint can be removed by a strong solution of soda.

TO CLEAN TINWARE.—Common soda applied with a moistened newspaper and polished with a dry piece, will make it look like new.

USEFUL INFORMATION.

To find diameter of a circle multiply circumference by .31831.
 To find circumference of a circle multiply diameter by 3.1416.
 To find area of a circle multiply square of diameter by .7854.
 To find surface of a ball multiply square of diameter by 3.1416.
 To find side of an equal square multiply diameter by .8862.
 To find cubic inches in a ball multiply cube of diameter by .5236.
 Doubling the diameter of a pipe increases its capacity four times.
 Double riveting is from 16 to 20 per cent. stronger than single.
 One cubic foot of anthracite coal weighs about 53 pounds.
 One cubic foot of bituminous coal weighs from 47 to 50 pounds.
 One ton of coal is equivalent to two cords of wood for steam purposes.
 A gallon of water (U. S. Standard) weighs 8 1/4 lbs. and contains 231 cubic inches.
 There are nine square feet of heating surface to each square foot of grate surface.
 A cubic foot of water contains 7 1/2 gallons 1728 cubic inches, and weighs 62 1/2 lbs.
 Each nominal horse power of a boiler requires 80 to 95 lbs. of water per hour.
 To sharpen drill files lay them in dilute sulphuric acid until they are eaten deep enough.
 A horse power is equivalent to raising 33,000 lbs. one foot per minute, or 550 lbs. one foot per second.
 The average consumption of coal for steam boilers is 12 lbs. per hour for each square foot of grate surface.
 To find the pressure in pounds per square inch of a column of water, multiply the height of the column in feet by 2.34.
 Steam rising from water at its boiling point (212 degrees) has a pressure equal to the atmosphere (14.7 lbs. to the square inch).
 To evaporate one cubic foot of water requires the consumption of 7 1/2 lbs. of ordinary coal, or about 1 lb. of coal to 1 gallon of water.
 One sixth of tensile strength of plate multiplied by thickness of plate and divided by one-half the diameter of boiler gives safe working pressure for tubular boilers. For marine boilers add 20 per cent. for drilled holes.
 One-half the diameter of boiler gives safe working pressure for tubular boilers. For marine boilers add 20 per cent. for drilled holes.
 No plate or bars of either Steel or Iron should be worked at a black or blue heat (say about 500°); the material will stand far more strain whether red hot or cold, while at an intermediate point great risks will be run, and possibly strains produced which result in rupture later on.

USEFUL INFORMATION FOR CONTRACTORS.

One thousand shingles, laid four inch to the weather, will cover one hundred square feet of surface and five lbs. of shingle nails will fasten them on.

One-fifth more siding and flooring is needed than the number of square feet of surface to be covered because of the lap in siding and flooring.

One thousand laths will cover 70 yards of surface and 11 pounds of lath nails will nail them on.

Eight bushels of good lime, sixteen bushels of sand and one bushel of hair will make enough good mortar to plaster 100 square yards.

One cord of stone, three bushels of lime and a cubic yard of sand will lay 100 cubic feet of wall.

Cement one bushel, and sand two bushels, will cover 3 1/2 square yards, one inch thick; 4 1/2 square yards 3/4 inch thick, and 6 1/2 square yards 1/2 inch thick.

One bushel of cement and one bushel of sand will cover 2 1/2 square yards one inch thick; 3 square yards 3/4 inch thick, and 4 1/2 square yards 1/2 inch thick.

AMOUNT OF PAINT REQUIRED FOR A GIVEN SURFACE.

It is impossible to give a rule that will apply in all cases, as the amount varies with the kind and the thickness of the paint, the kind of wood, or other material to which it is applied, the age of the surface, etc. The following is an approximate rule: Divide the number of square feet of surface by 200. The result will be the number of gallons of liquid paint required to give two coats, or divide by 18 and the result will be the number of pounds of pure ground white lead required to give three coats.

ROOF ELEVATIONS.

By the "pitch" of a roof is meant the relation which the height of the ridge above the level of the roof plates bears to the span, or the distance between the studs on which the roof rests.

