District 35 Leads Contributors

District 35 led the way in percentage of exes contributing to the Association last year. Out of 374 exes listed for the district, 117 gave $779.08. However, their 31% participation was far below the 1952 high of 62% by District 27. Nine districts recorded over 50% in 1952. Contributions from exes in service and others outside the United States ranked second again for the third straight year.

A breakdown of contributions by districts is shown below. Districts 1 through 29 are in Texas, 30 through 36 are in other states, and outside U.S. (O.U.S.) includes servicemen and other exes not living in the United States.

Board Approves 'Texas Tech Day' For Ex-Students Association

Many Towns Plan First Annual Meet

Proclaiming of an annual "Texas Tech Day" by the Ex-Students Association has been unanimously approved by the Tech board of directors. Members of the board approved the action during a meeting at Tech on April 10.

Members of the Ex-Students Association voted to establish a "Tech Day" when the Council met at Homecoming, Nov. 6, 1953. The executive board later set the date for Saturday following the first Monday in May each year.

This year the date falls on May 8. Purpose of a "Tech Day" is to bring exes together for common enjoyment of tradition and heritage of Texas Technological College. Knowledge that thousands of exes are meeting simultaneously will add significance to the day.

Programs are being planned over Texas and other states with the thought of holding interest for all ex-students. Information concerning the growth and development of Tech will be presented at the meetings.

Following is an incomplete list of towns planning a "Tech Day" program this year. Watch your local paper for announcement of a meeting near you which might not be listed here.

HOUSTON

Dr. E. N. Jones, Tech president, will speak at an afternoon picnic on May 8. The program has been planned from 12 noon to 11 p.m., with a dance to be held in the evening. The entire program will be at MacGregor Park Club House, 5525 Calhoun Road.

DALLAS

Exes of Grand Prairie and Garland are also invited. The program has been planned for Thursday, May 6, at 7:15 p.m. at the River Valley Country Club. A buffet-style dinner and informal dance are scheduled.

FORT WORTH, ARLINGTON

A picnic and dance have been planned at Singing Hills Ranch, about five miles west of the Weatherford Circle on Highway 80 and 180. The program will start at 4 p.m.; wear slacks or other comfortable clothes.

PAMPA

Plans are being made for a picnic and hamburger fry Sunday, May 9, 2:30 p.m., at Price's Ranch. A 30-minute radio program over station KTDN has been set for Saturday, May 8, at 9:30 a.m. Information concerning recent growth and development at Tech will be presented on the radio program.

AMARILLO

Meeting is being planned for May 8. Watch local paper for an announcement of the time and location, or contact Leo Southern at 2-6787.

LUBBOCK

A dance will be held for all exes in the recreation hall at Tech May 8, 8 p.m. An eight-piece orchestra, "The Esquires," will provide the music.

CROSBY COUNTY

Board Approves College Budget

Action on the 1954-55 budget highlighted a Tech board of directors meeting April 10 in the office of Dr. E. N. Jones, president. The members approved an over-all budget of $5,354,541.30 for the operation of all divisions of the college during the 1954-55 year.

The new budget is an increase of $236,254.07 over the 1953-54 budget. Major increases will be in the instructional departments, the library, the physical plant, organized activities, auxiliary enterprises and pledged revenue properties. Decreases were made in general administration, general expense, and extension and correspondence.

Other business included the approval of a new five-year contract for Coach DeWitt Weaver; appointment of new department heads and instructors; approval of promotions in the faculty; discussion of the possibilities of construction of a new gym; discussion of the proposed Len and Harriett McClellan Memorial Infirmary; and discussion of a proposed addition for the Student Union building.

In the annual election of officers, Charles Thompson of Colorado City was re-elected chairman for the 11th year. Robert B. Price of El Paso was re-elected vice chairman, and Roy Wells, administrative assistant secretary.

Heitman Appointed

Prof. J. Russell Heitman, head of the journalism department was recently appointed to a nationwide committee by the Association for Education in Journalism to consider the needs for a council on magazine journalism.

Other members of the committee are from the following universities: Michigan, New York, Northwestern, Rutgers, Texas, and Wisconsin.

President Gives Cycle of Civilization For Eighth Annual Recognition Service

Ten words which outline the cycle of civilization were dictated to the audience at Tech's eighth annual All-College Recognition service March 17 by President E. N. Jones, who delivered the address for the event.

Dr. Jones invited his listeners to take down these words: Bondage, Faith, Courage, Liberty, Abundance, Selfishness, Complacency, Apathy, Dependency, and Bondage. Civilization according to Dr. Jones, begins and ends in bondage and progresses through phases described by the other eight words.

James G. Allen, dean of student life, was master of ceremonies for the service. Music was provided by the Tech Concert Band and by the Festival Chorus. Invocation was given by W. P. Clement, Registrar, and benediction by Rev. Loyce Estes of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church. Dr. Jones was introduced by Dr. G. E. Giesecke, academic vice president.

The program of recognition began with athletic awards present-

Member of Byrd Trip to Antarctica To Head Tech's Geology Department

Dr. Franklin Alton Wade, best known for his studies in the Antarctica, has been appointed as head of the department of geology at Texas Tech. He replaces Dr. Raymond Sidwell who resigned to become a professor in the department.

The appointment of Dr. Wade, chief scientist of Admiral Richard Byrd's last two trips to Antarctica and a member of the geology staff at Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, further strengthens Tech's offering of graduate training in geology. Dr. Wade, 51, a native of Akron, Ohio, and a graduate of Kenyon College and Johns Hopkins University, leaves Miami University about July 1.

A member of the second expedition to Little America in 1933-35 and Byrd's third expedition in 1939-41, Dr. Wade has a 500-square-mile glacier named in his honor. He holds two special congressional medals for his work with Byrd.

In World War II, Dr. Wade served as a major in the Air Force and was stationed in Greenland, where he helped explore an inland ice area for possible use by the United States. He also helped set up a weather station there. He spent two years as head of a special staff section of the Fifth Air Force. Dr. Wade was conferred the Meritorious Civilian Service award by the Air Force in 1951 and returned to the Miami University faculty.

His teaching background includes instructorship in geology and chemistry at the University of Delaware from 1929 to 1931 and from 1933 to 1935. He joined the Miami University staff in 1936 as an instructor and was promoted to professor in 1945.

He has written several scientific articles and reports on geological structure of Little America for professional magazines. Dr. Wade is married and has a son, James Richard, 5.

10,000 Enrollment Seen For Tech by W. P. Clement

Texas Tech enrollment above the 10,000 mark?

Not yet, but perhaps by 1970.

A long-range estimate released recently by Registrar W. P. Clement showed that within the next 10 years enrollment at Tech probably will double and by 1970 will reach 10,681.

Three major reasons for Tech's expected growth is that it is located in the third-fastest-growing city in the nation for the period of 1940-50, Tech is a young school and is now receiving second generation Techsans, and returning veterans will continue to increase.

The estimate showed 5,719 students for 1954, 5,822 for 1955, 5,880 for 1956, 5,960 for 1957, 6,156 for 1958, 6,419 for 1959, 6,718 for 1960, 7,198 for 1961, 7,886 for 1962, 7,951 for 1963, 8,414 for 1964, 8,843 for 1965, 9,243 for 1966, 9,799 for 1967, 10,079 for 1968, 10,311 for 1969 and 10,681 for 1970.

Todate, the all-time high for enrollment was 6,145 in 1948.

Dr. Mary Dabney Honored at Biloxi

Dr. Mary Dabney, professor of health and physical education at Tech, was elected secretary of the public relations section at the recent district meeting of the American Association of Health, Physical Education and Recreation for College Women in Biloxi, Miss.

The meeting consisted of two divisions. The first held Feb. 22-23 was the Southern Association for Physical Education of College Women. The second, Feb. 24-26, was the Southern Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation.

At the American Association meeting, Dr. Dabney also acted as consultant for the student section, was a member of the proceedings committee, and was on the nominating committee for the recreation division. Theme of the convention was "A Forecast of Our Opportunities."

Why I Give . . . $100 . . . to My College

... I have always felt extremely loyal to Sweet Briar for the usual reasons: wonderful friends, absorbing classes (with an exception or two), friendly and interesting faculty, the discovery in graduate school that I didn't suffer in comparison with students who had been to bigger and perhaps better schools. There was every reason for me to feel nothing but pleasure when I heard the name of Sweet Briar.

For several years before I was married I had a job, and when the appeal for the Alumnae Fund came I was always glad to send off a small check, which I increased a dollar or two as my salary went up.

Then I married a man who had graduated from one of the men's colleges which is well known for its annual giving. I was interested and amazed to read some of the reports my husband got on the progress of his school's Fund. But the reports did not prepare me for the surprise I was going to get.

In October I sent off my usual check. A month later he got ready to make his gift to his college—and I was taken aback to hear that it was going to be for $100! That was nearly eight times what I had been giving to Sweet Briar—and his salary was only twice the size mine had been. Then he gave me a thoughtful look and said, "I don't see why you shouldn't give $100 to Sweet Briar. It did as much for you as my college did for me."

For a minute this idea almost appalled me. It was a sum that never would have occurred to me. I kept thinking that we could not possibly afford it. And surely not two such gifts!

"Well," said he, "it won't mean that we are denying ourselves anything we really need. We may be one or two luxuries less; our savings may be smaller, but I think our colleges are too important to give them only token gifts as long as it is possible for us to give more. Schools, after all, don't operate like private businesses. If a college is going to be a top flight institution it has to get top quality instructors. It has to keep up its plant, no matter what the cost. And it can't immediately pass the increase along to its customers. There is almost no college in the country that charges its students a tuition that covers the amount it spends on them. It is one of the country's great assets that so many foundations and wealthy individuals realize the value of private liberal arts colleges and give to their endowment, and that so many alumni understand the situation and are glad to give too."

"I've already given this year," I said. "Maybe next year..." They say women are the true conservatives. I was felling pretty conservative.

"You just gave something out of the house money, didn't you? That's no way to envisage the Place of Education in the American Life." (He was definitely talking in capitals.)

We talked some more, largely about what his college was doing and would never in the world be able to do if it were not for its loyal and generous alumni. It ended with my beginning to think in capitals too—especially about the Place of Women in American Life. I began to think how different our community would be if all the college-educated women in it would suddenly withdraw every volunteer service they gave...

