

Santa Fe New Mexico

Tuesday Aug 29th 1876

Dear Mother.

your Postal announcing the Palmer's start for Saratoga ^{and Lake George,} but without date, and I could not discern any date on P.O. mark, came to hand on my arrival here - you don't know how strange and odd it feels to me to be sitting in a comfortably and cozily fitted room, with every appearance of civilization at hand, penning you these lines - why how odd seems the use of the pen and ink, and it really tires my hand - but it so happens that a Gentleman, FitzPatrick, by name, residing here, attached to the Government service, was originally from Albany N.Y. and one of our party being very well acquainted with some of his relations there, hearing he was here, called out him, and the consequence was, we must change our Camping ground to right opposite his room, that is in a large open place - put all things of any value in his room - which room he has thrown open to us, at all and any time. Put paper pens, and ink at our disposal to write and now since out of the four are around his table, he being away at his business - scratching away at a much livelier gait, than that acquired by a mule-team - this is more ease and comfort, than camp life calls for, and our managing man, or as the article I sent you designated him "Maj. Lomo" - thought it tried him very much, last evening when we called on old Gantman and he sat in an easy Rocking chair for about a half hour, for we, like the Mexicans, are used to squatting down on the ground, and now while we boys of the party, are sitting around this table, we can look out upon the tent, waggon, etc and there sits the Maj. on a pail, with his back propped up against one of the front wheels, with a piece of cracked box cover, as a desk - penning a letter to his wife and children, who left for Albany but a few days before we started out - expecting to return this fall to Denver.

Aug 19th We broke camp at Del Norte and crossed ~~the river~~ - not leaving town until nearly 12 M. and rode on to the only camping place between here and Conejos - at an American Ranch, and where there was water - 20 miles - ride over prairie - dreary and uninteresting & no water - it was cold enough for an overcoat - and when we went into camp, as well as an hour before a cool rain set in - we had some little difficulty in making a fire, and getting supper ready - the night was rainy and although our tent was as grand (and always is) protection, still we and our blankets, were somewhat moistened - but with the "Pitter" come the "Tatters" and the sun once more gained the day and like the Grasshopper, after we had got a little warmed up - we started on our journey again - Sunday, though it was only making 20 miles - and going into camp in a pouring hard rain at 2 P.M. - but our camp was right in front or opposite, an Irishman, whose acquaintance we found on our way over the road, on our way to Del Norte hut, and we were allowed all the privileges of himself - but it soon cleared away, and we spent the rest of the day quietly and pleasantly "Welch" bringing out his Violin about sun down, and treating us to some music you will find, that we very seldom or only have once before, when it was really necessary traveled on Sundays - it so happens at sometimes, we are obliged to travel distances between places, water and grass being such, that we must get up and get. The party are all very much against traveling on that day -

Monday Aug 21st. Break camp and on to Conejos, about 15 miles - made it about noon - in passing the young felon's ^{Varial} place, whom was buried, one of our party - when here last, I saw the grave I was buried, we learned the body had been taken home by his two Brothers - who had come about a week before this time - and said to relate the oldest was very ill & had to remain at "Fort Garland" where there is a Hospital, and was not expected to live - the younger Brother, who came with us on our trip as far as "Colorado Springs", having made a trip home - had to return, and take the body home alone -