The length of rafters for the most common pitches can be found as follows from any given span:

If 1/4 pitch,	multiply span by .559 or 7-12 nearly.
If 1/3 "	" " " " " 6 " 3-5 "
If 1/2 "	" " " " " .625 " 5-8 "
If 2/3 "	" " " " " .71 " 7-10 "
If 3/4 "	" " " " " .8 " 4-5 "
If full "	" " " " " 1-12 " 1-18 "

To length thus obtained must be added amount of projections of rafters at the eaves.

As rafters must be purchased of even lengths, a few inches more or less on their length will make a difference to the pitch so slight that it cannot be detected by the eye.

Example—To determine the length of rafters for a roof constructed one-half pitch, with a span of 24 ft.— $24 \times .71 = 17.04$; or practically, just 17 feet. A projection of one foot for eaves makes the length to be purchased 18 feet.

HOW TO PREVENT FIRES.

It is an old maxim that fire is a good servant but a hard master.

Shakespeare wrote: "A little fire is quickly trodden out; which, being suffered, rivers cannot quench."

Fires are the result of accident, of spontaneous combustion, and of design. If they have been accidental the cause can generally be discovered, and it will be found they might have been prevented.

If the following precautions are taken, fires from accident or spontaneous combustion will seldom occur:

Keep your house, store, or factory clean.

NEVER allow rubbish, such as paper, rags, cobwebs, old clothing, boxes, etc., to accumulate in closets and unused rooms.

NEVER fill your coal oil lamps after dark or near an open fire.

NEVER run your stove pipes through a wooden partition or through the roof without proper protection.

NEVER allow your furnace, steam or hot water pipes to come in contact with wood.

NEVER put up gas brackets so they can be swung against the wooden window casings, or against, or immediately under curtains.

NEVER put ashes in a wooden receptacle in or about your premises.

NEVER keep matches in any but metal or earthen safes, and when you light one never throw it on the floor.

NEVER allow smoking, in proximity to inflammable merchandise or materials.

NEVER take an open light to examine a gas meter or into a closet.

NEVER read in bed by candle or lamp light.

NEVER close up your place of business before going over the entire premises to see that all fires and lights are safe or extinguished.

NEVER forget that carelessness and negligence are the cause of over two-thirds of all fires.

NEVER forget to have pails or buckets and water near at hand for immediate use in case of emergency.

Familiarize yourself with the location of windows and natural escape.

Learn the position of all stairways, particularly the top landing and scuttle to the roof.

Keep the doors of rooms shut.

Open windows from the top.

Wet a towel, stuff it in the mouth, breathe through it instead of nose, so as not to inhale smoke.

If room fills with smoke keep close to floor and crawl along by the walls to the window.

NEVER go to the roof, unless as a last resort and you know there is escape to adjoining buildings.

NEVER jump through flames in a building without covering the head with a blanket or heavy clothing.

NEVER get excited, try to recall the means of exit.

Use only safety matches which light on the box.

Galvanic battery spark lighters are much better than matches for lighting gas.

Provide metal waste cans (street ash cans are excellent) for stove ashes, refuse floor sweepings, etc.

Where oily waste and oily rags are used, provide self-closing metal waste cans therefor.

When gasoline, benzine, naphtha or other volatile oils are kept or used, keep same in an approved safety can.

There is no better known inexpensive fire protection than an abundance of fire buckets, kept filled with water, to be used ONLY in case of FIRE, except where oils or paints are used, or stored, or in any case of an oil or grease FIRE, fire buckets filled with sand will smother the fire where water would only spread it.

Buckets are to be painted red and marked "FIRE" with letters not less than 2 inches in height, kept full of clean water, and inspected once a week.

Wooden buckets are not recommended.

Approved chemical fire extinguishers may replace one-half the number of pails on each floor, on the basis of one approved two and one-half gallon extinguisher for six pails.

A FIRE DRILL of frequent occurrence is of the greatest possible value in preventing loss of life by fire.

Emphasize the importance to employees in event of fire of NOT STOPPING TO GET THEIR COATS AND HATS.

Approved Automatic Sprinklers, with watchman and clock service, or automatic signal to Fire Department Headquarters, or sprinkler supervisory service, are the very best known protection to property. The fire waste is appreciably reduced thereby; the insurance companies grant liberal reductions in rates therefor, and "a thousand eyes watch over your property."