But this is about to become an essay. Some day I think I would like to write one on this subject. Let it suffice for now that I am entirely agreed with my husband that we will give what we can while we can.

Reproduced above is a letter—from an alumna of Sweet Briar College, Sweet Briar, Va. No name appeared with it when it was published in the Sweet Briar Alumnae News last fall; no name appears here. That is not important. What is important is the thought expressed, by both members of a college-trained family, on the responsibilities of alumni and alumnae to offer more than token support for alma mater and education.

Tech Professor Granted Award

Dr. Joseph T. McCullen, Jr., associate professor of English, has been named recipient of a Ford Foundation award to continue study in his chosen field. The grant will permit him to study Shakespeare and Elizabethan literature "on the spot."

The award marked the third year in succession that a Texas Tech professor has been named to receive the grant. Former recipients of Ford Foundation awards are Dr. Ernest Wallace, assistant dean of the Arts and Sciences Division and professor of history, and Dr. Roy Male, Jr., associate professor of English.

Dr. McCullen plans to attend Shakespeare Institute at Stratford-On-Avon during the autumn and Cambridge University during the winter. He hopes to return to the Institute in time for the annual Shakespeare Festival, which begins in April and continues through the summer. He will return to his duties at Tech in September, 1955.

Dr. McCullen came to Tech in 1949 as an assistant professor after teaching at the University of Alabama and at North Carolina University. He was advanced to associate professor in 1952. During the college year 1952-53 he was away on leave, serving as associate professor of English at the University of Missouri.

He is a native of Clinton, N.C., and earned his B.A., M.A., and Ph.D. at the University of North Carolina. He is a veteran of service with the U. S. Marine Corps in the Pacific Theatre of war.

"I'll teach here during the first term of summer school," Dr. McCullen said recently. "Then my family—my wife, my nine-year-old daughter Gloria and I—will leave for England about Sept. 1."

Tech Graduate Is Scout Executive

Charles E. Wendt, Jr., '50 journalism graduate, is now a field scout executive for four counties and is making Seguin his headquarters. He serves the Guadalupe Scout District, which includes Scouting in Guadalupe and Comal counties, as well as the Wilson and Atascosa county districts.

A veteran of Navy service in World War II, Wendt is a native of Levelland. For the past three and one-half years he has been working with the South Plains Boy Scout Council, residing in Floydada and Levelland.

His wife, the former Maradee Foster, is also a Tech journalism graduate. She received her B. A. degree in 1948.

Haley Book Honored

"Ft. Concho and the Texas Frontier," by J. Evetts Haley, director of the Institute of Americanism at Tech, is one of the books chosen for display at the twelfth Western Books Exhibition at Texas Western College, El Paso.

Books in the exhibit represent the best work done in 1952 by printers in the western United States. Mr. Haley's book was designed by Carl Hertzog of El Paso and was printed by the San Angelo Standard Publishing Co. Basis of selection was quality of design and printing.

"Ft. Concho" is a history of Texas and the western U. S. centered at the small military fort, Ft. Concho. This is the latest of several books on the history of the West by Mr. Haley. He has written books about such plainsmen as Charles Goodnight, George W. Littlefield, and Jeff Milton, "The XIT Ranch of Texas" and "The Heraldy of the Range" also bear Mr. Haley's name.

Will Return to Tech

First Lt. Bill Mitchell, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Mitchell, 1308 33rd St., will return home in September and re-enroll at Texas Tech. He was a mechanical engineering major until he entered the Marine Corps in March, 1951.

Journalism Prof Is Successful as Feature Writer

"Hogs on the South Plains" is the title of Mrs. Louise C. Allen's latest article appearing in the March issue of The Progressive Farmer. Not many women go into agricultural journalism, but Mrs. Allen thinks it's fun.

A magazine article writer in her spare time, Mrs. Allen is known on the campus for her work as assistant professor of journalism. Her courses include instruction in magazine article writing, and in agricultural and home economics journalism.

Is Magazine Correspondent

"I became interested in agriculture from being around it all my life," she explained. She has written for agricultural journals such as Farm and Ranch, The Sheep and Goat Raiser, Country Gentleman, Southwestern Crop and Stock and the Progressive Farmer.

Mrs. Allen is now correspondent for The Progressive Farmer. "They didn't think I could do it, so they put me on a six-month probation period." She found that farmers went to greater length to explain methods and procedures to her than they would have to another farmer or someone they thought should "know all about it."

The first magazine article she sold was about a ranch. "It was fun. I got $15 and was just tickled to death. There was a girl at Tech then who was a roper. The head of the College News Service suggested that I do a feature on the whole family." The Madera family lived on a picturesque ranch from which one could view three states and two nations and was surrounded by a legend of a lost gold mine and romances straight from the Old West. The article appeared in the August, 1939, issue

Air Force Unit Rates Near Top

"The AFROTC unit here is one of the top units in the country," remarked Col. Byron R. Switzer informally during the federal inspection at Texas Tech recently.

Accompanying Col. Switzer during the inspection were Lt. Col. Ernest J. Boucher and Maj. James M. Hughes.

The inspection team, from Air Force ROTC headquarters in Montgomery, Ala., inspected the unit's facilities, met college officials, and observed classroom procedures and the training in a two-day tour of the campus. Because of the weather, a formal review was omitted from the schedule. Each squadron was inspected in one of the auditoriums on the campus.

The inspection is an annual affair, and the Tech unit has been given a satisfactory rating each year since its beginning.

TROY MARSHALL, May graduate, has accepted employment with Central American Insurance Company in Lubbock. He is a business education major and will be an underwriter for the company.

of Farm and Ranch entitled "Frontier Romance Not Entirely Vanished."

Aspires To Write Fiction

"I'd really like to write fiction," Mrs. Allen added, "but so far I've never written anything good." Her ideal "beat" would be writing features for a large area. Now she is writing a column called "Lipstick Logic" which appears in several weekly newspapers. "It's just human interest stuff. I thought it might help me get a little of the reportorial sound out of my writing."

Mrs. Allen thinks that journalism is the best possible training for girls planning to raise a family. "It gives you a greater interest in politics, international affairs, and people. Then, too, you can always stay at home with the children and do freelance writing on the side."

Around The Campus

The 22nd annual Tech Engineers' Show was held on the campus April 23-24, with Paul Griffith, senior engineer from Tulsa, as general chairman of the show. This year's show was dedicated to the memory of the late John Coyne Hardgrave, professor of mechanical engineering. Exhibits featured the work of all the science and engineering departments.

The third annual Symposium of Contemporary American Music was held April 21-25, attracting visiting composers and performers to the campus. A musical comedy with an all-Tech cast was presented the first two nights of the symposium and was under the direction of Robert Elson. He was accompanied by duo-pianists Herbert Colvin and Ned Hardin. Mary Jeanne van Appledorn, music instructor, was chairman of the symposium committee.

C. E. Reistle, Jr., director in charge of production for Humble Oil & Refining Company, was the main speaker at the opening meeting of the West Texas Short Course on Oil Lifting Methods, April 22-23. The two-day short course, which attracted over 100 field operating men from the West Texas-New Mexico area, was held on the campus under the sponsorship of the school's petroleum engineering department.

Tech was host to approximately 1,200 vocational agriculture students and teachers from West Texas and the Panhandle April 24 as the college held its 27th annual FFA judging contests. Dean W. L. Stangel, dean of agriculture, was in charge of the contests.

President and Mrs. E. N. Jones gave a reception April 26 for members of the Southwestern Division of the American Association of Advancement of Science meeting on the campus April 25-29.

Twenty-six models of Leonardo da Vinci's most spectacular inventions are on exhibit at Tech Museum through May 16. The unusual display was brought to Tech by the International Business Machines Corporation. IBM built the models of da Vinci's many "paper" inventions from the painter's notes. The models were part of the 21st annual Engineer's Show April 23-24.

Mrs. Walter Ferguson, Scripps-Howard newspaper columnist, was the seventh speaker, and only woman, to appear in the Institute of Americanism series April 7 at Tech. J. Evetts Haley, director of the Tech Institute of Americanism, set up the series to give further foundation to the department of history and to "emphasize" the American heritage. Mrs. Ferguson's talk was on "Women in Politics." Besides the Americanism lecture, Mrs. Ferguson was also principal speaker at Theta Sigma Phi's Matrix Table affair April 8.

The "Great Dr. Polgar," who found a hidden silver money clip in the 104-story Empire State building for the benefit of challenging Look Magazine staffers, appeared for the third time on the campus April 9. The unmythical, balding hypnotist says college students are his favorite subjects.

The Willson Lectures, an annual series of lectures by a speaker of national prominence in religion and science, were held at Tech April 5-8 with Dr. George F. Thomas, Princeton University, as guest lecturer. Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Willson of Floydada set up an endowment to support the lectures in 1947. They have since become a tradition on the Tech campus,

Hitch-hiking May Be Made Easier

Hitch-hiking for Tech students is expected to be easier with the addition of a "Hitch-hikers Board" in the Student Union Building.

The board, presented by Alpha Phi Omega, men's service fraternity, is a large ply-board map of Texas with hooks marking approximately 38 major Texas cities. Hooks are also furnished for rides to Oklahoma, Louisiana, and New Mexico.

A person wishing a ride to one of the cities or another locality may fill out a yellow slip, giving his name, school address and destination. Anyone wanting passengers may check the board for possible hitch-hikers or fill out a blue slip stating that he needs riders.

NOTE

The Tech Day program for Meadow on page 1 of this paper should read MIDLAND instead. The picnic is slated for 6 p.m. in Cole Park, Midland. Exes, families and friends are invited to attend.

Tech's La Ventana Beauties

Shown above are the 10 La Ventana beauties at Tech as selected by Audie Murphy, screen star from Texas and a World War II hero. The girls will be featured on a separate page in the yearbook.

The group comprises two juniors, three sophomores and five freshmen. Listed alphabetically, they are Jerry Anglin, Plainview freshman; Mary Alice Braselton, Plainview sophomore; Ruth Carpenter, Odessa junior; Elna Dunagan, Tahoka junior; Mary Jane Johnson, Wellington freshman.