Tuesday Aug 22nd. Break camp - leave town about 9th A.M. - well now back about a hard country - stony, hard road and for miles & miles, not a speck of grass to be seen - or strange, barren waste of undisturbed prairie land - nothing but cactus, or weeds, and stones - 30 miles and not a drop of water, coming upon at grove of trees, their way down in a bottom piece of land - good grass - or stock man's - Sheep Ranch or corral, and in the center, a well of muddy water - well we camped here - after our dry and tiresome ride - of course we had some water with us - here we found some Mexicans - who had some fruit - melons - we invested and had a treat before breakfast, this was our first - a Mexican generally ^{or it} is, the customary way - to convey goods, on an animal called a "Burro" - about 3 feet high is this noble beast - or little pack saddle on his, or has back - and boxes bags - turkeys, or anything it may be strapped on this saddle, on each side, so that the bundles hang on each side - the pack's larger than the animal - they carry from two to three hundred pounds - I'll try and get a picture of one of them - to make it more plain an animal of the species of an ass - only a "Dwarf" - the sandy roads of this country makes this way of transporting cheap and quick - these trains go with from twenty to fifty such animals packed with goods, such as would make or stock a General Merch store - follow along the road, with a Mexican or two behind them - comes right or goes down they up - pack these into Dwarfs - let them run loose - they live on nothing hardly, and cost but little - they, the Mexicans - are rough, dirty half dressed people - sleep right on the ground, and live on about the same as the Burro's Wednesday Aug 23^d a repetition of the previous day - only more sandy - now if anything is trying on driving mules next to deep mud - it is said - they tie & pull - tie & pull - then stop - day warmer - 30 miles and not a drop of water - found water, and a fair camping ground - with but little grass - (ojo-coleante) Thursday Aug 20th - about a mile from ~~the ojo-coleante~~ - at Hot Sulphur Springs' water cart - here we stopped for a little while, eat melons, and plums - quite a Hotel, and American spoke - travel from 12 M until 4³⁰ P.M. - nothing but a dessert - on we lugged - & only made 12 miles - camped in low, damp ground and we had lots of fun for we had about a dozen natives about half-dressed visit us, and when we commenced talking about buying a "Goró" - we had about a half dozen of the little devils brought to us - we shot off our fire-arms &c and they must have had a regular "battalion" but we put off the buying until the morning - Aug 25th Before Sun-Rise the Goros and the Mexicanos were about and I am the owner of a little rascal (or at least I own him) that of only 3 years of age, and when I get on his back I can stretch my toes to the ground can and has carried Mac - who is of my height and weight and myself on his back - we have had lots of fun with him, but he is troublesome and we talk of disposing of him - as I was have to look after him - the road was sandy and we made very slow progress - I pushing mules - coming to the "Río Grande" River quite late, we were unable to find the ford, and camped Saturday Aug 26 - clear & cool - found river very high, and got a Mexican to Pilot us over - a short way on and stop at an Indian "Pueblo" - Village civilized and raising large & fine crops - Valley land - visited some of the Houses, or Huts, having to climb up a ladder & get in the Houses - as from a scuttle in the roof - neat clean, but odd, with a small window only, and filled with Indian oddities - saw some very fine looking Indian Girls - remained about 2 hours - finding some people who spoke English - our road was on through a good, fair valley, the road being very fair - only travelled 5 miles to "Santa Fe" here we were well taken care of by the Father "whose card I enclose you - you know two of our party our Catholics - Romanists - one having letters generally written, but including any of the church he may come in contact and it serves us grandly - we were well taken care of by the Father, our Horses put in his Pasturage, and we were furnished with delicacies from his garden, shown every attention, and our stay made very pleasant Monday Aug 28th Pleasant - up ^{an} off at 9^{AM}. Road sandy in places, and country a little better - nothing of ^{any} interest - only pass a good many "Bos" pack trains, made Santa Fe 25 miles - about 4 P.M. have to buy wood and grass here - a very pleasant situated city - with a few modern built houses of wood and handsome grounds, most rough hard looking mud huts - Military Post here - about Seven thousand people business men - all Jews, with but one or two exceptions - The country, as far as we have seen it, is poor and uninteresting, the people - especially of the poor class live in nothing but mud huts, with mud roofs, and ^{are} a low dirty appearing people - have treated us generally with Rudeness and attention, but they have the name of being thieves, and will steal - we never leave our camp alone - Some one always remaining at camp, to watch things - But we have had a pleasant trip of it - despite the sandy roads and rough country - what a greater portion of the people subsist on, and I don't see some of them live on nothing its hard to accede - I hardly think we will go further South as we can hardly find anything to benefit us - I will write you of our trip from here - well Fitzpatrick who is an old soldier - has been back a short time and is talking over old times - besides I have about spun my yarn - with lots of love to all - Remembrance to Aunt Mary & all her folks - have not rec'd any letter from you in some time, but it's, or they are somewhere, and I will get them surely from time to time - with love to Father - tall and a double share for yourself - From your son