INSURANCE.

Provide yourself with fire insurance of a volume sufficient to cover any possible loss, in companies approved of by the Insurance Department of the State in which property to be insured is located.

See the written, typewritten or printed forms, privileges, or stipulations attached to all policies covering on the same property read exactly alike.

Copies of several successive inventories are of great help as corroborative evidence and two successive accurate inventories are invaluable in the adjustment of a loss. Keep same in some other place than where the property insured is located. The next best place would be a dependable fire-proof safe.

As stock increases increase insurance in proportion, being careful to have same concurrent with all other policies covering your property.

If an average clause or coinsurance clause is a part of the policy contract do this:

INSURANCE (continued)

If 80 per cent., carry not less than $8.00 insurance on each $10.00 of value.

If 100 per cent., carry not less than $10.00 insurance on each $10.00 of value.

In the instance of the 80 per cent. clause it does not mean that you collect only 80 per cent. of the loss, but having complied with the conditions of these coinsurance clauses, the companies are liable for any loss large or small to the amount of the policies notwithstanding these clauses.

REMEMBER—Without the written consent of the company insuring your property, endorsed on the policies, YOUR POLICY IS VOID:

If you should move to another location.

If you place a chattel mortgage on your personal property.

If your insurance is written in more than one company, unless permission to carry other insurance is endorsed on each and every policy.

If you are a manufacturer and your factory is operated later than 10 o'clock P. M.; or,

If you cease to operate it for more than ten consecutive days.

If the hazard in your premises is increased by any means within your control or knowledge.

If mechanics are employed in your premises in altering or repairing for more than 15 days at any one time.

If your interest be other than unconditional and sole ownership.

If the subject of insurance be a building on ground not owned by the insured in fee simple.

If, with the knowledge of the insured, foreclosure proceedings be commenced, or notice, given of sale of any property covered by the policy, by virtue of any mortgage or trust deed.

If any change, other than by the death of an insured, takes place in the interest, title, or possession of the subject of insurance (except change of occupants without increase of hazard) whether by legal process or judgment or by voluntary act of the insured, or otherwise.

If the policy be assigned before a loss.

If illuminating gas or vapor be generated in the described building (or adjacent thereto) for use therein.

If (any usage or custom of trade or manufacture to the contrary notwithstanding) there be kept, used or allowed on the above-described premises, benzine, benzole, dynamite, ether, fireworks, gasoline, greek fire, gunpowder exceeding twenty-five pounds in quantity, naphtha, nitroglycerine or other explosives, phosphorus or petroleum, or any of its products of greater inflammability than kerosene oil of the United States standard (which last may be used for lights and kept for sale according to law but in quantities not exceeding five barrels, provided it be drawn and lamps filled by daylight or at a distance not less than ten feet from artificial light).

FIRST AID TO THE INJURED.

Extracts from instructions "For First Aid To Injured."

A SHOCK—If faint and cold, give stimulant in small doses, once in fifteen or twenty minutes and secure warmth by external applications or rubbing.

BLEEDING FROM WOUND—If from an artery, stop the current of blood to the wound by putting a compress or cloth pad over the artery. Fasten it firmly by a handkerchief or bandage, which may be tightened by twisting in a stick as a binder. The location of the artery can generally be determined by the throbbing sensation. If from a vein, apply pressure directly over the wound or by exposure or application of cold water, Perchlorid of Iron may be applied with cloth or lint. Keep the part elevated.

WOUNDS—The part should be properly cleansed of all foreign matter, the edges brought together and fastened with strips of plaster; apply anodyne solution, give stimulant, laudanum with brandy, if necessary.

BRUISES—Apply tincture of arnica and worm wood or hamamelis; keep well covered and warm.

POISONED WOUNDS—From bite of animals—treatment should be prompt. If possible, suck the wound thoroughly two or three minutes; cauterize with either nitric acid, chloride of zinc or nitrate of silver, use whiskey freely internally.

STING OF INSECTS—Apply spirits of ammonia.

