Dear Sarah,

Here is your long awaited letter.

Love,

Ray

P.S: Dear Everybody else,

How's everything there? From your letter and card, it sounds like everything is going pretty good. I can't wait to see the driveway. I hope Daddy's car is ok and that whatever was wrong with it will not happen again. My car is fine. At least, I think it is, I haven't seen it in a while. I think that I parked it close to the building but I never go out the back so I only see it when I drive.

The weather here has been wild. We have all these storm clouds in the sky most of the day long but they never do anything. I guess sooner or later they will do something. I bought some jogging shoes today. I think that they are pretty good. They feel good anyway.

I got those tests back this week. I got a B- on the history test and a B+ on the psychology test. I think that I got a B- on the religion test too. He hadn't decided what the distribution would be when he gave the tests back. I hope he doesn't go down instead of up. I guess I didn't do too bad since they were my first tests. We had a speech test yesterday. It was pretty hard and very picky. I don't know how I did. We'll just wait and see. We had another paper to write in English. It was supposed to be an informal persuasive so I wrote on why the SUB should remain the SUB. I thought I was very reasonable. I even typed it.

Do we need to make the Southwest reservations or did you already get them? I was going to call but Gordon said to wait until you told us. I haven't asked my history teacher if I can take the final sooner. I have tennis right after that and barely have time to make it there on time.

There's a lot more to say but I don't have much time. See you at the end of the month.

Love,

Ray

Sarah, I'm sorry that I did not write it to you. I will sometime. See you. Keep working those algebra problems. Love you lots, Ray
