Werte Genossin!

Wir hatten soeben den werten Besuch Ihres Schwiegersohnes Genosse Thomas Hickey, die aelteren Genossen unseres Personals kannten denselben von fruheren Zeiten als er noch in NY taetig war. Es freute uns in ihm noch immer den tapferen kampfesfreudigen Mann von ehemals zu finden. Da rer uns eine Arbeit fuer die Zeitung geliefert hat, wollten wir denselben eine kleine Verguetung zugeben, er wies uns aber an, da er fuer seine Arbeit keine Entschaedigung verlange, diesen Betrag an Sie resp. seine Frau zu uebermitteln, es war zur Berwendung fuer einen eventuellen Verteidigungsfond. Wir vermuten, dass Sie bald fuer einen solchen Fond in Texas Verwendung haben werden.

English Summary

Maria's son in law, Thomas Hickey, visits the NY Volkszeitung (People's News) offices. Many of the older employees remember Tom from his time as an activist while he was working in NYC. They are pleased to see that he is still imbued with the same fighting spirit as years before. - Tom submits one of his articles to the paper but accepts no payment. Instead, he suggests to send the money to his wife, who is setting up a defense fund. The NYV to Maria Boeer: '.....we suspect that you will need such a fund in Texas in the very near future.' They enclose a donation of $ 3.- for such purpose.

Dear Comrades

Your note 20th, in reply to my request to the "Mittelschmied", came duly to hand, with the circulars. Many, many thanks!

I see by the N.Y. Call, that T. A. is in N.Y. I dropped him a note there, having feared I would get no reply from Ruler. In fact, I hardly expected it would be possible to get by the P.O. censorship in writing to any real Rebels.

It is good to know you are all well, any way. With health and strength, one can struggle along somehow; it is when those two "blessings" disappear that the veritable Hell comes in.

Mrs Langan is in a hospital at Salisbury N.C., to be operated on to day or to morrow. I am working for the Virginian Ry, at least until Mrs L gets out and about. Our boy is in Winston-Salem, N.C., working for the R. J. Reynolds Tob Co. The outlook is extremely blue for all of us.

It has rained every day and night since I have been in Norfolk 16 days. Crops are ruined by too much water.

The streets here are full of "our sailor boys". Some of them are so young they have not yet lost their "baby features". They remind me of old Comedian Isaiah's prophecy - "Little a sheep drink before its shearer, so open they not their mouths". This nothing less than a "slaughter of the innocents".

Goodbye, good luck to each one of you - not one is ever forgotten.

Yours in true comradeship Arch Langan

Dear Comrade:

I received your circular and contents carefully noted with reference to the kidnapping of Mr. Hickey and the suppression of the Rebel. Enclosed find check for $200 and may be able to have others contribute. Since, however, the suppression of radical publication has become a national custom I believe it better that they all be handled in a national way as probably by the proposed defense league with Darrow et al collecting in the defense.

Dear Comrade:

I note in a communication just rec'd from comrade J. A. Hickey, of him, 1st, being kidnaped and, 2nd, the Rebel being stopped from circulating through the mails.

I am not surprised at the occurrences, The same happens in every other capitalistic government and will take place in "the land of the free" as soon as the wage-slaves get to contentious for a chance to exist above the "dead line" or near it.

The class of beings that - desire the suppressing of the socialist papers, the only source from which ~~the~~ the working producers can get the truth regarding their conditions and needs, are the same class that crucified the commoner over 1900 years ago, if the narrative be true, for stirring up the masses to contend for life, peace and happiness. The Masters or Lords of earth to day, poor fellow, have no more conception as to real life, than we who do the worlds work, if they had they could and — would assist in making a haven on earth for all, where all could meet Miss Happiness and live in peace. The help for the slaves lie in the rank and file of the slaves, but they must be made to realize it.

Dear Comrade

I am sending to you within this letter, P. O. order for one dollar and the only excuse I have for sending so small a sum is that I, like most of your subscribers am only a working man and consequently a poor man and am having a hard struggle to keep the wolf from my own door.
These times of Wilson prosperity
so I hope you will accept the pittance in the the same spirit as
was accepted the Widans note
for it is all I have, but I give it freely wishing it a hundred though I must confess I have no

hope of that or any other sum enabling you to get justice in a Captains Court for I have learned by sad experience and much observation the futility of expecting justice there. Especially in a case like yours. but I hope you will try just the same about calling Mr. Hucks. I think the time has just when we could have retained our rights by peaceful legal means but now if we ever regain our lost liberty it will be by just such means as was used to rob us of it - Brute force. so from this day you may ask blood of me if you will
for that I have to give freely but money I have none. [redacted]

Dear Mrs Hickey:

Your letter and M^d received after some delay. On account of the rain I did not get to see Ellis so did not get your letter as soon as I should. Saw the Sec. Mr. Kuykendall and he claims he wrote to The Brandenburg Secretary explaining to him what to tell you. He says the dues are one month behind and this 180 you sent me would pay for Jan way and in order to get a transfer card the dues should be paid one month ahead so ~~do not~~ to lapse between time. I did not know if that agreed with your receipts so did not pay him. Am holding the money until I hear from you shall I pay the Jan Feb dues and then a month ahead and give him 50¢ for transfer card? If possible see the Brandenburg secretary and see what the Halltsville secretary wrote him. Best wishes to you all from all of us. Martin was home yesterday, he is looking fine. 30 days ahead. So I had to pay nothing extra
as you already sent me that amount a month ago
but did not pay it to the secretary because he said it would not be enough to issue transfer card. I showed him the receipts and he said it was O.K. now. Hope you will have no more

Dear Comrade: Your letter with M^{rs} $27⁵⁰ received. I have written the Dallas Hotel man to send me the bill and I will settle. Don't think it has been paid. I sent the circular letters and papers to Brandenburg by express and you should sure have them by now. Will send you some more papers today. Our July 2 issue is nearly gone, I have plenty of July 9th on hand yet. The bill from Craddock has already been paid. They kept it out of the money they were due The Rebel for ads and I did not know anything about it but did not want to make a kick to them without being sure. Just had a talk with the express agent here after writing the above and find that Brandenburg is no express office so am having a tracer sent after the last circular letter and 500 Rebels sent you. Let me know how and where you received the other circulars and letters as I also had them addressed to Brandenburg and they did not then tell me that Brandenburg was no

Am sending you copies of Rebels today by prepaid express 40¢ to Sagerton Tex. Maybe the other papers went there too. We expect mother back here in a day or two and sure will be glad to see her.

My dear Mr. Postmaster General:

Notwithstanding that I have heard from many quarters your expressions as to the poor impression made upon you by the late presentation of the constitutional rights of small newspapers, I am taking the liberty of again addressing you upon the subject.

The reactions upon my mind growing out of our discussion were these: That a grave danger to free expression on the part of the press of the country exists in your Department on account of the ultra-bureaucratic method adopted by you for suppressing newspapers. For instance, I am sure that few newspaper publishers in the United States, high or low, appreciate the fact that their businesses may be destroyed by the action of Assistant Solicitor Sutherland. I submit this, of course, without intending the slightest reflection upon Mr. Sutherland's honesty or intelligence.

Again, the impression seems to be that Mr. Solicitor Lamar exercises very weighty powers in this regard. It is, therefore, regrettable that our arguments, inconsequential as some of them may have seemed, could not have been addressed to him.

So you will see that it is extremely difficult, if not impossible, for the ordinary citizen to locate the definite source of the power which is exercised in the suppression of publications; creating a situation, I would say, of a most intolerable and dangerous character.

Moreover, the obvious misapprehension under which you seemed to be laboring at the beginning of the discussion, as to the mode of procedure in your Department, would suggest that much harm has been done, many thousands of dollars of property destroyed and a very wounded and bitter feeling left in the hearts and minds of many small publishers without your direct knowledge or acquiescence.

I hope you will pardon the liberty of the suggestions, but it does seem to me that no person or corporation publishing a newspaper should be denied the use of the United States mails, nor should any existing privileges be taken away from the publisher of a newspaper, no matter how poor, small or uninfluential, without your direct personal action.

If, in your opinion, the exigencies of the time preclude your giving these matters your personal attention, will you be good enough to so indicate, in order that appeal may be made to the President for what I deem some very necessary check upon the potential abuse of the vast powers over the press exercised by your Department, as well as the fixing of the official responsibility, definitely and publicly.

I am also taking the liberty of enclosing to you herewith editorial from the "New York American" of July 24th, which, it seems to me, presents an argument which ought to make strong appeal to officials charged with the execution of the laws bearing upon the subject. While I appreciate that the argument of the editorial principally is against the passage of such laws as the Espionage Bill, nevertheless, it occurred to me that it has strong application to the interpretation which should be placed upon such laws when enacted by officials charged with that important duty.

With assurances of my great personal esteem and thanking you for your kindly consideration of the matter, I am

Yours very respectfully,

Hon. Albert S. Burleson,
Postmaster General,

July 30, 1917.

Dear Mr. Hickey:

I enclose copy of telegram which I sent today to Mr. Commissioner Gerand. I did this on the theory that when we start something we ought to "play the string out".

I am also enclosing copy of a letter which I wrote several days ago to your distinguished fellow Texan, Mr. Postmaster General Burleson, and while I am in the enclosing business I thought I would send you a copy of my letter to the editor of the Irish World, who requested a statement from me on the Mooney case.

I was truly glad for the opportunity to meet you face to face, although I am free to say that I was very well acquainted with you before we met at all. I hope yourself and family are fine, that you are still at liberty and will successfully sidestep jails and penitentiaries indefinitely, meanwhile keeping up your spirited fight for social and industrial reform.

Mr. Irvin, who wishes to be remembered to you and tells me that he was delighted also to have had the opportunity of meeting you, informs me that he fixed up Carlo Tresca's matter satisfactorily and that the paper has reentered the mails.

With my warm regards and sincere good wishes, always,

Faithfully yours,

Mr. Thomas A. Hickey,
Rural Route #3,
Rule, Texas.