POISONS—General Directions—Give an emetic as soon as possible; tablespoonful of powdered mustard in a tumbler of warm water, or twenty grains of ipecac, after vomiting, give freely of warm drinks.

Special Directions, in case of poisoning from Arsenic, Corrosive Sublimate, Verdigris, Blue Vitrol and from Vegetables kept in copper vessels—Give emetic and white of egg, sweet oil and milk.

ANTIDOTES FOR POISONS.

First.—Send for a physician.

Second.—Induce vomiting, by tickling throat with feather or finger; drinking hot water or strong mustard and water, swallow sweet oil or whites of eggs.

Acids are antidotes for Alkalies, and vice versa.

SPECIAL POISONS AND ANTIDOTES.

Acids.—Muritic, Oxalic, Acetic, Sulphuric (Oil of Vitriol), Nitric (Aqua Fortis).	{ Soap-suds, magnesia, lime water.
Prussic Acid.	{ Ammonia in water. Dash water in face.
Carbolic Acid.	{ Flour and water, mucilaginous drinks.
Alkalies.—Potash, Lye, Hartshorn, Ammonia.	{ Vinegar or lemon juice in water.
Arsenic.—Rat Poison, Paris Green.	{ Milk, raw eggs, sweet oil, lime-water, flour and water.
Bug Poison.—Lead, Saltpetre, Corrosive Sublimate, Sugar of Lead, Blue Vitriol.	{ Whites of eggs, or milk in large doses.
Chloroform.—Chloral. Ether.	{ Dash cold water on head and chest. Artificial respiration.
Carbonate of Soda. Copperas, Cobalt.	{ Soap-suds and mucilaginous drinks.
Iodine.—Antimony. Tartar Emetic	{ Starch and water asstringent infusions. Strong tea.
Mercury and its Salts.	{ Whites of eggs, milk, mucilages.
Opium.—Morphine, Laudanum, Paregoric, Soothing Powders or Syrups.	{ Strong coffee, hot, bath. Keep awake and moving at any cost.

Calculating Speed of Pulleys

I.—The diameter of the driver and driven being given, to find the number of revolutions of the driven.

Rule—Multiply the diameter of the driver by its number of revolutions, and divide the product by the diameter of the driven; the quotient will be the number of revolutions.

II.—The diameter and the revolutions of the driver being given to find the diameter of the driven, that shall make any given number of revolutions in the same time.

Rule—Multiply the diameter of the driver by its number of revolutions, and divide the product by the number of revolutions of the driven; the quotient will be its diameter.

III.—To ascertain the size of the driver.

Rule—Multiply the diameter of the driven by the number of revolutions you wish to make, and divide the product by the revolutions of the driver; the quotient will be the size of the driver.

BELTS.

Leather belts must be well protected against water and even moisture.

India Rubber is the proper substance for belts exposed to the weather, as it does not absorb moisture, and stretch and decay.

It is desirable to run the grain (hair) side of leather belts on the pulley in order that the strongest part of the belt may be subject to the least wear.

Leather belts run with grain side to the pulley will drive 30 per cent. more than if run with flesh side. The belt, as well as the pulley, adheres best when smooth, and the grain side adheres best because it is smoothest.

The transmitting power of a double belt is to that of single belt as 10 is to 7. In ordering pulleys, the kind of belt to be used should always be specified.

Belts should be kept soft and pliable. For this purpose blood-warm tallow, dried in by heat of fire or the sun, is advised. Castor-Oil dressing is also good.

The motion of driving should run with and not against the laps of the belts.

If too great a distance is attempted, the weight of the belt will produce a very heavy sag, drawing so hard on the shaft as to produce great friction in the bearings, while at the same time the belt will have an unsteady, flapping motion, which will destroy both the belt and machinery.

If possible to avoid it, connected shafts should never be placed one directly over the other, as in such case the belt must be kept very tight to do the work. For this purpose belts should be carefully selected of well stretched leather.

It is desirable that the angle of the belt with the floor should not exceed 45°. It is also desirable to locate the shafting and machinery so that belts should run off from each shaft in opposite directions, as this arrangement will relieve the bearings from the friction that would result when the belts all pull one way on the shaft.

The diameter of the pulleys should be as large as can be admitted.