Also Bette McGehee, Canyon sophomore; Mrs. Robert Northington of Albuquerque, N.M., the former Carolyn Bigby of Ballin-

Ted Harrison, editor of La Ventana, staged the first screening of the beauties last December. A panel of local judges chose 20 finalists from 145 candidates. Then pictures of each finalist in several poses were sent to Hollywood to the 30-year-old Murphy. He chose the top 10 without ranking them in any particular order.

The beauties were presented as a feature of the Tech Varsity Show in March. Three of the girls, Misses Braselton, Dunagan, and Perkins, were La Ventana beauties in 1953.

Grads Receiving AF Pilot Training

Five Tech graduates are receiving their Air Force pilot training at Hondo Air Force Base in California, according to a recent letter received by Col. Ollen Turner, professor of air science and tactics. The letter was received from Texas Aviation Industries, Inc., in Hondo.

Second Lieutenants Edward A. Daniel, Nolan W. Payne, Huey D. Rogers, and Billy E. Tarplay have soloed the T-6 and will graduate April 22.

Second Lieutenant Kenneth L. Leonard has recently arrived on the base and soloed the PA-18.

The primary pilot training program, in addition to 250 hours of ground school training, consists of 20 hours of flying training in a light plane, the PA-18, and 120 hours of flying in the AT-6G, a heavier aircraft. The PA-18 phase must be successfully completed before entering the T-6. After about 25½ weeks, the students are graduated and sent to multi-engine or jet training bases.

Receives Navy Wings

John R. Parker Jr., former Tech student, received his naval aviation wings and a Marine second lieutenant's commission in ceremonies at Pensacola, Fla., recently.

Former Techsan Named Director Of Bicentennial

Joe K. Burson, '41 Tech graduate, has been named director-general for the forthcoming Liberty Bicentennial. The 35-year-old rancher became engaged in ranching activities in Liberty County in 1951.

After receiving his B. A. degree at Tech, Mr. Burson was head of the Industrial Training Division of Phillips Petroleum Company in Kansas City from 1942 to 1944. He represented Phillips in oil industry conferences, served as industry representative with the Kansas State Manpower Commission, and organized and administered training programs for employees and supervisors at Kansas City refinery.

In the Air Force from 1944 until 1946, Mr. Burson served as a classification specialist under Fifth Air Force Service Command in the Philippines, on Okinawa, and at Chitose Air Base on Hokkaido Island, Japan. He returned to college in 1947 and completed work for M. A. degree at Louisiana State University at Baton Rouge, La.

Mr. Burson has also spent two years working in the professional

Enrollment at Tech Included Students From 40 States, 21 Foreign Countries

Where do Tech students come from?

According to figures released by the registrar's office at Texas Tech, there were a total of 6,274 students enrolled at the college during the fall semester of 1953-54. Of this total, 5,456 were undergraduates and 818 were graduates.

In a breakdown by state, 6,005 students were Texans; 98 claimed New Mexico; 16 hailed from Oklahoma; the same number represented California; and Arkansas students numbered 13. There were 248 students representing 39 states outside of Texas.

Twenty-one persons were from other nations and Brazil topped the list with three students. Other foreign countries represented, with one or two students, were Bolivia, Canal Zone, China, Greece, Guatemala, Honduras, Iran, Jordan, Lebanon, Mexico, Netherlands, Puerto Rico, and Venezuela.

He was connected with the theatre, directing and acting, in New York and on the East coast, and in the Southwest Summer Theatre in Waco. More recently, he has taken an active part in the Valley Players, a little theatre unit at Liberty.

Lubbock naturally led the way in the number of students from Texas counties and cities. Hale County's 214 students were second to Lubbock County's 2,045. Tarrant County had 171; Hockley, 156; and Dallas, 143.

In the enrollment of students by towns, Lubbock had 1,921; Fort Worth, 153; Plainview, 125; Dallas, 121. Amarillo, 110, and Midland, 105. Students came from 548 different towns in Texas. Of the total number of undergraduates, 4,038 were men and 1,418 were women.

William M. Taylor Elected VP of Advertising Agency

William M. Taylor, '47 commercial art graduate, has been elected a vice-president of Don L. Baxter, Inc., a national advertising agency. The board of directors of that organization recently announced the selection of the former Techsan.

Textile Engineering Department Names New Man To Head Dual Assignment

An Oak Ridge, Tenn. man, Raymond K. Flege, has been appointed head of the textile engineering department at Texas Tech and will also serve as associate director of the Fibers and Spinning Branch of the Cotton Research Committee of Texas effective Sept. 1, according to President E. N. Jones.

The combination job he will fill was created by the college in an effort to coordinate academic work with applied research. The Textile Advisory Committee, composed of a number of Tech exes now in the textile industry, recommended the new appointment.

Flege, who is 49 years old and a native of Williamstown, Ky., is presently employed on a project of the Rust Engineering Company in Oak Ridge, Tenn. He received his B.A. and M.A. in chemistry from the University of Kentucky and an M.A. in chemical engineering from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. An experienced research man, Flege has been connected with The Kendall Co., the North Star Woolen Mill Co., the Stonecutter Mills, and the de Nemours and Co.

Prof. L. E. Parsons, head of the textile engineering department since 1945, will remain on the staff as a full professor, and Dr. Lyle Hessler will retain his position as research associate with the Cotton Research Committee. Tech's textile engineering department, one of 10 in the nation and the only such department west of the Mississippi River, was established with the college in 1925.

K. Lanse Turner, class of 1941, is director of all three branches of the state supported Cotton Research Committee. The branches are located at Texas A.&M., University of Texas, and Texas Tech.

Aptitude Test Required For Admission To Graduate School Effective Sept. 1

Beginning Sept. 1, everyone seeking admission to the Texas Tech graduate school with the intention of working toward a degree will be required to take the Aptitude Test of the Graduate Record Examinations. This includes Tech graduates.

No special preparation is necessary for this test according to the Dean of the Graduate School, W. B. Gates. The test is to be taken only once, and students who have taken it elsewhere should request the Educational Testing Service to send their records to Tech.

An examination fee of $4.00 is required, and a check for this amount made out to the college should be sent to the Dean of the Graduate School with a request that a test be ordered for a particular date. The exams are to be given on the campus three times each year—in October,

March, and July. The test will be taken either prior to registration or at the first exam date thereafter.

To be admitted to the Graduate School as an applicant for any graduate degree, a student must make a score which places him in the "upper half." In the event that the required grade is not made, a student may be granted "conditional admission." Then upon the completion of twelve hours of graduate work at Tech, his record will be reviewed and he may be requested to take an Advanced Test in his major subject. At this point he will either be granted regular admission to the Graduate School or will be considered an "unclassified graduate student" without a degree objective.

A somewhat different procedure will be required of those already working on graduate degrees. Additional information about any aspect of the testing program may be obtained by writing or visiting the Dean of the Graduate School, room 251, Administration Building.

E-SA Sponsors 6-8 Scholarships To Aid Students

From six to eight scholarships sponsored by the Ex-Students Association are available to qualifying undergraduates and entering freshmen at Tech each semester. Each scholarship is for $75 a semester, or $150 a year.

Several students have applied for the scholarships this fall according to Dr. Ernest Wallace, chairman of the Faculty Committee on Scholarships and Awards. Applicants for the fall term have until July 1 each year, and Dec. 1 to apply for the spring semester. The winner of a fall-term scholarship may re-apply for a spring award.

The scholarships will go to needy students who have an overall average of 1.75, and at least that average during the preceding semester. Entering freshmen must have been in the upper 25 per cent of their high school classes. High character and good citizenship are essential.

The selection committee, including a representative of the Ex-Student Association, will consider all applicants each term. Application forms may be obtained from Dr. Wallace or L. C. Walker, executive secretary of the Ex-Students Association.

Council Adopts No Summer Rush Policy

Texas Tech Panhellenic Council has adopted the policy of no summer rushing for sororities on the campus.

This includes points such as no organized parties; an organized party shall be assumed to be in existence when one or more members or alumnae of one sorority and one or more prospective rushees are present.

Instead of individual parties, the council has recommended that an organized city Panhellenic sponsor a cooperative party, with equal representation of all sororities at Tech.

The council has decided that no letters, papers, cards, wires or magazines may be sent by any sorority, its actives or its alumnae to any prospective rushee or her family, and no flowers, gifts or favors may be sent rushees.

Violations of the rules by a sorority member or alumnae may result in loss of half of the pledge quota for that sorority.

Any questions about the rules should be sent to the Dean of Women at Tech.

The top four association officers will be elected at the Nov. 12 meeting of the Association Council.

Ad Building Bulletins...

William H. Crenshaw, 40, Midland attorney, has been named director of development of the Texas Tech Foundation. Crenshaw succeeds Ed (Bud) Smith, who resigned recently after a year's service to accept a position as vice president of the Citizens National Bank in Lubbock.

Crenshaw attended Tech from 1932 to 1934 as pre-law student and was graduated from Southern Methodist University in 1942. For the past nine years he has been a practicing attorney and in the oil business in Midland. Mrs. Crenshaw is the former Margaret Birdsong, class of '35. The couple has three sons.

Two faculty resignations were recently accepted by the Tech Board of Directors from Dean of Women Marjorie M. Neely and Miss Mayme L. Twyford, associate professor of foods and nutrition.

Mrs. Neely, who came to the college, Sept. 1, 1951, will relinquish her duties on Sept. 1. She said in resigning that she feels it necessary to spend at least the fall and winter months with her parents in Nezperce, Idaho. They have been in ill health.

It has been during Mrs. Neely's stay at Tech that the nationalization program for the women's social clubs has been effected. Tech now has seven national sororities and a program of continued expansion to take care of the next two academic years has been set. Also, under her guidance, a plan has been made for establishing a freshman women's dormitory on the campus this fall.

Dr. E. N. Jones explained Miss Twyford's resignation as "more of a requested retirement for personal reasons." Miss Twyford joined the Tech faculty in 1928. A specialist in food preparation and meal service, she developed a course in food demonstration methods which was popular with the students, according to her associates in the department who praised her highly. She resigned by letter from her family home at West Union, W. Va.

The Board of Directors has approved the immediate construction of the first unit of a college infirmary, plans for the eventual construction of a new gymnasium, and an addition to the Student Union Building.

