

I am not feeling physically fit this morning as I might. I suppose I should go to bed. But instead I must go over now and order groceries.

I don't like the sound of the wind today. It is so mournful.

If this picture is not a fair exchange, put it in the waste basket. But don't carry it around with your valuables.

Sincerely yours
Grace

I did enjoy being with you the past week and I hope that you do not regret the trip. I am sorry that do not express my pleasure in a more satisfactory manner.

I had a note from papa this morning. Glen is still there or I believe they were at Home at the time of writing. He was trying to get a job for next year — which means teaching I suppose.

I always find it hard to go back to work after a holiday. We are getting a half holiday tomorrow, so that means I can drive over to Ft Worth at that time.
