camp, into these hills and back here, well he is a counsellor this year and took up up to the inn. Oh, here are some of the counsellors that are up here this year they are Storky Dunkin, Garret Adams; Pillsbury's brother, and a new guy that John brought from Principica and the cook named Huse. Then there's the same old workman and carpenters this year they are Carol, Carl, Coke, Walter and some new ones. We are building 3 new cabins this year and have got two near completion. One is a log cabin and the other a slab. The other is a slab cabin that we started <sup>yesterday</sup> base logs on and so I don't think it will be completed before we leave for the Smokies. Those slab cabins are easier than the log because on the logs you have to carry them in, notch them, fit them and put floors in them. Slab cabins you have to set your base logs and up-rights then your floor deals have to go on the ground then nail the floor and <sup>then</sup> your boxing. I help Carol build ever bits of the nailing so I know. John I do hope you will excuse me for not getting letters to you all sooner but here's what happens. I write the letter, take it to the mess tent and put it in that box, then Storkey picks it up when he goes to get food. (Some times he forgets it and it is the next day going out, and then it stays at Sequoyah a day then it's eventually mailed. (back of first page)

Dear John and (ect.)

I received your letter yesterday while I was working on the cabins. I told John about that camping stuff and he said he would write you. Yesterday 6 of us boys in Tom Jamies group went to Blackberry Grove and spent the night and came back this morning about 10:30 A.M. We had two small roosters that <sup>we</sup> took up alive and Travis had to kill (which was a very messy job). After he killed them I helped him pick them with luke warm water that made up eventually skin them. Do you remember Clayton M. Crakin, the one that drove the camp truck to the snakes, canoe (next page) so you could say it takes two days and 3 at the most to get out of here. Tell Mr.

Hensley I sure hopes he gets well because I think he is a real nice person, and still let's hope and pray he doesn't have what Roland had.
Write me and tell me how the insurance building is coming along, <sup>and</sup> Cobb-Hemphill parking lot and Dunlap's store and parking lot is doing. We had a woodman Rodeo where we had all those events like we had year before last. Travis and I entered the cross-cut saw contest where we got about second at 1 minute 2 seconds and 6 tenths. Tell me on hiking trips am I supposed to take the inner or outer part of my sleeping bag. I suppose supposed to keep my car keys are am I? They are now. I have gobbles at you long enough now I got to write Mary (Miss Puss). Yawl write soon.
Sugar blocks with kisses on them. Love,
Howard (no good) C. Wilkerson
