CONFEDERATE HOME.

REPORT OF BOARD OF MANAGERS.

Austin, Texas, December 1, 1896.

To His Excellency, Charles A. Culberson, Governor of Texas.

SIR: I have the honor to herewith transmit to you the annual report of the Superintendent of the Confederate Home to the Board of Managers of that institution, which report the board has adopted as its report to your Excellency, with the request that the same be printed.

Thanking you for the many courtesies extended the management, I am, very respectfully,

HENRY E. SHELLEY,
President Board of Managers Texas Confederate Home.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT.

Confederate Home, Austin, Texas, December 1, 1896.

Gen. Henry E. Shelley, President Board of Managers, Confederate Home.

Sir: In accordance with the law, I herewith submit to you my second annual report of the Confederate Home, embracing transactions from December 1, 1895, to December 1, 1896.

Since our last report, December 1, 1895, there have been admitted to the Home 50 men, and during the same time 25 have died; 16 have been honorably discharged, and of these 4 have been readmitted; 1 deserter; 6 on furlough; and there are now 175 inmates.

Owing to the increasing age and decreasing ability to earn a support, added to the stringency of the times, it has been deemed safe to calculate on a certain population in this institution of 250 for 1897 and 300 or more for the year following, in case accommodations can be provided, and the estimates filed with the Comptroller for the cost of necessary improvements and maintenance are based on these numbers.

I would respectfully call attention to the fact that a number of inmates have lost their minds at various times while in this institution, and we are constantly receiving applications from epileptics and ex-lunatics. It seems absolutely necessary that some settlement of this question should be made. Either special provision for insane persons should be made here, or some definite arrangement whereby they may be transferred to some of the several State asylums, built and sustained for the treatment of insanity.

We have about 65 stoves in the quarters, which are dangerous and expensive, as well as a source of constant solicitude to all concerned. There are four occupants to a room, and they seldom agree as to the proper temperature of the room; some want the stove red-hot, while others prefer less extravagant fires. There is little doubt either on the score of safety and economy or general satisfaction that a change to steam-heating would be greatly beneficial to the institution. The laundry building might well be used for the location of a steam heating plant, and the same engine and boiler could be utilized for heating the quarters and all laundry work; besides, by this arrangement, a reduction of the general expense and greater comfort throughout the quarters would be assured.

An addition to the general dining-room will be a necessity. The present dining-room and kitchen are situated in connection and in the basement of the administration building. The heat and smoke common to both rise and pass throughout the building, carrying often very disagreeable odors, and in summer rendering it practically unfit for occupancy. It is suggested that the portion now used as kitchen be included in or added to the present dining-room, and a separate building, in some measure disconnected, be erected for a kitchen.

The hospital is about one hundred yards from the kitchen, and the food has to be carried that distance to the sick. There is an average of forty persons all the time in the hospital. Caring for this number of persons at that distance, in all kinds of weather, must of necessity be attended with much inconvenience, and possibly at times with unavoidable delays and neglect. Hence it is suggested that a kitchen should be in close connection with the hospital building, where meals suitable for the sick, at all hours of the day or night, might be prepared as emergency or need would require, and where the crippled veterans, unable to walk to the general dining-room, might be also served. A kitchen and dining-room and nurses' room would relieve to just this extent the present overcrowded general dining-room, and vacate the present quarters of the nurses to the occupancy of inmates.

The enclosure around the grounds is stone and a combination of boards and wire, but is in such bad condition as to insure the constant aggression of hogs and dogs. Clothing and other articles from the yards, and vegetables from the garden, are being stolen all the time. It is suggested that a six to ten barbed wire fence be put entirely around the premises. The rock in the old fence can be used for other purposes. The construction of four new cottages will be required as soon as they can be built. The estimates already filed, if granted, will provide four cottages, sixteen rooms in the aggregate, and accommodate 64 additional men at four to the room.

Since the last appropriation, the following are some of the improvements made, viz: The substitution of brick flues for stove pipes in every room in the quarters; replacing the oil lamps with electric lights, of which there are now running throughout the Home between 90 and 100 lights. Having no fire protection, and the city declining to make us pipe connection for water, we have put in 1230 feet of 6-inch pipe and three fire hydrants, and over 1000 feet of 2-inch pipe, with sufficient $\frac{1}{2}$ -inch pipe to connect with all the buildings and irrigate the gardens. More than a mile of sewer pipe has been laid, connecting the Home with the City Sewer Company's mains. This work, done under the direction of your honorable board, was an absolute necessity, as no connection could be made with the river above the city, and our cess-pools had become useless. We feel that the health of the Home, so threatened by the lack of sanitary improvements, is now assured. The chief feature, however, of all late improvements is the hospital. This building is modern in every feature, and has been furnished throughout with entirely new furniture, beds, bed clothing, mattresses, chairs, stationary wardrobes, baths of hot and cold water, in fact with every convenience for the afflicted. Besides this, concentration of the sick, results in better care of the helpless at less expense, as well as greatly enlarging the capacity of the Home.

It is suggested that, if practicable, future appropriations for the benefit of the Home should be so made as to be used at any time when needed, at the discretion of the Board of Managers.

Permit me in conclusion to thank each and every member of the Board of Managers for courtesies and co-operation at all times. I also desire to thank our competent surgeon, Dr. I. J. Jones, for his efficiency in the discharge of his duties, and our worthy quartermaster, Mr. J. H. Shackelford, for invaluable assistance rendered me.

Yours most respectfully,

WM. P. HARDEMAN, Superintendent.

REPORT OF SURGEON.

Austin, Texas, December 1, 1896.

Maj. Henry E. Shelley, President Board of Managers, Confederate Home.

Sir: I herewith transmit my report for the year ending December 31st. A summary of the operations of the hospital shows the following:

In hospital, December 1, 1896	33
Admitted during year	50
Discharged during year	20
Died in hospital	22
Died in quarters	2
Died on furlough	1
Remaining in hospital	41
Average number in hospital	38
Total treated in hospital	83
Total number of prescriptions filled and recorded	3827

Expenditures as follows:

Drugs and medicines	$798 10
Artificial foods	60 40
Whisky	169 62
Instruments and surgical supplies	71 90
Total	$1,100 02
Of which there remains in stock	394 40
Making net expenditures	$705 62

I am gratified to be able to state that only one death has been caused by an acute disease; and no sickness has been traceable to any preventable cause. With our salubrious location and excellent sanitation, the longest possible lease of life is guaranteed to our old veterans.

It will be seen that the average number of prescriptions recorded daily is more than ten, and there is a large number of a trifling nature that are not recorded. This work, together with the care and time required in giving necessary medical attention to, and supervising the nursing of, about forty patients in the hospital, and several visits daily to those sick in the quarters, occupies the surgeon several hours daily, and the exigencies that arise require his attention almost every hour in the day. I would, therefore, respectfully suggest, in view of the fact that a further increase of the population of the Home is contemplated, that the salary now paid the surgeon is entirely inadequate to secure faithful and skillful service. I have at all times been assisted in the discharge of my duties by the judicious and able co-operation of our worthy Superintendent, Gen. Hardeman, and Quartermaster Shackelford.

I desire to sincerely thank each and every member of your worthy body for uniform confidence and courtesy.

Very respectfully,

I. J. JONES, Surgeon.
