AND there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night.

And, lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them: and they were sore afraid.

And the angel said unto them, Fear not: for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people.

For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord.

And this shall be a sign unto you; Ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger.

And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying,

Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men.

Youth weaves on looms of fancy, blissful dreams
Age visions joys of which fond memory dreams.
Whose hair is grey - whose fading years are few
I dedicate with love these lines to you.

How are you these days?
Still in the best of health
and spirits I trust.

I would have dropped you
a line sooner but I misplaced your address. I'll write you a letter as soon as
I reach a more permanent base.

THIS SIDE IS FOR THE ADDRESS

THINGS OLD

I like things old; - things that grow dear,
Like mother's songs of yester-year;
Like that the shepherds heard, which rang,
When Angels touched their harps and sang.
Songs of the heart have charms untold,
That only strengthen when they're old.

I like old books in which abound
The wisdom, wit, and logic sound
Of master minds of every clime,
Whose volumes grace the walls of time.
And blest are they who proudly hold
Their torches lit from classics old.

I like old homes, enriched by years
Of love within, and joys and tears;
Old love-nests, though the young have flown
And left two feeble mates alone,
Who sit and dream, while visions bold,
Bring back romances, sweet and old.

I like old love; the new must wait
The rugged test of Time and Fate,
For love, the greatest thing I know,
If true, will live through weal and woe.
Better is wine with age, we're told,
And better is love when love is old.

I like old sorrows; those that cling
Like vines around some precious thing -
A vacant chair - the little shoes
Of one the heart can never lose.
Time garners love within its fold,
To sweeten sorrows when they're old.

I like old friends; - I like the new,
But more the friends long tried and true.
And though perchance they're bent with care,
I love them and their silvery hair.
Time paints the autumn leaves with gold
And tints with love, a friendship old.

I like old foes; - they played their part
In melo-dramas of my heart,
Yet brought me gain through bitter loss
When love in triumph bore my cross
And shaped in its celestial mould
A crown I won from conquests old.

I like old memories, fond and sweet,
And should I walk the golden street
When I have slept my final sleep,
One thing, if only one, I'd keep
And take with me when lips are cold -
My memories dear; - I like things old.

Went out to see the big
Volcano last night.
Very rough trip. 40 mi
by car and 5 mi by pack mule. But was well worth it. The big crater was really

pouring out the flames
of fire. The whole mt. 400-N-LEA looked like it was on fire. The Indian town ROSWELL-N-Mas well as the people and customs are very U-S-A interesting. Love to all.
Back to Guadalupe tomorrow.
Then to Manzanillo. S.O.