The pulley should be a little wider than the belt required for the work.

Having properly arranged the machinery for the reception of the belts, the next thing to be determined is the length and width of the belts.

When it is not convenient to measure with the tape-line the length required, apply the following rule:—Add the diameter of the two pulleys together, divide the result by 2, and multiply the quotient by $3\frac{1}{4}$, then add this product to twice the distance between the centers of the shafts, and you have the length required.

The width of belt needed depends on three conditions:—1st. The tension of the belt. 2nd. The size of the smaller pulley, and the proportion of the surface touched by the belt. 3rd. The speed of the belt.

The working adhesion of the belt to the pulley will be in proportion both to the number of square inches of belt contact with the surface of the pulley and also to the arc of the circumference of the pulley touched by the belt. This adhesion forms the basis of all right calculation in ascertaining the width of belt necessary to transmit a given horse power.

STRENGTH OF BELT LEATHER.

The tensile strength of good ox-hide, well-tanned, has been carefully examined, with the following results:—

The solid leather will sustain, per ins. of width, 675 lbs.

At the rivet-holes of the splices, per ins. of width, 332 lbs.

At the lacing, per ins. of width, 210 lbs.

Safe working tension, per ins. of width, 55 lbs.

The belts are assumed to be three-sixteenths of an inch thick.

SHRINKAGE OF CASTINGS.

Pattern-maker's rule should be for	Cast-Iron,	$\frac{1}{8}$
" " " " " "	Brass,	$\frac{3}{16}$
" " " " " "	Lead,	$\frac{1}{8}$
" " " " " "	Tin,	$\frac{1}{12}$
" " " " " "	Zinc,	$\frac{3}{16}$

PAINTER, GLAZIER and PAPER HANGER

One pound of paint will cover about four superficial yards the first coat, and about six yards each additional coat.

About one pound of putty for stopping, will be required for every twenty yards.

One gallon of tar and one pound of pitch will cover about twelve yards superficial the first coat, and about seventeen yards each additional coat.

EXPLANATION OF STORM AND HURRICANE WARNINGS.

Storm Warning.—A red flag with a black center indicates that a storm of marked violence is expected.

The pennants displayed with the flags indicate the direction of the wind; red, easterly (from northeast to south); white, westerly (from southwest to north). The pennant above the flag indicates that the wind is expected to blow from the northerly quadrants; below, from the southerly quadrants.

By night a red light indicates easterly winds, and a white light above a red light, westerly winds.

Hurricane Warning.—Two red flags with black centers, displayed one above the other, indicate the expected approach of a tropical hurricane, or one of those extremely severe and dangerous storms which occasionally move across the Lakes and northern Atlantic coast.

No night hurricane warnings are displayed.

^aThe Democratic party of to-day claims lineal descent from the first Republican Party, and President Jefferson as its founder.

^bPolitical parties were disorganized at the time of the election of John Quincy Adams. He claimed to be a Republican, but his doctrines were decidedly Federalistic. The opposition of his administration took the name of Democrats and elected Jackson President.

THE PRESIDENTIAL SUCCESSION

In case of the removal, death, resignation or inability of both the President and Vice-President, then the Secretary of State shall act as President until the disability of the President or Vice-President is removed or a President is elected. If there be no Secretary of State, then the Secretary of the Treasury will act, and the remainder of the order of succession is: The Secretary of War, Attorney-General, Postmaster General, Secretary of the Navy, Secretary of the Interior, Secretary of Commerce, Secretary of Agriculture and Secretary of Labor.

November 11. Armistice Day: In all the States.

December 25. Christmas Day: In all the States and D. of C.

There are no statutory holidays in Miss., but by common consent the Fourth of July, Thanksgiving and Christmas are observed.

Arbor Day is a legal holiday in many States, although in some it is observed as designated by the Governor.

There is no national holiday, not even the Fourth of July. Congress has at various times appointed special holidays. In the second session of the 53d Congress, it passed an act making Labor Day a public holiday in the D. of C., and it has recognized the existence of certain days as holidays, for commercial purposes, but, with the exception named, there is no general statute on the subject. The proclamation of the President designating a day of Thanksgiving only makes it a legal holiday in the D. of C.

