Division Is Approved

Arts and sciences division of Texas Technological college has been placed on the approved list of American Colleges and Universities by the educational department of the State of New York, according to notice received this month by President Clifford B. Jones.

Approval, granted by the accrediting agency of the University of the State of New York at Albany, provides that law students and graduates in other professional divisions may now practice in that state without the usual five years of probationary practice in Texas.

Another "Homecoming" is being planned by the Texas Technological college Alumni and Ex-Students association in the form of a banquet at the men's dormitory on the campus, May 31 beginning at 7 o'clock.

The menu and decorations committee is composed of Mrs. King, Mrs. Mart G. Pederson and the president of the Council of Women Graduates, Mrs. J. G. Keys.

Congratulations Are Offered To 1941 Seniors And Grads; The Association Wants Your Future Cooperation

Seniors, the Texas Tech Magazine and the Alumni and Ex-Students association want to add one more wish for success to the many congratulations and well-wishes you have had and will have before you complete your graduation.

Somehow this class seems to be different because we know that you are not going away just to find your place in the industrial world, the business world or the homemaking world but facing a problem that every generation has—WAR. The men among the graduates, many of them, will join the air forces, the intelligence service, or "the walking army." The women among you will join the forces of nurses who are training in the emergency and many of you will do other defense work. Still more of you will remain at home, do your jobs, and wait for something to happen.

Whatever your call, wherever you are we feel that this class of graduating men and women will do well because in the four years we have watched you you have done what we expected and more too.

Distance and time do not mean much among friends. We want to keep in touch with you, so let us know from time to time where you are and what you are doing. That is the purpose of this magazine—to keep the ex-students and graduates together.

Again let us wish you all the luck in the world and the most happiness ever.

The Texas Technological college Alumni and Ex-Students association is supported solely through the efforts and cooperation of those who have gone from the school. There are 420 graduating seniors among you and each one should help to support your association. There are many ways to do this. The first step is to join the association through the office of the alumni secretary and receive the magazine. The second step is to attend the homecoming, the get-togethers held on the campus each year for the returning alumni and ex-students. Form Tech clubs in the towns or the counties where you are to be situated. Keep up with what the college is doing and the progress they are making. If you want to see Tech one of the finest schools in the state or in the nation then do your part to make it such.

Dean James M. Gordon of Texas Tech

With thirty-two years continuous service in an executive capacity, either as dean or president, in colleges and universities, Dr. J. M. Gordon, dean of arts and sciences at Texas Technological College, is probably dean of deans in Texas. Beginning as dean of Trinity University in 1908, he held that post until 1916 when he became president of East Central State Normal College, Ada, Oklahoma. In 1920 he gave up that position to become president of the University of Tulsa. In 1924-25 he took a leave of absence to take work in Columbia University.

He came to Texas Technological College in 1925 where he has served continuously until the present time. One of his many duties in Tech has been chairman of the summer school committee, work which he thoroughly enjoys and is enthusiastic about. He has seen the college summer term develop to its present rank with regular term work, from the old summer normal which had for its purpose the training of teachers to take state examinations for certificates. No college credit was given for such study.

Dean Gordon attended his first summer normal at Polytechnic in Fort Worth in 1895. Board and room cost $10.00 per month and he rode the old mule-drawn street car out to the school. Sometimes, he said, in going up hill it was necessary to get out and push. Neither he nor his roommate had ever talked over the telephone and called the other up "Just to see how it worked." In defense of the dean's years it should be said that in 1895 when attending Polytechnic he was a youthful prodigy. He is still vigorous and looking on the bright side of things.

After securing a second-grade certificate he got a school at Mesquite, Hill County, at $50.00 per month. House rent, including wood and pasture for horse and cow, cost him $4.00 per month. He was raised to $55.00 the second year. His next school was at Bunyan in the same county. He lost this job at the end of the year because he whipped the son of the president of the board of trustees.

Dean Gordon has seen the summer school at Tech grow from 336 students in 1926 to an attendance of 2,000 and 206 graduates in 1940. From the first he expected Tech to be a great school, but he says its growth has surpassed his greatest dreams. In addition to his strenuous school duties Dean Gordon finds time to be an active Rotarian, Mason, and member of the Presbyterian Church. He is moderator of the Synod of Texas of the U. S.

Varied Recreation Program Can Be Enjoyed Here

Picture shows, musical concerts, dramatic productions, and entertainers on the "Green", and dances, new and old-fashioned, will make up the recreation program four nights each week at Texas Tech this summer.

A fine selection of films and the purchase of a newer projector promise even better motion picture shows than ever. The old-fashioned dances, to be held on the cement tennis courts, are a new feature of the program this summer.

Summer school students purchasing the recreation ticket will be admitted at reduced prices at the City swimming pool, Buffalo Springs, local motion picture shows, Broadview Golf Course, and Wicker Roller rink.

Awards will be made to the winners in the tennis and golf tournaments.

Dr. Mahoney, who was one of the three Aggie teachers in 1925 when Tech opened, and his wife were also present. He is professor of horticulture at the University of Maryland.

The business meeting included a report by Sam Womack of the Tech Atlantic Seaboard group of Engineers which was held in this city, March 1. The following officers were elected for the coming year:

Service Is Held

At the tenth annual recognition service Tuesday afternoon, May 13, 211 outstanding women on Texas Tech campus were honored. Parents of those recognized, faculty members, students and friends attended the service on the green south of the Administration building.

