The Mad Letter Writer

#619 #619 #
An inmate of a mental institution was busy writing a letter.

Another inmate who was a friend of his came along and asked, "What are you doing?"

"I am writing a letter," the first man answered.

"To whom are you writing?" his friend asked.

"To myself," the man answered.

"Well, what are you writing to yourself?"

"I don't know yet. It will come back tomorrow, and I shall read it then and find out."