The new infirmary, which will cost an estimated $250,000 equipped, will be named the Harriet and Len McClella Memorial Infirmary. The proposed two-story structure will house a clinic and offices on the ground floor and 18 hospital beds on the second floor. It will be located west of Drane Hall.

It is anticipated that construction will begin on the infirmary this fall. The college architect was authorized to present tentative plans on the new gymnasium at the August meeting of the Board.

Summer School Enrollment Rises

Summer school enrollment has reached 2,090, which is a greater number than attended last summer. More students are expected to enroll throughout the summer when various short courses begin.

About 25 different workshops and conferences at Tech are being sponsored this summer by the five divisions of the college. The schedule for the second semester beginning July 19 is as follows:

July 19-Aug. 6: Driver Education workshop — sponsored by Tech, State Highway Department and Department of Public Safety.

July 19-Aug. 6: Workshop in Clothing and Textiles. July 19-23: Preparation of Patterns and Materials. July 26-31: Introduction to the Bishop Method, and advanced tailoring taught by Mrs. Bishop. Aug. 2-6: Evaluation of Bishop Method of Construction.

July 26-30: Workshops in creative arts for home demonstration club women.

Aug. 8-13: Workshop of the National Association of Teachers of Singing; one of six regional workshops in the United States, only one in the Southwest.

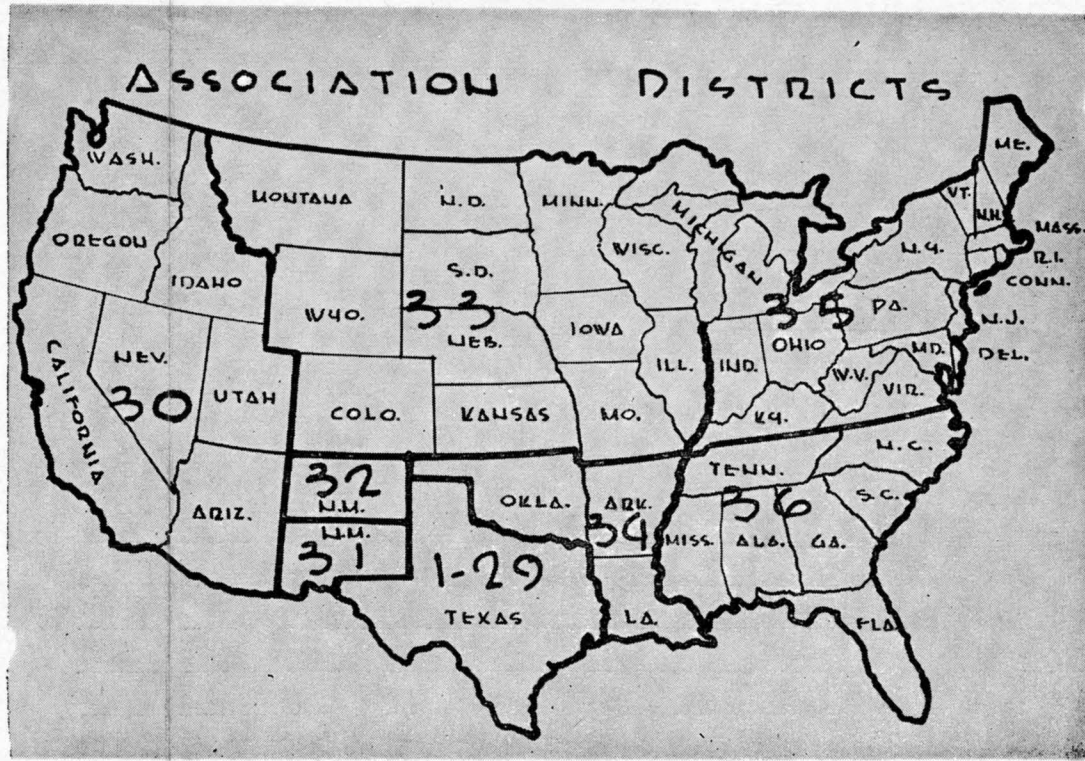

Aug. 9-13: Two workshops in foods and nutrition for school lunch workers.

'54 Annual Features Unusual Grouping

The 1954 La Ventana features a new trend in yearbook lay out. The editor of the 525 page annual was Ted Harrison, senior from Roswell, N. M.

Pictures of junior and senior students in a division are grouped together in a section along with the departmental clubs and societies of the division. Freshman and sophomore students follow the five division sections. A great number of activity pictures are placed throughout the book, and an extensive index system is listed at the back.

The 29th volume of the La Ventana is a chronicle of an eventful year at Texas Tech. It was published at a cost of approximately $30,000 and contains pictures of at least 3,500 Techsians. The gray cover is highlighted with a splash of red surrounding a sketch of one of the Ad Building towers. The sketch and lettering on the book are in black.

THE ABOVE MAP of the United States shows how the country has been divided into districts for use by the Ex-Students Association. District 1-29 are in Texas, and districts 30-36 are made up of various states in the Union. Districts 31 and 32, both in New Mexico, are divided at the 34th parallels.

A Tech graduate became Houston's "millionth citizen" July 3, and the city which 30 years ago couldn't even claim to be the largest in Texas thus classed itself with the biggest of the nation's big.

"Mr. Million" is Barney Clifton McCasland, Jr. 36, who graduated from Tech with a geological engineering degree in 1938. He moved to Houston from Jackson, Miss. He is district geologist for the tidelands operations of the Cities Service Oil Co.

McCasland was given an estimated $10,000 worth of gifts, including a new car and a two-week expense-paid tour of 11 other U. S. cities and metropolitan areas of a million or more citizens.

Mrs. McCasland is also a Tech Ex. She is the former Frances Titus of Pecos. The McCaslands have five sons.

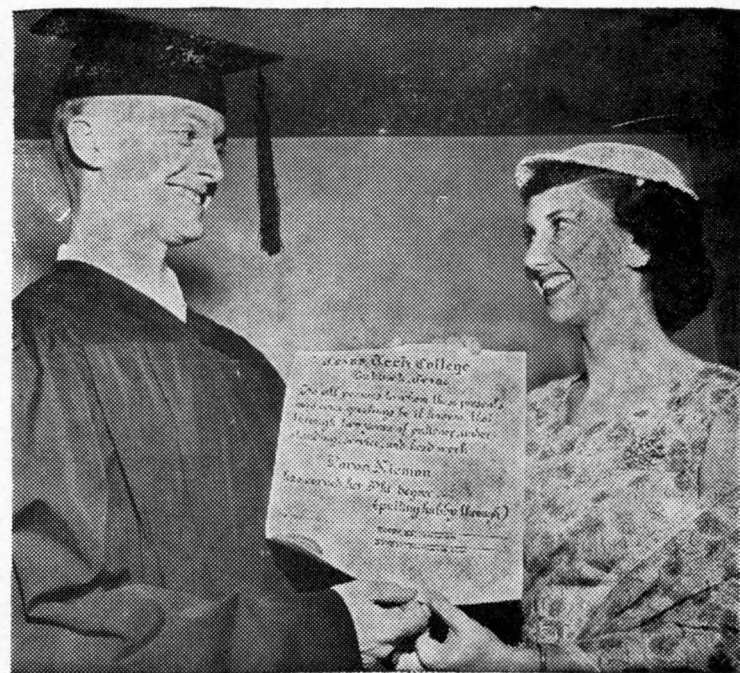

solemnized recently in Midland. She is a Tech ex and is employed by the Shell Oil Company; her husband is employed by the Magnolia Petroleum Company.

PEGGY FLOYD and BILL BALES were married May 27 in Lubbock. Peggy was a sophomore at Tech and a member of Tri Delta. Bill is a '53 petroleum geology graduate and a member of Kappa Sigma. The couple is at home in Oklahoma City where Bill is employed by Sohio Oil Co.

The former MOLLY A. FEECE, class of '42, was married to Capt. Herman P. Hevenor, III, U.S.A.F., in April in Anchorage, Alaska. They are now living in Washington, D.C.

DOLORES KETCHERSID and Alexander Gifford, Jr. were wed May 22 in Houston. Dolores received a B.A. degree in journalism from Tech in '52. She is now society editor of the "Galveston News-Tribune."

MARJORIE WIGGINS and FRED ROBERT BEASLEY were married in Marlin May 29. Marjorie graduated from Tech in '53 with a B.S. in education. She was a member of Kappa Alpha Theta and is now employed in Dr. A. E. Gesell's office. The bridegroom attended Texas Tech and art schools in California. He is now employed by a Lubbock television station.

TECH GRAD O. G. "Speedy" Nieman is shown as he awards his wife, Lavon, a "Ph.T." degree just after receiving his B.A. in journalism in May. Her unique degree stands for "Putting Hubby Through." The Niemans are now living in San Angelo where "Speedy" is on the sports staff of the San Angelo Standard Times, and Lavon has retired to being a housewife, after working two years to help put her husband through school.

608 Seniors Receive Diplomas In May Graduation Services at Jones Stadium

Fair weather on the high plains during graduation week-end permitted both the baccalaureate sermon and commencement exercises to be held in Jones Stadium this year.

Dr. Marvin S. Vance, pastor of the Austin First Methodist Church delivered the sermon Sunday night, May 27; and Dr. Ernest C. Colwell, dean of the faculties of Emory University at Atlanta, Ga. and former president of the University of Chicago, was the commencement speaker on Monday night.

Diplomas were presented to 608 graduates with 610 degrees being conferred. George Theodore Cramer, Dallas, received a B.A. and a B.S. in chemistry, and Oren Smith Beasley, Liberty, received a bachelor of architecture degree and a B.S. degree in civil engineering.

Tech's first doctor of philosophy degree in geology was presented to Francis Earl Green of Slaton.

Senior Class President Odis Echols presented Dr. E. N. Jones with the class gift, a check for $1,033 to be used in repairing the mechanism of the chime clock in the West tower of the Administration building and on other campus improvements.

DR. JAMES WAYNE KUYKEN-DALL and Jean Musselman were married May 22 in Mechanicsburg, Pa. The couple is living in Dallas, where Wayne will intern at Parkland Hospital.

Two graduate students of Texas Tech were married May 29 in Plainview. They were MARTHA LUAN CARTER and WILLIAM RAYMOND BRUNSON, both of whom are on the faculty of the Plainview Junior High School.

