

Miss Nannie Jennings
Waleshoe
Texas

WEST TEXAS SANITARIUM
AND TRAINING SCHOOL FOR NURSES

LUBBOCK, TEXAS Aug 13 - 1918.

My Darling Sweetheart:-

We reached your good home at 4³⁰. We had some little trouble getting up the sand hill but otherwise had a splendid trip. Tee Sunday he is an expert on "hose fitting". I wired my sister in the office from Sudan so they would know we were alright and when we reached your home I was met with the request to get to the office as quickly as possible and was also told that phone 515 had been called a great many times asking for me and when I got to the office I was met with word to hurry up stairs and see one of my patients who had tried to die during the night and was also told of another patient that came in Sunday night in practically a dying condition and was told how badly I was needed, that all the nurses and Dr. Wagner, Ralph Hall had been up all night etc. Mrs. Karbach said that if any one would hold me she would whip me and "you positively cannot go again next Sunday." No one teased me at all, all were so impressed with the seriousness of the preceding night that they had no time for jest. Both patients are still alive and will probably recover but the night will long be remembered at this sanitarium.

I did not get home till about nine o'clock and Robert met me on the porch and said "Papa you cannot go way any more, you stay too long." Mrs. Ehall told me yesterday that 400 people rang the phone for me Sunday but that was all she said.

I went to the post office this afternoon and met Judge Moore (the County judge) and he pulled me to one side and said, "when is the big wedding coming off" I played innocent & told him I had not heard of it and asked him "to whom" and he said he had heard it was to be one of two parties, he did not ~~not~~ know which and he said "I have heard it is either Mrs. Robinson or Miss Jennings." I laughed at him and told him not to believe all he heard.

Our friend "227" called me to day and said she thought she had some other trouble and wanted me to come see her and I spent about an hour in her company to day.

