Dear Sir

Yours of 20th inst is received. Having received this notice, I shall be under the necessity of not paying out any money of the Estate until such time as your claim may be finally adjudicated upon and then if there is not enough to satisfy all claims the creditors including yourself will receive their per rata dividends. This as you are aware will require from a year & a half to two years at the least and in the mean time for the sake of gratifying your spite against me you propose to keep the physician who attended your Mother during her last sickness and the Undertaker who buried her from getting their money

Yours &c

Sir

Your note of 22nd to hand you are mistaken I have no spite against you, but I think your treatment of Margaret and your threats to her ungenerous and unmanly. I have no doubt but that when my Mother's silver is sold there will be enough to pay all claims without the delay to which you refer. I am collecting from parties to whom I have paid monies of your Grandmother the dates & amounts and will present my ^{when I have then all in my other one} claim of $130,000 money placed in hands of the late Mrs Sands (my Aunt) &c my Mother. I presume my claim will not be far from Five Thousand dollars - and you will consider this as a demand for that amount from the estate.

Yours &c