Ex-Techsman NELDA KAY ROGERS and ERNEST RAY SNEED exchanged wedding vows May 25 at Acuff. The couple is at home in San Marcos, where Ernest is stationed at Gary Air Force Base.

Ex-Student Dies From Fall Injuries

Mrs. Daniel W. Van Vranken, 22, a former Texas Tech student, died in her El Paso home May 22 following a brain concussion suffered in a fall.

Mrs. Van Vranken is the former Frances Dee Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Martin, Johnson City, and was a home economics major at Tech. She and her husband were living in El Paso while he was stationed at Biggs Air Force Base.

Survivors include the husband, the parents, one sister, Claudia Martin, a student at Tech; and one brother, Donald.

New Editor

Shirley Hammer, the former Shirley Cartwright and a senior journalism student at Texas Tech, was named managing editor of the ex-student publications June 1. She replaces O. G. "Speedy" Nieman who graduated in May.

Shirley, a graduate of Lubbock High School, attended Texas State College for Women one semester and enrolled in Tech in the spring of '52. She was married last December to Travis Hammer, also a senior at Tech. She was formerly employed by K.F.Y.O.

EXES OBSERVE—

tri-county organization of Tech Exes.

DeWitt Weaver, head coach at Tech, was guest speaker at the meeting of the SAN ANGELO Exes May 5. Also present were Polk Robison, basketball coach, and Bill Holmes, sports publicity director, who were on their way to the Border Conference meeting at Tucson, Ariz. LAMESA Exes observed Tech Day with an informal dinner meeting and elected officers. BROWNFIELD Exes saw a movie of the Gator Bowl game at their luncheon meeting.

Many acquaintances were renewed at the DENVER, COLO. dinner-dance meeting of Exes held at the Aviation Country Club. Exes in CASPER, WYO. organized a chapter and saw a movie of the Gator Bowl game at a dinner meeting. At TULSA, OKLA. J. O. "Buddy" Brothers, '31 grad, was host at a Tech Day meeting and a movie of the 1953 Tech-Houston football game was shown for the former students.

A buffet supper was held for SWEETWATER, COLORADO CITY, and SNYDER ex-students May 15 to celebrate Tech Day. Harold Huffman, a vice president of the Association, was the speaker at the picnic held by MIDLAND Exes. Former students living in DIMMIT and CASTRO COUNTY observed Tech Day with an informal dinner.

CORPUS CHRISTI Exes had a barbecue in observance of Tech Day; and former students in SAN ANTONIO held a rally, according to Bernie Winkler, former Raider footballer who is president of the chapter.

Several chapters expressed regrets in their reports that their attendance at the Tech Day meetings was not as large as expected and suggested that perhaps the reason was because Mother's Day weekend was at the same time.

Nieman, who has edited the publication since last September is on the sports staff of a newspaper in San Angelo, where he and his wife Lavon are living.

GRADUATION was really a family affair for the three Ross's of Pampa this May. Two-month-old Gina grins proudly as her mother, Beverly Brandt Ross shows her the tiny sheepskin. K. D. and Beverly finished their college work in January, with a B.B.A. in accounting and a B.A. in speech, respectively. Gina, of course, received a B.A.B.Y. degree

Work Begun On Auditorium and Coliseum at Tech

At long last construction has begun on an auditorium-coliseum on Texas Tech campus west of Jones Stadium. The project is a joint one between the city of Lubbock and Tech.

Ground breaking ceremonies were held May 19 and completion is scheduled in 520 calendar days.

The combined building will be of steel, concrete, brick and tile. Seating capacity of the auditorium will be 3,200 and the coliseum from 7,500 permanent seats to 10,000 for various events.

Cost of the building and equipment will be approximately two million dollars, which will be financed by the city of Lubbock. Texas Tech provided land for the project.

Tall Cager Signs With Red Raiders

Tech's basketball prospects are literally looking up, since 6 foot 7 Tommy Reales of Maxwell, N. M. accepted an athletic scholarship last month.

He will be the tallest freshman basketball player since 6 foot 10 Paul Nolen who graduated in 1953 and played professional basketball last year for the Washington Capitols.

Reales, who is scheduled to play in the New Mexico Coaching School all-star game in August, made all-district and all-state. He captained the Maxwell High School team two seasons, averaging close to 22 points a game for his last two years.

Reales plays center and weighs 220 pounds. He served as class president at Maxwell last year.

You had to be named Calhoun to score a touchdown in the Texas Tech-Loyola of the South game at New Orleans Nov. 5, 1937.

Charlie Calhoun scored four touchdowns for Texas Tech, and Clay Calhoun crossed for the Wolves. Babe Curfman added an extra point to give Tech its 26-6 victory.

Tech Five Enters Kentucky Tourney

Tech's basketball squad will play in the All-American City Basketball Tournament at Owensboro, Ky., next season. The tournament will be held at Kentucky Wesleyan College in Owensboro on Dec. 27-30.

The Raiders will be rounding out an entry list of eight well-known cage squads throughout the nation. Tech will encounter competition from Rhode Island, Maryland (defending tournament champion), Mississippi, Cincinnati, Denver, Evansville College, and the host, Kentucky Wesleyan.

The locals who will go into the tourney boasting the best seasonal record of the list, will see plenty of competition from Maryland, favored for a repeat performance.

The Maryland five ranked 11th in the nation last year, and will be minus only their All-American, Gene Shue. The Terps will have nine returning lettermen to bolster the squad.

Tech will enter without the aid of three of its this year's starters. That will be breaking up what is considered the greatest team in the school's history. The Raiders took the Border Conference championship and finished the season with a 20-5 record.

New Talent Lined Up

Tech's basketball success during the past season has helped Coach Polk Robison acquire some talented high school players.

Those who are lined up so far include: Logan Cummings, Hereford's captain; Bobby Wilson, second team all-state from Lipan; Ross Elam, all-regional from Megargel; George Simmons, all-district from Kirbyville; and Jim Horne of Watson's Chapel, Ark., a top player in the state tournament; and Tony Reales, 6 foot 7 center from Maxwell, N. M.

Army Sgt. Jimmy R. Rankin is serving with the 40th Infantry Division which was recently awarded the Republic of Korea Presidential Unit citation in Korea. Rankin is a 1952 agronomy grad of Tech.

Ex-Students Asked To Be In Stands At A&M Game

With Texas A&M calling upon its exes to attend the Texas Tech game to get the Aggies' new football program off to a good start, it's obvious that Ex-Techs, too, should be in the stands.

So that Texas Tech's representatives can sit together at the Red Raider-Aggie game in College Station the night of Sept. 18. Coach DeWitt Weaver is suggesting that Tech's former students buy their tickets through Texas Tech.

Game tickets can be obtained on a first - order - first - served basis from the Texas Tech Athletic Office. Simply come by the office in the southeast corner of Jones Stadium or send a check or money order payable to Texas Tech to the Athletic Office. A&M tickets are $3.25 each. An additional 25 cents should be included in each order for mailing charges.

Tonroy graduated from Tech in 1950 with a B.S. degree in geology.

Schantz Teaching In Summer School

Ira Schantz, former member of the Texas Tech department of music staff, has returned to Lubbock for the summer following a successful season in professional music in New York.

Schantz is teaching voice at Tech during the summer, but will return to New York in September where he will join the famed Robert Shaw Chorale for a tour, Sept. 29 through Dec. 10.

Schantz will appear with the chorale in a performance on the Tech Artists Course in Lubbock Nov. 19. The noted choir, directed by Robert Shaw, appeared on the Tech Artists Course series several years ago. Schantz will also make a tour with the group in March.

Former Toreador Editor Burgess Dixon, class of '38, writes that he would like to hear from classmates who worked on the paper with him, namely Morris "Tanner" Lane, Raymond Lee Johns, and Sammy Drake.

Dixon recently learned of the ex-student publications from another Tech Ex and is living at 865 Bratton St., Jackson, Miss. He is one of two editors of the Mississippi Farm Bureau News.

Six Student Scholarships Financed By Property Deposit Fund Left By Exes

Perhaps you are benefactor to six students at Texas Tech without realizing it.

At the beginning of the semester six scholarships of $75 each were awarded to students deemed deserving by the Faculty Committee on Scholarships and Awards and the Ex-Students Association.

The money for these scholarships comes from interest which has accumulated over the years on unclaimed $7 property deposits put up by all students when entering school. The principal, of course, has been kept in tact, and only the interest which has mounted is being used.

That is why Tech Exes have unknowingly helped in this project. Out of the property deposit comes a students library fines, charges against him for broken lab equipment, etc. while in school. When he graduates or leaves school, the student turns the remainder over to the Ex-Students Association, asks for the return of the remainder of the money, or, as is often the case, the student just leaves the money in the property deposit fund.

Little by little, these unclaimed deposits have increased and they have drawn interest over the years. This interest has been put to beneficial use this year under the sponsorship of the Ex-Students Association in the form of scholarships.

The recipients are: Dorothy Frances Wease, junior transfer from San Antonio College, majoring in bacteriology; Gwendolyn Sue Rucker of Lubbock, sophomore math major; Shirley C. Hammer, senior journalism major from Lubbock; Theresa Ponewszynski elementary education major from Brooklyn, N. Y.; Anita Jo Rochelle, an entering freshman from Lubbock who is studying pre-medical courses; and the only male winner, Marion Bedinger, a Dallas geology major.

The scholarships are renewable for the spring semester if grades justify the continuance. Dec. 1 is the deadline to apply for the spring semester.

'Fish' Enrollment Is Up 20 Percent

Freshman enrollment at Texas Tech this fall jumped upward by more than 20 percent, Registrar W. P. Clement announced.

Final figures show 1,758 first year students at Tech this year, 384 more than enrolled a year ago.

The rise in freshman students is well above the increase registered by the College as a whole, Clement said. Tech reached an all-time enrollment peak this fall with 6,247 students, 100 more students than were registered in the previous high year of 1948.

Museum Artist Finishes Mural

Artist Peter Hurd has departed for the West Coast after completing the last of a 16-panel mural in the rotunda of The Museum at Texas Tech.

The final panel features Dr. Clifford B. Jones, a past president of Texas Tech and well-known civic leader.

Dr. Jones, who posed last week, is pictured standing in front of an early 1900 model Studebaker. He was chosen to represent the civic leader in the mural which portrays the life and people of West Texas between 1890 and 1925.