Gasoline at 3c a Gallon!

Mr. Tom Hickey,
Desdemora,
Texas.

—That's Just What Miracle Motor-Gas Means

MR. MOTORIST:

MIRACLE MOTOR-GAS will positively increase mileage from 15% to 40%. THIS WE GUARANTEE. It will also eliminate all trace of carbon. It means "Good-bye Carbon Troubles."

MIRACLE MOTOR-GAS is manufactured in tablet form, 100 tablets to the package. You simply drop one tablet into the gasoline tank for each gallon of gasoline. 100 tablets—one package—will charge 100 gallons of gasoline.

While MIRACLE MOTOR-GAS in actual test has increased mileage up to 50%, think what it would mean for you to get 33-1/3% more mileage. It means that 100 gallons of gasoline, plus 100 MIRACLE MOTOR-GAS tablets, would equal 133 gallons of gasoline, at a cost of only $1.00, or 3-1/3¢ per gallon, for the additional 33 gallons.

Understand -- we absolutely guarantee this. Order a package of MIRACLE MOTOR-GAS, with this guarantee: After using half the package according to directions, if it does not increase mileage from 15% to 40% -- and eliminate and prevent carbon -- return the unused portion of the package and we will promptly refund your money.

Read the inside pages of this circular -- then mail your order.

Very truly yours,

Dr. A. J. Adams

SPOONER'S NEW COLLEAGUE, ROBERT M. LA FOLLETTE, A SENATOR OF, FOR AND BY, THE PEOPLE

It was five hundred dollars fine or a prison or both. Said Beck in the on his measure on June 22d,

Will any gentleman insist that any man the attorney of any railroad, any man retained in any way by any of these when these great questions involving fifty or a hundred millions to the ordered peoples of this country come up for consideration, shall advocate the interests of a railroad whose money in the shape of re- or fees he has in his pocket, keeping it concealed, professing all the time he is acting and arguing in the interests of the United States?"

Spencer, Allison, Cullom and Frye, all able defenders of "the interests" then, however, opposed the bill. An attempt was made to refer it to the judiciary committee, but it could be quietly done to death. Beck was in earnest and forced a vote, but the Senate dared not refuse to pass it. —one day, when the public scandal had run down, a motion to reconsider was suddenly sprung; and though Beck fought bravely the motion passed, to be followed by a motion to refer the bill to the judiciary committee, which also passed. The bill never heard of again. But "the interests" profited by the warning of the scandal. Their senators do only senatorial nowadays—in public.

Spencer loses his Seat

In 1890 the people of Wisconsin revolted against the shameless corruption and robbery and under the auspices of the Republican branch of the merged political machine; they flung it out and put in the Democratic branch. It was one of those not amusing farces which the Americans have been enacting in national, state and local politics for a quarter of a century. Spooner was ejected from the seat, and William F. Vilas, wearing a Democratic label, took his place and assumed his "duties." And "the interests" whose service Vilas was an old and efficient employee, had no cause to complain.

people, and that the Democratic should be relegated again to the minor supplementary place in the service of the master of machines, "the interests." It is hardly necessary to quote any of Spooner's speeches. Like all the speeches of secret traitors to country and people, these men who are so directly responsible for the upping of huge, ill-gotten fortunes and for the increase of poverty and suffering of labor and of the vast armies of unemployed children, Spooner's speeches abound in virtue, piety, and patriotism. Let us take a few typical instances of Spooner's destructive and constitutional state "ship" for right, people and country by a distinguished private citizen and leader.

Henry Villard's wrecking of the Northern Pacific was exposed by the stockholders' committee in its scathing report of February 18, 1893. On August 15th of that year three receivers were appointed, the chief of them Henry C. Payne, Spooner's "friend" in politics after the death of Villard, and a corrupt boss and boddler who had recently rescued from final crowning exposure and disgrace. Payne was boss of the Wisconsin machine, "next friend" Spooner of the receivers. He began to cut wages on the plea that the road was in bad financial condition.

