Dear Gordon,

The time to do a hard thing is as quickly as possible. So if you have not written again to your people, I think as far as I am concerned we had better abandon the plan. It will only be an expense for you and probably further disappointment.

The more I see you the harder I will find it ~~to~~ do the thing I am more strongly convinced each time is the only thing for me to do.

I wish to thank you for a very pleasant week-end. I hope that you made the trip back without unpleasant mishaps. Assure Mrs. Walker for me of my pleasure in having met her and Eula.

Mae