Hurd will return to the campus on November 12 to do some final retouching on the mural. The formal dedication service is scheduled for Thursday, Nov. 18.

He has arranged a meeting on the campus with press, radio and television representatives on Nov. 13.

During his visit to the West Coast, he will appear on a television show with Henry Fonda. He will also be a judge of the annual art exhibit at the Arizona State Fair in Phoenix.

Dr. Hall Appointed Head of Journalism

Dr. William E. Hall, assistant to the president at the University of New Mexico for the past two years, has been appointed to a dual position as head of the department of journalism and director of public information at Texas Tech.

Dr. Hall previously taught journalism at the University of New Mexico and at the State University of Iowa. His experience includes seven years with Scripps-Howard newspapers.

In journalism, he succeeds Prof. J. Russell Heitman, who resigned to re-enter the newspaper field, and in public information, Aubrey Shouse. Mr. Shouse is now employed in photographic work, with headquarters in Abilene.

The new journalism and public information head took his bachelor's degree in political science at the University of New Mexico and his master's in journalism from Columbia University. In the past summer he received his doctorate at Iowa.

A specialist in international journalism, Dr. Hall was one of 10 American co-ordinators who, in 1952, directed an international study of the "flow of news." This project, sponsored by the International Press Institute, was the most comprehensive news study ever undertaken. Dr. Hall is married and has three children. He served in the Army during World War II as a combat infantryman and as a special agent in counter-intelligence.

Ralph Blodgett Is New Candidate

Ralph Blodgett of Spearman has been nominated first vice president of the Texas Tech Ex-Student Association for the 1955 term after Leon Ince of Houston indicated that he could not accept the nomination made by the committee in June.

The election of Association officers will be held at the Council meeting scheduled for 1:30 p.m. Friday, Nov. 12. Other nominees are Hart Shoemaker of Abilene for president, J. P. Smith of Panhandle for second vice president, and Culver Hill of Lubbock as director.

Blodgett, who graduated from Tech in 1941, has served on the Executive Board of the Ex-Students Association as a director for three years.

Queen Will Be Presented At Homecoming

For the first time in its history, Texas Tech will have a Homecoming Queen. She has been selected by the Double T Association from candidates nominated by interested campus organizations.

Her majesty's identity will not be revealed until the half-time ceremonies of the Homecoming game, Saturday, Nov. 13. However, the five girls receiving the most votes will ride on the Double T Association float in the parade that morning.

The nominees were girls of junior or senior classification with at least a one-point over all grade average. The girls were judged on both personality and beauty, and voting was by secret ballot.

Reunions, Parade, Luncheon To Entertain Exes

Texas Tech's Homecoming celebration of 1954 should prove to be a memorable one, since it will have all the exciting events of previous ones plus the crowning of a Homecoming Queen at half-time ceremonies of the Tech and University of Tulsa game.

Starting Friday afternoon, Nov. 12, Exes may register at the major Lubbock hotels and principal campus buildings. Detailed programs of all Homecoming activities will be available then and on Saturday morning.

A pep rally will be held in the Tech Gym at 7 p.m. followed by a big bonfire south of the Gym. After that, Class Reunions will be held. The Old Timers, classes of 1926 through '38, will meet at the Caprock Hotel. All other class reunions will be held at the Student Union Building and will be in three divisions: Classes of '39-'43, classes of '44-'49, and classes of '50-'54.

Parade At 10:30

Highlighting Saturday morning will be the colorful Homecoming parade at 10:30, which will have floats from over 30 campus organizations. At noon, all Ex-Techs will be treated to a free buffet luncheon in the Tech Gym courtesy of Texas, New Mexico, and Oklahoma Coaches, Inc., Furr's Super Markets, Dunlaps Department Store, and the Lubbock Auto Co. Inc.

At 2 p.m. the Red Raiders will be in the lime light at Jones Stadium when they take on the University of Tulsa. During half-time, awards will be given for winning floats and the best decorated dormitory, and the Homecoming Queen will be crowned.

Receptions For Alumni

During the day many campus organizations will be having receptions and coffees honoring alumni and alumnae. Some are scheduled before and after the parade, and others will be held after the football game. The Homecoming programs will give the time and location of these functions. Beginning at 9 a.m. a dance for students, Exes, and their friends will wind up the busy weekend.

Alpha Phi, Sigma Kappa Have Colonized At Tech

Two more national sororities, Alpha Phi and Sigma Kappa, were colonized at Texas Tech last month, bringing the total number of sororities on the campus to nine.

There are two other Alpha Phi chapters in Texas, one at the University of Texas and one at North Texas State College. Sigma Kappa has one other chapter in Texas at SMU.

Alpha Phi was founded 82 years ago at Syracuse University, Syracuse, N. Y., and now has 52 active chapters and 168 alumnae clubs. It maintains its headquarters in Evanston, Ill., and publishes a quarterly which hasn't missed an issue since its initial publication in July, 1888.

The chief philanthropy of the sorority is the Alpha Phi Cardiac foundation, to which the members have contributed $160,000 since its foundation in 1946 and for which they served 8,832 volunteer hours last year. The foundation provides funds for "blue baby" operations, for the care of children suffering from rheumatic fever and for scholarships for heart research.

Sigma Kappa was founded at Colby College, Waterville, Me., in 1874. It now has 63 active chapters and more than 100 alumnae clubs. Its national headquarters office is at Indianapolis, Ind., and its quarterly publication is the Sigma Kappa Triangle.

Sigma Kappa's philanthropy has been the Maine Sea Coast Mission at Bar Harbor. It supplies educational aids to folks living on the 2,500 islands off the Maine coast and at Christmas plays Santa Claus to more than 1,000 children in the mission region. Another of its projects has been the providing of magazine subscriptions for military hospitals and recreation centers.

Kemas To Join National Fraternity

Kemas, only local social club left at Tech, will become affiliated with Phi Gamma Delta on Dec. 10 and 11 at ceremonies in Lubbock. A charter was granted to the Kemas club this summer at the Phi Gamma Delta biennial convention.

Phi Gamma Delta, the thirteenth oldest Greek-letter society in America, was founded in 1848 at Jefferson College in Cannonsburg, Pa. There are 81 undergraduate chapters at colleges in the United States and Canada. The only other chapter in Texas is at the University of Texas in Austin.

All alumni of Kemas whether graduates of Tech or not, are eligible for membership provided they hold no other membership in a national social fraternity. Additional details are available by writing to the Kemas, Box 4006 Tech Station, Lubbock.

Everything Goes As Ladies Bid On Merchandise

Horn Hall Auction Antics Entertain Residents; Proceeds Go To Polio Fund

by Janice Cox

Toreador Staff Writer

"Going once — going twice — gone for $2.08!"

The cries of seasoned auctioneers could scarcely have been more spirited and tempting to the bidders than the voices of Shirley PuPriest and Betty Hickerson, as they conducted the Horn Hall storeroom auction in the dorm lobby recently.

Bids started at 2 cents and went as high as $13 for merchandise ranging from mops to antiquated matador costumes.

Announcements were made earlier in the week that the storerooms would be cleared of all unclaimed items. On the night preceding the auction, members of Horn Hall's social committee transferred the contents from the six wing storerooms to the center of the dorm lobby. Bidding began at 10 p.m. Thursday and continued on Friday and Monday. Almost $245 was taken in, which is to be given to the Polio Fund.

As the "skeletons in the closet" were brought up for bidding, the lives of past residents floated before the eyes of the onlookers. Boxes of forgotten love letters (which were destroyed), bulletin boards still covered with dead corsages and old dance bids, the financial records of one of the old social clubs, battered portfolios filled with the work of art majors — bits of human drama in the form of forgotten possessions.

Since the auction was held after hours, it was open only to Horn residents, but many of the male visitors picked out objects beforehand and left instructions with the girls as to how much they might bid for them.

Perhaps the most memorable sight of the entire event was Auctioneer "Dupe" DuPriest parading about the lobby in a 1940 model teddy bear coat, wearing a long-handled tin pan upon her brow. A typical Tech event, conducted in typical Tech style!

Forum Entertains National Secretary

Active and alumnae members of Forum, honorary organization for senior women, recently entertained the national secretary of Mortar Board, the national senior women society with whom Forum hopes to affiliate.

The secretary, Miss Thelma Lockwood of Austin, was the first of two visitors that Mortar Board sends to a campus before a formal petition is presented. She advised with active and alumnae groups on revising plans and suggested changes which would strengthen Forum's hope of attaining Mortar Board status.

A Homecoming come-and-go for Forum members and alumnae will be held at the Lubbock Women's Club from 8 to 10:30 a.m. Saturday, Nov. 13. The recent visit of the Mortar Board national secretary will be discussed.

Shirley Massey, president of Forum, has requested that all former members send in their current address and that those who wish to attend the coffee send fifty cents along with their address. The information should be mailed to Shirley Massey, Knapp Hall, Texas Tech.

Las Vivi Exes Plan Open House Sat.

An Open House for all Las Vivarachas alumnae, Zeta Tau Alpha members and alumnae, and their husbands or dates will be held immediately after the Homecoming game on the second floor of the Student Union Building, Saturday, Nov. 13.

This meeting will provide an opportunity for the Las Vivarachas alumnae to meet members and alumnae of the Zeta Tau Alpha sorority, with whom the Las Vivarachas affiliated in 1953. Those who are interested may enter the active Zeta alumnae club.

Any former Vivs who are unable to attend the Open House and who are interested in affiliating may contact Mrs. Nolen Swain, Jr., 1810 16th St. or Mrs. Bob Wells, 2213 28th St., both of Lubbock.

First 'La Ventana' Reveals Texas Tech College Had Exciting Beginning in 1925-26

By SHIRLEY HAMMER

Journalism '55

"The Kissing Situation at Texas Tech" was the subject of an essay included in the first La Ventana, published in 1926.

After interviewing a cross section of people at Tech, including Pres. Paul Whitfield Horn, the author of the humorous article concluded that he had accomplished his mission with the promises of three Deans to offer courses on the subject the following year.

The yearbook published after Tech's initial year as a college contained over 250 pages, had pictures of about 600 students, and gave a good resume of the year's activities in picture and story. Editor-in-chief was James B. Biggers.

