

Winter.

In Winter the snow is on the ground and the flowers and leaves are all dead. This season is liked very much by all boys as they can slide down hills upon their sleds, and skate on the river. Some boys go out in the cold to get tough, so that they can bear almost anything. Boys often wish winter would come much sooner than it does, and they get impatient at the delay, but it is very good that it does not come too quick, as they could not get any nuts or apples, which they like so much.

Edfred Tweed.

Hamden, Oct. 4, 1856.

