Dear Mother

Your very kind letter of last week duly received and contents well digested - now don't give yourself any uneasiness, and don't worry yourself about what you are unable to control, namely "money matters" - no doubt I inherit the anxiety, and unnecessarily at times from you, for I am very forcibly shown by incidents which transpire after the anxious moments have been encouraged, that it was only a worriment founded on some supposition which I very foolishly nurtured - I am working hard and faithful for success, and the first three months will be the toughest era through which to pass - we are strangers, business is overdone, which puts large odds against us we have a name to establish, which puts us in competition with older and better moneyed competitors - I am a little over anxious and don't like to work too close, for fear that my dear mother - my constant prayer is my constant prayer

out - work, my health is good and I am
as hearty as a
bush - what more
can I say - I
am in bed every night except
Saturday at 9 o'clock
read, my paper
and at 6:30
It is Ed's turn
this evening to be
in the morning
and correspond
the new system
of shutting up at 8 o'clock except Saturday - is quite a relief - I
don't spend a dollar a month outside board - I
don't believe -
I have a nice
comfortable room
clean and nice as
a parlor, and as
my eating hours
are so irregular
eat at the hotel
only $6 per week
for day board
room - my wife
and I have a
could board from
then it would be
in every sense of

income - would involve us or at least cramp us - that is we are sailing so close on the limit of our capital - it can't in the strict sense of the word involve us for I am positively opposed to creating any obligations or ask any advances - that we can not meet with hard cash - my only object in speaking of money was to have a reserve of $500 or $1000 - to meet any contingency that might arise - you know I am over particular in money matters, and always like to feel myself beyond any contingency - If it is not forthcoming don't give yourself any of it - Our business is improving every day and I will try hard to think and feel

"Look, where I met - Sunlight's bright glances Feel me with joy.

How my heart dances
All things are fair."

Uncle William is doing well. By your, and I hardly would dare think of having you go to him - Uncle Alfred might venture $500 - on us, but then if it don't come why you must promise me not to worry - you know yourself how near and dread it makes one feel - I will pray God to give me strength to keep a stout heart and to guide me to success - not for the love of gain or "filthy lucre" but to the maintenance of my pride and manhood and to the end of a comfortable and Christian life - oh dear how tired I am sometimes - day in and day

Your Mary's are
quite acceptable
and I will write this