The bleak-looking campus, alternately plagued by mud and sandstorms, boasted seven buildings: the Administration, Textile Engineering, Home Economics Buildings; Stock Judging Pavilion, which was also used for a gym and auditorium; dairy barns; Dr. Horn's residence; and a cafeteria, which is now the Tech Bookstore.

Fifty-four faculty members taught in the school's four divisions, designated as the College of Liberal Arts, Engineering, Agriculture and Home Economics. Nine persons served on the first Board of Directors, with Amon G. Carter of Fort Worth serving as the chairman.

Class sections of the annual featured pictures of 130 sophomores and 516 freshmen. Actual enrollment for the 1925-26 year was 1,379 students, mostly young men and women from nearby ranches. Five young "flappers" were given individual pages as the winners of the first "Vanity Fair" beauty contest at Tech. The mode of the day was short-waved hair with a spit curl on the forehead, fur collars, short and shapless dresses, and generally a long string of pearls. Many of the college men wore their hair parted in the center and slicked close to their heads.

Spanish Theme

The book had a predominantly Spanish theme with the divisions being named in that language: El Colegio, El Arena, Los Militares,

La Plaza, Las Lindas and La Inquisicion. The cover was royal blue with a window of Spanish architecture revealing the main entrance to the Ad Building and the name "La Ventana 1926" in gold.

El Arena, the sports section, had pictures taken at each of Tech's football games in the fall of '25. The football team made a good showing with six wins, one loss and two ties. The coach, E. Y. Freeland, and Asst. Coach Graily Higginbotham had only two weeks before school started to train their team. Freeland came to Tech from a coaching job at SMU. Tech's opponents and scores for each game that year were:

Tech vs. McMurry College	0-0
Tech vs. Austin College	3-3
Tech vs. Montezuma	30-0
Tech vs. Clarendon	13-7

According to the yearbook, Alford made the first touchdown, gained more ground and scored more points than any other man on the team. However, a player by the name of Archibald was cited as making the first points for Texas Tech in the game with Austin College. Winefield (Windy) Nicklaus, a fullback, and Hurley (Red) Carpenter, tackle, were captain and captain-elect for the Matadors.

Origin Of "Matadors"

Mrs. E. Y. Freeland, wife of the head coach, is given credit for suggesting the name "Matadors" for Texas Tech's athletic teams. This and her suggestion of black and red as official school colors were adopted by the student body. These choices were made in keeping with the Spanish architecture of the school.

A special train was chartered to the Abilene football game and Margaret Smith, "one of the most beautiful girls attending Tech," was elected sponsor by the football boys at that time.

Tech was also represented by a baseball, basketball and track team that first year. Women's athletics included swimming, volleyball, tennis, baseball, hiking, basketball, horseback riding and stunts.

Military Division

In the division "Los Militares" were pictures of three platoons and a military band. The cadets received instructions in firing rifles, had a series of classroom lectures on military science and tactics, and drilled three hours a week. All four groups had coeds as sponsors, as the squadrons now at Tech elect sweethearts to march with them. A summary of military activities at Tech said: "Next year the prospects are bright for the establishment of an ROTC unit here, which means that proper equipment in the way of rifles, bayonets, etc., will be available."

Whatever else may have been lacking at Tech that first year, it seems that extracurricular activities and social life were not. The yearbook shows members of 24 mutual interest and professional clubs, a concert band, an annual staff, and staff members of The Toreador. John Young was

Peter Hurd's Manner, Actions Unlike Stereotyped Artist's

Humane Character of Museum Muralist Accounts For Lifelike Quality Paintings

By Harold Creswell
Toreador Staff Writer

I've been locked in a lot of places; but a few days ago I was wandering around Tech Museum not noticing the time, and when I got ready to leave I found all the doors were locked. While pondering my dilemma, I heard a voice from the balcony call out, "Come on up and join the rest of us prisoners." The voice belonged to Peter Hurd, New Mexico artist who is painting the 16-panel mural in the Museum rotunda.

Peter Hurd, I was to find, is a very human character, which probably accounts for the lifelike quality found in all his paintings. At the time of my accident, he was eating dinner; but later I watched him at work.

Unless he is working you might mistake him for an easy-going cowpoke. What a surprise it was to find out that he had attended West Point with the idea of making soldiering his career. After his second year at "The Point" he decided that the career of painting had more appeal for him than soldiering.

Mr. Hurd introduced me to his charming wife, Henriette Wyeth Hurd, and I was surprised to find that she also is an accomplished artist. Here is a combination which is the envy of many married couples. While "Petey" (that's what she calls him) is working, Mrs. Hurd stands at a distance to help him keep his paintings in the proper perspective. The sight of two minds functioning as one leaves a person watching them overcome with amazement.

If you happen to catch Hurd in a moment of relaxation, which seems to be very seldom, don't be surprised if he is twanging a guitar and singing some of his favorite songs. Don't worry about your ear going sour either. If you don't understand the lyrics he may have decided to sing in Spanish. He jumps from English to Spanish like an accomplished acrobat.

Just as I was about to believe I had a pretty good picture of this man, Peter Hurd, he throws me a curve in the story by saying he was a war correspondent in World War II. This tale would make a very long story itself. I think that its significance lies in the person who lived it. His comment about his reporting of the war goes something like this: "The other day I found some of the articles I wrote during World War II and in reading them I found them to be not unlike a bad dream. I was also disturbed by the similarity of the post-World War II condition with the present-day condition."

I asked him if he had ever regretted leaving West Point about this time. "No, but I have applied for an active commission in the reserves." When? "Recently."

So this was a professional artist I had been talking to. A far cry from the stereotyped artist of the movies and the novel. I had been talking to a man who loves the plains; loves them enough to preserve life on them in paintings; enough to compromise himself in war to keep the land that he paints free from ravaging; loves his neighbor, and is loved in return.

Musical Programs Sent On Request

A series of five musical programs entitled "Sing Your America" has been prepared at Texas Tech for use by community groups in 23 West Texas cities.

Professor Raymond Elliot, popular Tech lecturer and an authority on folk songs, is coordinator for this experimental series which will be part of the West Texas Regional Continuing Education program. Dr. Everett Gillis, a specialist on Southwestern literature and folklore, has prepared a text and tape script.

"There is a great need for an understanding of what made this country and what it now stands for," according to Professor Elliott. "No better picture of the life and ideals of a nation may be found than in the folk songs of a people."

He added that the purpose of the project was to revive the rich heritage of songs Americans have lived by.

Five Units Of Song

The program, financed by the Fund for Adult Education, consists of five units of songs reflecting different eras of American history. They include: "Old Heritage in a New Country," "Songs of the New Country," "Conquering the Continent," "The Many Americas" and "Lanes to the World."

Written commentaries have been prepared by Dr. Gillis giving the historical background for each unit. Tapes of the programs are being produced for groups wishing to have the series broadcast by their local radio stations.

Available To Groups

The musical series is available to any community group in the following towns: Amarillo, Anson, Big Spring, Borger, Brownfield, Canyon, Floydada, Hale Center, Hereford, Kermit, Lamesa, Levelland, Littlefield, Lubbock, Midland, Odessa, O'Donnel, Pampa, Panhandle, Plainview, Tahoka and Tulia.

Groups may obtain the music series by writing to Dr. Per G. Stensland, head, Adult Education Program, Texas Technological College.

Tech Chimes Ringing Again

The bells will really ring when you return to Tech this year for Homecoming. Westminster Chimes, which have been installed in the West Tower of the Administration Building, ring out the hour and the half-hour all through the day on the Tech campus.

The chimes were purchased at a cost of over nine hundred dollars as a combined gift from the 1954 senior class, the 1941 summer school senior class, and the Alpha Phi Omega, men's service organization. The chime clock consists mostly of new parts; however, some parts of a set given by the class of '41 were repaired and used.

The musically tuned bells can be heard over most of West Lubbock, and were at first a hindrance to teachers and students in the Ad Building when they were set to play every 15 minutes. Now they ring only every 30 minutes and the campus has become accustomed to them.

The donations from each of the contributing groups were as follows: senior class of '54—$554.92; senior class, summer school, '41—$333.11; and Alpha Phi Omega—$148.25, proceeds from last year's "Ugly Man Contest." The remainder of the fund money will be given to the Student Union.

Teaching Fellows Open To Grads

The availability of Danforth graduate fellowships to encourage college seniors and recent graduates preparing for a career in college teaching was announced today by Dr. G. E. Giesecke, Texas Tech vice president.

Dr. Giesecke said that Texas Tech would nominate two or three students for the fellowships which are sponsored by the Danforth Foundation of St. Louis, Missouri.

The grants pay a maximum of $1800 for single students and $2400 for married students.

All applicants must be planning to begin their first year of graduate study next fall, Dr. Giesecke said. Other qualifications include: outstanding academic ability, personality congenial to

New Psychology Teacher At Tech

Dr. Kenneth McCutchan, an assistant professor of psychology at the Woman's College of the University of North Carolina since 1951, has joined the faculty of Texas Tech.

Dr. McCutchan will assist Dr. Sylvan J. Kaplan, Tech psychology department head, in conducting research on the effect of radiation on the human mind. Funds for this research were provided recently by the U.S. Institute of Neurological Diseases and Blindness. The Institute grant, the largest single grant for an on-campus study yet received by Texas Tech, will total approximately $45,000 during a three year period.

The new psychology staff member, a native of Texas, is a graduate of Marshall High School and of the College of Marshall. He received his doctorate degree from the University of Texas.

From 1937 until 1941, Dr. McCutchan was acting head of the department of psychology at the College of Marshall. Following that, he served five years as a member of the psychology teaching staff at the University of Texas. He has also taught at the Universities of Florida and Oklahoma.

Dr. McCutchan, who has had numerous articles published in the psychological journals, is a member of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, the Texas Academy of Science, and Sigma Xi.

the classroom, and integrity and character, including faith and commitment within the Christian tradition.

A Danforth Fellow is allowed to carry another scholarship appointment concurrently, but without stipend until the other relationship is completed.

Applicants are welcome from all fields of specialization to be found in the undergraduate college.

Full details can be obtained from Dr. Giesecke on the Tech campus.

CHAPTER CHATTER....

