5. ARMED FORCES RESERVE MEDAL (ARMY)

a. Authority has been delegated to the Adjutant General of Texas to determine individual eligibility for the award of the Armed Forces Reserve Medal, in accordance with paragraph 36, AR 600-65, 12 December 1951, and to issue the service ribbon therefor when eligibility has been established.

b. The following information is furnished in connection with the processing of applications for the award of the Armed Forces Reserve Medal:

(1) National Guard service performed prior to 3 June 1916 or any service in a non-Federal status thereafter will not be counted in connection with this award. Credit claimed for National Guard service in another State must be verified.

(2) Service in a Reserve status is not creditable toward eligibility when the individual is currently serving as a member of a regular component.

(3) In reference to paragraph 36a, AR600-65, National Guard and Air National Guard service is creditable as outlined in the cited reference before and after 1 July 1949; Army Reserve and other reserve service is creditable subsequent to 1 July 1949 only when the individual earns the minimum points for retention in the reserve component under the appropriate regulations governing such component.

e. Only the service ribbon to the Armed Forces Reserve Medal has been made available for issue. The Medal itself will not be available until after the cessation of hostilities.

d. Applications for the Armed Forces Reserve Medal may be submitted to this department on an individual basis. Each application will include a statement of inclusive years of service claimed and in the event any part of service claimed is from the National Guard of another State, verification of such service must be included.