Awards were made for high scholastic average and for participation in worthwhile campus organizations while maintaining satisfactory grades. Dean Mary W. Doak was in charge of plans.

In 1937, 120 women students were honored, and in 1938, 140. One hundred and forty-nine women were judged outstanding in 1939, and last year 166 girls were recognized. This year's 211 outstanding women students represent approximately 14 per cent of those enrolled.

Miss Fern Newton and J. C. Mommssen, both of Lubbock, were united in marriage May 11 in Clovis, N. M. Mrs. Mommssen is a former student of Tech.

The wedding of Miss Mary Elizabeth Bickley and Arthur Earl Gamble is to take place June 11 at the First Methodist church in Clovis, N. M., the home of the bride-elect. Both are former students of Tech.

Texas Tech Offers Solutions For Preserving Flowers

Thirteen solutions for preserving cut flowers, tested on 10 different plants in the Texas Tech greenhouse, indicate that ordinary tap water preserves the life of cut flowers longer with one exception. "Florafix," a compound used by florists, preserves fall cosmos and petunias two weeks longer than does plain water, according to O. B. Howell, professor of horticulture, who supervised the experiment.

Asters, golden rod, chrysanthemums, zinnias, scabiosa, candy-tuft, feverfew, and daisies were also tested in this solution and in salt, sugar tircalcium, phosphate, vinegar, acetic acid (glacial), junket, nigrosene, carbon black, seared stems in tap water, aspirins, nutrient solution and tap water.

"While aspirin, sugar and minute quantities of salt were fairly good, they did not keep the flowers as long as did plain water," Howell said. "Acetic acid was the poorest, causing cut flowers to wither immediately."

Other experiments conducted at the college greenhouse have shown that plants having milky juices or woody stems keep longer if the stems have been seared over an open flame before placing in tap water. This is true of poinsettias, poppies, lilacs, petunias, and many flowering shrubs, Howell said.

Miss Frankie Mae Case, arts and sciences junior of Petersburg and assistant in the plant industry department conducted the experiments.

Sears, Roebuck And Co. Contest Is Announced

The annual Sears, Roebuck & Co. contest, in which 20 outstanding high school students are given $100 scholarships for their freshman year in the agricultural department of Texas Tech college, has been announced in this county by Ray L. Chappelle of the college.

Cards are sent to the various agriculture instructors in the county, with the men being asked to name a candidate for the honors, it was learned from County Agent Jason O. Gordon.

Winners are selected on the merits of good citizenship, deserving of award, and necessity for assistance to attend college, he added.

Four former students of Tech received their wings and commissions as second lieutenants in the army air corps reserve April 25 at Stockton, Calif. They were John P. McCrory, Lee Michie, Woodrow Ramsey and John W. Fields.

MAY, 1941

Band School To Be June 4 To July 14

Young band players, both in and out of college, and band teachers in the state will attend the eighth summer band school at Texas Technological college June 4 to July 14.

Heading the list of visiting instructors again this year is Dr. A. A. Harding, director of the University of Illinois bands, who will be guest director of the senior band from July 7 to July 12. Dr. Harding will play many selections from the Illinois band library besides holding clinic sessions on 1942 contest numbers.

Other visiting instructors include R. A. Dhosche of San Antonio who will direct the intermediate band; Col. Earl D. Irons, director of the N. T. A. C. band in Arlington, who will offer a short course in practical arranging for band and cornet the week of June 23; and Milburn E. Carey, director of the Phillips university band of Enid, Okla., at present warrant officer of the 189th field artillery band at Camp Barkley.

Last summer 200 students and band teachers were enrolled in the three divisions of the band school. The college division offers credit work to college students of undergraduate and graduate standing. The graduate division is for students who have completed work for the bachelor's degree, and the preparatory division includes junior and intermediate bands. For boys and girls of elementary and high school standing, this division offers and ensemble instruction in keeping with the student's musical advancement, according to Director D. O. Wiley.

Band students will be permitted to purchase summer recreation tickets for the entertainment features offered on the campus four evenings each week.

Checking on approximately 500 students who entered the home economics division from 1933 to 1938, the figure includes those who left college as freshmen, those transferred to another division of the college, and those who transferred to another school.

Immediate causes of mortality were illness, financial difficulties, marriage, leaving college to take jobs, and failure to remove scholarship probation. Social and academic maladjustment were factors of considerable importance.

Scholarship and age at entrance were shown as possible factors, while previous training in home economics, engagement in part-time work, and parental occupations were not found to be factors.

"YOU SAVVY

DAD ought to know. Look at the wall behind him. Photo of Dad, straight and proud in old-style choker-collar blouse, Sam Browne belt, and second 'looiie's' gold bars. And his decorations—the Order of the Purple Heart, Victory Medal, Croix de Guerre with palm.

"You savvy quick, soldier," he says to his son as that chip off the old block in the new uniform proffers Camels. "These were practically 'regulation' cigarettes with the army men I knew. Lots of other things seem to have changed, but not a soldier's 'smokin's.'"

Right! Today, and for more than 20 years, reports from Army Post Exchanges show that Camels are the favorite. And in Navy canteens, too, Camel is the leader.

Just seems that Camels click with more people than any other cigarette—whether they're wearing O.D., blues, or civvies. You'll savvy, too—and quick—with your first puff of a slower-burning Camel with its extra mildness, extra coolness, and extra flavor, why it's the "front-line" cigarette—past, present, and future!