● Arlington

Tech Exes were planning an organizational meeting and dinner in Arlington the latter part of October. John J. Haynes was chairman of the committee. Sixty were invited to attend and bring their wives and husbands and other Tech Exes. They hope to establish an active chapter in Arlington for former Techsians.

In the letter of invitation they gave three reasons for starting the chapter:

1. It will give us a chance to get together two or three times a year and 'talk Tech.' You might re-live old experiences with a former classmate or learn of a Tech of another era from an Ex you'll meet for the first time.

2. It will serve as a public relations organization between Tech and Arlington. Exes banded together can better present the policies and aims of Texas Tech to interested persons in Arlington.

3. It ought to be fun."

This seems to reflect the purpose of most Tech Ex-Student chapters.

● San Antonio

The San Antonio Chapter planned a "Listening Party" at the O. T. Lodals for October. This active group chartered a bus to the Tech-A&M football game in College Station for Tech's first game of the '54 season.

All Tech Exes who are new in San Antonio are requested to contact Mrs. A. L. Roberts, 739 Summer Drive, of that city so that they may be added to their mailing list.

● Heart of Texas

This new chapter was organized in August during a meeting held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Turknett, Tech grads living in Stephenville.

The twenty members and associate members attending were from Eastland, Stephenville, Dublin, and Paluxy. The group elected officers, viewed the Gator Bowl film, and feasted on watermelon.

Jack Arthur of Stephenville was elected president. Other officers named were Mac Brandon of Stephenville, vice president; Mrs. Dorothy (John L.) Moore of Dublin, secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. Mary Etta (Kenneth) Hammit of Stephenville, reporter. The executive committee includes Arthur Bell of Granbury, Mrs. Jessie Gaye (Dick) Harbin of Dublin, and Ray Turknett.

● Houston

About 70 Ex-Techsians of the Gulf Coast area attended a dinner at Felix's Mexican Restaurant in September. Following the dinner, the Houston chapter made final plans for a special train which would take them to the Tech-Texas A&M game at College Station.

● Dallas

The Dallas Chapter party at the home of John Chatfield included swimming, a picnic supper, and a pep rally for the Tech-A&M game at College Station. The Dallas group purchased a block of tickets for the game. About 25 Exes attended the party.

● Grayson County (Sherman)

Former students of Texas Tech recently organized a Grayson County chapter of the Tech Ex-Students Association. L. J. (Bob) Baillo was elected president of the group.

Other officers named in the meeting at Baillo's home in Sherman were Arol Rogers, vice president; Mrs. E. F. George, secretary-treasurer; and L. G. Collingsworth, reporter, all of Sherman.

Directors are Tom Haggard and Luther Loveless of Sherman and H. C. LeMaster of Collinsville.

Sports Round Up

by Bill Holmes

Texas Tech's Red Raiders completed their first six games above the .500 mark with three wins, two losses, and a tie.

Louisiana State, in the schedule's fourth game, spoiled the Raiders' hopes for an undefeated season, Smarting under four close losses to Texas, Kentucky, Alabama, and Georgia Tech—the Tigers exploded to a 20-13 victory at Baton Rouge and, to show the win was no fluke, beat Florida 7-0 the following week.

As in all their games this season Tech fought back after trailing. In fact, it was 0-13 before the Raiders tied up the game. A roughing-the-kicker penalty set the stage for the Tigers' game-winning drive.

Minus their "Mr. Everything," Rick Spinks, the Raiders just didn't have the needed punch to beat College of the Pacific, whose Tigers took a coveted Homecoming win, 20-7, in Tech's fifth game. Spinks, who was leading the Raiders in scoring, extra point kicking, and punting—besides doing the kicking-off—, ruptured a blood vessel in his leg in the Texas Western game, aggravated it early in the LSU contest, and missed the COP contest entirely.

Tech managed to tie up the COP game at 7-7, but a fumble of the second half kickoff and the sensational running of halfback Ernie Lindo led to the Raiders' downfall.

Tech opened its season in College Station with Texas A&M. After spotting the Aggies an early field goal, the Raiders tallied two touchdowns per quarter following the opening period and ground out a 41-9 triumph.

West Texas State opened Tech's home schedule and jumped into a 7-6 lead. That margin existed 30 seconds, thanks to Lonnie (Lone Ranger) Graham's 22-yard kickoff return and 66-yard gallop on the next play. Final score was 33-7, Tech.

Oklahoma A&M, then favored for the Missouri Valley Conference crown, came close to getting complete revenge for last year's loss. When the final gun sounded the Cowboys were lining up for a field goal try to break a 13-13 deadlock. Tech trailed twice, 6-0, and 13-7, making its second touchdown in the game's closing minutes.

One of Tech's all-time offensive shows was unfurled in the Texas Western game. Tech came back from a 7-0 deficit and a 14-14 deadlock to triumph 55-28. Tech's 600 yards of total offense has been equalled only twice throughout the entire nation this season, by Army.

Through six games Texas Tech's rushing was fifth nationally (291 yards per game), total offense 11th (359.2 per game), and pass defense ninth (48.8 a game). Tech individual departmental leaders: rushing—Ronnie Herr, 325 yards; total offense—Herr, 325; passing—Jerry Johnson, 9 completions of 27 for 174 yards; punting—Spinks, 37 - yard average; point - after-touchdown—Spinks, 10 of 11; pass receiving—Jay Fikes, four.

Tech Band Using Griderama Now

By HUBERT WADDILL

Toreador Staff Writer

Up in a small, dark room on the second floor of Tech's Music Building is a box of screws on a table. Near the screws is an odd-looking rectangular drawing of angles and straight lines.

Such trappings would seem more at home in an architecture class than in musical surroundings. For who would know that this strange assortment is a plotting board behind a revolutionary conception of band formations on the sports field.

"Griderama" is here, and Tech has it. We've seen panorama and cinemascope on the movie screen. Now, at half-time on the football gridiron, we may see griderama.

The term is tagged to perspective formations of letters shaped by band members. For each maneuver, screws, representing band members, are placed on the drawing. The drawing shows the field as seen from the stands. The letters are placed in true proportion. A graph is then plotted and transferred to a drawing of the gridiron with perpendicular lines. The band practices their formations from this.

Tech is probably the second college in the nation to attempt the complicated show. Ohio State has used it for two years.

The idea, based on the principle of cinemascope, originated a few years back with a high school in New York state. Tech picked it up this year, using the maneuvers in every game.

Radio Station In Grand Operating Condition

Clive Lankford Furthers Progress Of KTTC By Building Transmitter

By JAN WEBSTER

Toreador Staff Writer

Most of us don't have money to save and couldn't save it if we did. But one Tech senior saved the college about $375 this fall and put KTTC in operating condition.

A real spirit of cooperation was the largest factor in the building of the new transmitter. Clive Lankford, technician for the electrical engineering department and senior EE student, used old parts and his spare time to design and construct a new transmitter for KTTC.

"They really needed something better than they had," was the best explanation Lankford could give. The pleasant, soft-spoken man, just beginning to gray at the temples built the transmitter for about $75. Cost of a transmitter on the commercial market would be from $400 to $500.

Transmitters aren't the only phase of electrical engineering familiar to Lankford. A Navy veteran of World War II, he spent three years as an instructor in radar at Ward Island, Texas. Design and construction of remote-controlled aircraft equipment was his job in an experimental squadron in Maine. Radio-radar control was in its early stages, Lankford explained.

"A mother ship carried a small TV set showing the instruments of three to seven remote-controlled planes in the squadron," he said. "Of course, TV was just a baby then."

Lankford is a full-time technician for the EE department, and father of two boys, Clive III, 5, and John, 11. Also, he takes engineering courses on the side. He hopes to graduate in 1956 and stay on at Tech as an instructor.

Four Freshmen Girls Are Twirling Majorettes for Texas Tech Band

After a seventeen year lapse the Texas Tech Band once again has majorettes. The four freshmen girls were chosen by Band Director D. O. Wiley as a tentative addition to the black and scarlet marching band.

The twirlers are Cindy Birtciel, home economics major from Abilene; Sandy Casstevens, pre-med major from Brownfield; Arleen Durkee, education major from Abilene, and Audie Head, business major from Snyder. Each of the quartet has had three or four years' experience as a high school majorette, and Audie and Arleen have taught twirling in summer band schools.

They made their first appearance with the band at the Tech-Texas Western game in Lubbock, Oct. 9. The majorettes' costumes, provided by the band, were designed by the girls. The short white satin uniforms are trimmed in white fur and feature a red double T on the front of the blouse. Their white boots are also trimmed in white fur.

Texas Tech's new band majorettes see to it that Drum Major Jerry Cunningham's hat is set just so before they begin halftime ceremonies at the football games.

Dr. McKay Publishes Sixth Book

A new book on Texas politics by Historian Seth Sheppard McKay of Texas Tech is now being placed in bookstores throughout the state.

Dr. McKay's latest work, published by the Naylor Co., of San Antonio, is entitled, "Texas and the Fair Deal, 1945-52." It is his sixth book on Texas politics.

One reviewer of Dr. McKay's new history observed:

"The book . . . is destined to rank with the nation's best political histories—a precedent set by each of Dr. McKay's previous works."

Dr. McKay examines in documented detail the presidential campaign of 1952, concluding that it was the most remarkable in the state's political history.

Dr. McKay's highly-readable study of the "fair deal" years as they affected Texas, brings yesterday's headlines back into sharp focus. He traces the turbulent gubernatorial and Congressional campaigns of that period and the issues and personalities that were lavishly treated in news and editorial columns.

Dr. McKay took his bachelor's and master's degree from the University of Texas and his doctorate from the University of Pennsylvania. He is listed in "Who's Who in America."

No Dorms On Campus

The opening of Cheri Casa, privately owned dormitory for boys, was classed as the "most surpassing social event of the year." The building, located at 2406 Main St. near the campus, is still used as an apartment house. The opening celebration included a costume dance, a formal dinner at 12 midnight, a program of entertainment, and more dancing until sunrise. The calendar in the annual listed it as follows:

Nov. 26—Cheri Casa opens with big dance reception.

Nov. 27—Cheri Casa Boys start pawning furniture to pay for dance.

Nov. 30 — Treasurer of Cheri Casa Club reports only $200 more owed; but that all things pawnable are gone."

Such must have been "the good old days" at Texas Tech.
