An awful lot of Offills, Offields, and Orfields

Entries: 2382 Updated: 2010-02-26 23:13:03 UTC (Fri) Contact: kennett kaoffill@att.net

Any corrections or additions appreciated, especially on those with astericks following the first name, meaning there are doubts about who the parents were, the more astericks, the more doubt. Those that are my ancestors, those fully capitalized, have been more thoroughly researched. Much help in assembling this date was given to me by Thomas Offill, who has corresponded with many Offills in the last 40 years. Little or no proof has been found for the relationships between the various Offills in the 1700s

CONFEDERATE KENTUCKY TROOPS

6th Regiment, Kentucky Mounted Infantry

6th Infantry Regiment was organized at Cave City, Kentucky, in November, 1861, and included in Cofer's 1st Kentucky Infantry Battalion. Its members were raised in the counties of Nelson, Spencer, Hardin, Franklin, Barren, Green, Allen, Anderson, Bullitt, and Simpson. It became part of the Orphan Brigade or Louisville Legion. This regiment lost 108 killed and wounded at Shiloh, sustained 18 casualties at Baton Rouge, then was active at Vicksburg. During the war it was assigned to General Hanson's, Helm's, and J.H. Lewis' Brigade. It fought with distinction at Murfreesboro and Chickamauga, then saw action in the Atlanta Campaign. In the fall of 1864 the unit was mounted, and aided in the defense of Savannah and the campaign of the Carolinas. It lost seventeen percent of the 269 engaged at Murfreesboro and 220 saw action at Chickamauga. The unit totalled 263 men and 221 arms in December, 1863. The 6th surrendered with the Army of Tennessee on April 26, 1865. The field officers were Colonels Martin H. Cofer and Joseph H. Lewis, Lieutenant Colonel William L. Clarke, and Majors Thomas H. Hays and George W. Maxson.

Civil War Burials in Fairview Cemetery, Pampa, Texas

I. Introduction, by John A. Mead, Lovett Library, Pampa.

Information on the Civil War burials in Fairview Cemetery was obtained by two people. Most of the work was done by Mrs. Sandra Barnes of Amarillo, Texas, who was interested in the burials of former Confederate soldiers. John A. Mead of Lovett Library in Pampa added a few men who served on the Union side.

Research on each person in this notebook involved research on <ancestry.com>, the LDS website <familyhistory.com>, and other websites. Key sources of information were Civil War databases on <ancestry.com> and several other websites; and public family trees on <ancestry.com> and also on <rootsweb.com>. The Ancestry website also had data from the 1890 U. S. veterans' schedules for Union veterans (and in some places for Confederate veterans as well); and from the 1910 U. S. census, which asked whether a person had served in the Union or the Confederate army or navy.

For each person in this notebook there is general information from family trees, where such exist; census returns, particularly those during the Civil War Years; and, if these could be found, death certificates for each person. Also included is information on the Civil War service of the individual, including information on the unit in which the person served, if this could be determined.

In the majority of these cases I am relatively certain of both the Civil War Service and of the unit in which the individual served. In the case of persons number 13 and 15 I am certain that they did serve, but I am not certain of the unit in which they served. In the case of number 9, Henry Ledrick, the family tree written by a descendant says that he saw service, and I include this person for that reason. I am not entirely certain of her evidence, however.

I make no claims that these 15 men are the only Civil War veterans who served and are buried in Fairview. There may well be others that we missed.

I. Introduction, by John A. Mead, Lovett Library, Pampa.

Information on the Civil War burials in Fairview Cemetery was obtained by two people. Most of the work was done by Mrs. Sandra Barnes of Amarillo, Texas, who was interested in the burials of former Confederate soldiers. John A. Mead of Lovett Library in Pampa added a few men who served on the Union side.

Research on each person in this notebook involved research on <ancestry.com>, the LDS website <familyhistory.com>, and other websites. Key sources of information were Civil War databases on <ancestry.com> and several other websites; and public family trees on <ancestry.com> and also on <rootsweb.com>. The Ancestry website also had data from the 1890 U. S. veterans' schedules for Union veterans (and in some places for Confederate veterans as well); and from the 1910 U. S. census, which asked whether a person had served in the Union or the Confederate army or navy.

For each person in this notebook there is general information from family trees, where such exist; census returns, particularly those during the Civil War Years; and, if these could be found, death certificates for each person. Also included is information on the Civil War service of the individual, including information on the unit in which the person served, if this could be determined.

In the majority of these cases I am relatively certain of both the Civil War Service and of the unit in which the individual served. In the case of persons number 13 and 15 I am certain that they did serve, but I am not certain of the unit in which they served. In the case of number 9, Henry Ledrick, the family tree written by a descendant says that he saw service, and I include this person for that reason. I am not entirely certain of her evidence, however.

I make no claims that these 15 men are the only Civil War veterans who served and are buried in Fairview. There may well be others that we missed.
