

White Plains June 20th 1842.

Dear Margaret

Well Margaret I thought I would see which could stand at the greatest length of time without wristing and I have come to the final conclusion that I shall have to give in to you but it was not for the want of a will on my part but more for the want of time and I think you will credit any story when I tell you that I have not done as much sewing in three weeks as any smart person would do in a half day Margaret having ~~little~~ brothers as ~~as~~ what it is ~~crooked~~ up to be Polly Ann has gone home she and her father started last Monday and we gave a dinner party in honour of their departure and I had to preside at the table and over culinary departments which was something new to me, however I had a good cook and yet along very well it affected Polly Ann very much to bid us good bye as it did all the rest of us, I learned from Miss Katherine Dick yesterday afternoon that you was very angry with me for not coming to see you again before I returned from the city it was my sincere wish to do so but was deprived of that pleasure by the rainy weather and I intended to have called on you the morning that I returned home but for that you must blame Isabel Dick as she insisted on my going to her Father's store with and then she kept me so long that it was too late for me to call. I understand that Mrs. Preedy has been to see you and you gave him a magnified description of my abrupt departure, and advised that I have heard it from almost every one in the Plains. I have been asked several times how I came to give such a gross offence to you and I was perfectly astonished to hear it but however it is as it is and I cannot help it we heard you intended making your visit at Isabell Dicks this summer Eliza think you appreciate Isabells short visits more than you do her long ones she says you must follow the dictates of your own conscience of that ~~will~~ out condemn you, I cannot think you have any reason to be angry with me if you can make your visit to Isabells this summer after her staying in the city five or six weeks last winter and only staying three or four days with you, I do not wish to cover or attenuate my own guilt because I know I plead guiltily only that you have had the visit returned you made here last summer and are now in debt. Well I think we have quarreled long enough I will now give you an account of what is going on in the country nothing appears to be the prevailing fashion as it has rained every day this week without exception this morning it was nearly clear and I went to church and heard Mr. Harris preach a very good sermon we had very few in the church Mr. Harris has resigned his place and singing in favour of Mr. Moody our assistant clergymen we have confirmations and ordinations in our church about the middle of Augst Mr. Moody is to be ordained, I think we shall have a very full church and I hope you may opportunity or want in it of your concerned to come and see me perhaps you are Isabell, I expect to go to Ryer the last of this week to make visit I shall stay about a week and then I shall be ready to receive you I expect Isabell and David Dark to take tea with me after the afternoon services, the little boy was two weeks old last Friday Mother was down stairs to day for the first time and at a great stand what to name the baby to please you we will name it Rior I think it will come so natural for you to call him, my respects to Mrs. H. Ten Eyck and tell her that I shall give myself the pleasure of calling on her when I make one of my transient visits to the city you must answer this note and give me an account of the wedding any love to Eliza and do not forget to reserve a share for yourself.

And believe me to be ever ever your friend Sarah B. Horton