He made a second huge cut which reduced wages along the line from fifteen to thirty per cent below the market rate, the employees of the road asked for a conference with the receivers. The receivers assented. On the eve of it, Spooner and his associate, McKim, got Judge Jenkins—one of our "inter-selected," Senate-recommended, and Senate-confirmed, federal judges—to issue an injunction which prohibited the men from combining or conspiring to quit, without notice—that is, an injunction bidding twelve thousand American free citizens of statesman and patriot Spooner under any circumstances to quit. Jenkins followed this up with a second

So. H. McKim
Dear Comrade: We are circulating a form for Comrade James Creal of Indiana, National Lecturer and organizer for the Socialist Party
Comrade Creal has filed with credit the positions of State Secretary and State Organizer of Indiana and Assistant National Secretary.
Will you accept and arrange an engagement for him to speak in your locality some time from now to eight weeks hence, the date to be decided by this office? The terms requested are that you pay him $5.00 per day, and as it better that much or more to pay railroad fare and other traveling expenses it is also requested that he be taken to and from train free of cost to him, furnished meals and lodging while there, allowed profits on sales of literature at meetings, and that attention be taken at meetings and turned over to him in addition to the fee of $3.00.
Kindly send response. As this letter to reach this office by return mail starting at official railway station you will meet him and from many days you will engage him, thereby enabling us to arrange the tour.

Sincerely yours,
W. J. Doolittle Dec 8.00

Speaking of Holiday Greetings - this one has just blown in and I am passing it on to you.

TWENTY YEARS AGO - I REMEMBER

Eggs were ten cents a dozen; milk was five cents a quart; the butcher gave the liver away; the hired girl received a dollar a week and did the washin'. Women did not powder and paint (in public), play poker or shake the shimie, and they were taught to cook at the age of three.

Men wore whiskers and boots; chewed tobacco spit on the sidewalks; and cussed. Laborers worked ten hours a day and never went on strike.
No tips were given to waiters and the Hat-Check-
Grafter was unknown.

No one was ever operated on for appendicitis;
tonsils were not cut out; microbes were unheard of; folks lived to a good old age, and every year walked miles to wish their friends a

THE O'HARE CASE.

The O'Hare Family.

Kate Richards O'Hare is the mother of four children. Three boys, the oldest fourteen, twin brothers age ten, and one girl twelve years of age.

Comrade O'Hare was convicted for making a speech at Bowman, N. D., July 17, 1917. The drastic sentence of five years in prison not only violates the constitutional right of free speech but strikes at the most sacred thing in life—motherhood. If the sentence is carried out, a twelve year old girl will be robbed of a mother's care and three boys will be left motherless to face the dangers of life alone.

Out of the hundreds who have fallen under the ban of the Espionage law, three commanding figures stand out in broad relief: Eugene V. Debs, Kate Richards O'Hare and Rose Pastor Stokes. Not that these are the only prominent ones, but only that they serve best the purpose of illustration at this time.

Debs and O'Hare were convicted for speeches, Stokes for writing a letter to the Kansas City Star. Debs and Stokes received sentences of ten years; O'Hare five. The speeches for which Debs and O'Hare were convicted could have been delivered prior to June 15, 1917 and nothing could have been done. But after June 15th, it was different. That which was legal on June 14th had been made illegal on June 15th. What was made illegal? The right to speak and write freely is what the espionage law has made unlawful.

Murder, theft and extortion are as old as history. Men have been convicted and sentenced for these crimes in every age. Often men found guilty of manslaughter are sentenced for as low as two, five or eight years. Murderers often escape with light sentences. But under the espionage law men and women are given five, ten, fifteen and twenty years for the awful crime of expressing an opinion. Once convicted they are shorn of their civil rights and cast into prison on the same plane with thieves, robbers, prostitutes and murderers.

The Socialist Party will use every legal means to secure the release of those imprisoned and to prevent the imprisonment of those still out on bail. A nation wide campaign for political amnesty is being organized. All cases are being appealed to the highest courts. To carry this work on successfully we must have funds. The last step that can be taken in the O'Hare case to save her from prison is to appeal her case to the Supreme Court. Shall the mother be taken from the children? Will you help to finance her appeal and the campaign for amnesty for political prisoners?

Send all communications and make all money payable to Oliver C. Wilson, Defense Director, Room 405, 803 West Madison Street, Chicago, Ill.
